

This is an open letter to all local concerned citizens. We realize you have not asked to receive this tract, but we believe it is necessary that you read on and so we invite you to do so.

We are living in a time of change and change can be good. Throughout history, men and women have endeavored to change society for the better. Often times, change has been criticized. When Columbus set sail to discover a new land, he and his supporters were criticized and yet his venture opened up a vast new land. Queen Victoria implemented widespread social changes to benefit the poor, working and middleclass. It was purported that her Christian benevolence would drain the kingdom of revenue. Yet, it was only the banking elite that lost out. With a more financially secure populace, the nation flourished as it never had or never would again under any monarch.

The progressive changes sought out by white men and women have brought advancements in education, science, health care, industry, economics, technology, etc. While all racial groups have contributed to society, and their accomplishments should never be scoffed at, the libraries of the world are filled with page after page listing the advancements made by men and women of white heritage. And notably, these advancements were more times than not made under either direct or indirect Christian influence.

Western Christian civilization has been a stabilizing force in the world. The political ideas and thoughts born out of it have brought freedom and liberty to many. However, the concepts of liberty that it espouses do not make nations great or people great. Rather it is the people out of whom the ideas of liberty flow that have made what we call western Christian civilization. These people are collectively known as the white race. Out of the white race, came the progressive changes that brought liberty and freedom. It only exists in lands that retain white Christian authority. To a lesser degree it has been duplicated in lands of other racial types. But the degree to which liberty and prosperity exists is only in relation to the degree of White Christian influence. Truly, all people are blessed when White Christian men and women retain a great deal of influence

Sadly, however, white men and women and the Christian faith they have historically professed and based their governments and societies upon, have come under attack. This is not only problematic to the white race, but to all people who have benefited from the progressive, insightful, and Christian benevolent ways. When white men and women and their Christian faith are undermined, everyone eventually loses.

This letter isn't about hating anyone. We are proud of the compassionate nature of our white brothers and sisters. Once, while on vacation with my family, I witnessed a terrible sight, yet it is no doubt a familiar sight to many. Late at night in a parking garage, a young black woman sat in a booth to give out our parking garage stub. There she was, surrounded by bars and thick glass. Her life could have been in danger at any time. Perhaps one day her children would get a call saying their mother had been savagely murdered. But she wasn't in danger from me or my family. She wasn't in fear of those with racial pride and racial integrity. She was in danger from people of her own race.

Sometimes Change isn't Good

Something is terribly wrong in the world today. In countless cities across the world people live in fear for their very lives. Across the globe people have been denied their right to self defense. In the U.S., one of the last countries where men and women can protect their family with a gun, this unalienable right is under attack. And many forget that the gun used to be called the "great equalizer." No longer were the elderly or those with a small stature or women, at the mercy of those with greater size or with evil intentions. Something is terribly wrong when a certain group of elitists want to remove a person's best chance at defense. Sometimes well meaning people believe guns cause violence, but they forget that violence stems from an evil heart not from the barrel of a gun.

There are many ideas that are being undermined - ideas that white Christian men and women brought into fruition. The more Christian morals are replaced by "popular" ideas, the more society suffers. But, who is to say what is popular and what is not.

Free trade is often said to be a popular idea. Rep. and Dems. worked for free trade with China! However, I would think it would be safe to say that it isn't a popular idea with the thousands who have lost their jobs due to free trade and outsourcing. Blue collar and white-collar jobs have been either sent to third world nations or their earning power has been greatly reduced. Big corporations are working to bring cheap labor here to our shores.

National sovereignty is a noble and Christian idea, yet it too is being undermined. Why should any independent nation have to take orders from world organizations such as the United Nations or the World Trade Organization? Why should U.S. servicemen have to take orders from anyone other than their own nation. And why should our trade decisions be regulated by other nations?

As international finance further depletes the resources of third world nations, immigration into white countries is reaching epidemic proportions. Many who support immigration reform are called insensitive. One woman who heads up an Arizona organization that wants public aid stopped to illegal immigrants is called racist and mean spirited. Is she? Before starting the reform group she worked for twenty years as a Catholic social services worker helping illegal immigrants with housing, food, and health care. Did she stop caring? No! But she realized by taking the tax dollars of U.S. citizens and giving it to illegal aliens it was regulated theft and didn't help in the long run. The problems must be solved in Mexico or other such nations. And not by giving them American jobs, but by teaching them about free enterprise and educating them in the value of western Christian civilization. The best instruction is to learn by example. Lets take care of America, and when our nation is functioning (next page)
