The 20th plank of The Knights Party platform is that we support the placing of all persons HIV positive into national hospitals. Every day it becomes more clear that the Republican and Democratic parties do not represent White Christian America but cater to left wing special interest groups such as the homosexual community. In their constant bowing and scraping before homosexual activists, the Republican and Democratic parties show their contempt and total disregard to the welfare and safety of White Christian Americans. The descendants of the very people who formed this great nation!

One example of this disregard for our people is the way in which the government is handling the HIV/AIDS crisis. As of 2007, there were 455,636 Americans living with AIDS. In the 34 states that report HIV infections, there were 571,378 Americans living with HIV or AIDS at the end of 2007. More recent figures are not available at the time of this writing, but the fact remains... HIV/AIDS is a danger for all, and shows no signs of abating under current government regulation and hospital care. Dr. Alfred Sommers, a former dean of John Hopkins School of Public Health in Baltimore says that, "Unless something dramatically changes, for the unforeseeable future, AIDS will remain a leading cause of death." UNAIDS estimates that 33.4 million people world wide have AIDS, and many of the infected persons do not know they are carriers. Infection rates have more than tripled in India since 1992, and risen more than tenfold in Thailand since early 1990. In some places in Africa, nine out of ten deaths of those under age 35 are caused by AIDS.

With such a high number of people infected, the logical thinking person would assume that the government would aggressively seek to contain this disease while a cure is being researched. Afraid of offending any particular group of people, the federal government remains indecisive and nothing is done. While there is a massive campaign to make HIV/AIDS look like a heterosexual disease, it still remains largely one which affects only the homosexual, and non-White communities. Unfortunately, there are those who become infected through innocent means such as sloppy medical procedures, or the innocent children who become infected by their mother. The pain that innocent victims endure is intolerable. Only a selfish person with a cold heart and lacking compassion for other human beings would reject aggressive containment of this disease. Sadly, too many people would rather risk the infection and death of another person than take a chance on living longer with government care.

Do you want someone with AIDS virus to be your doctor or dentist? If you are a policeman, firefighter, or paramedic are you not concerned that you may become infected somehow while in the line of duty? Pro-homosexual groups try to deny it, but the risk to the general population is too great. It is uncalled for that even one child die because the federal government refuses to contain this disease.

Because of the innocent and on your behalf, we support the routine testing of all Americans for the AIDS virus, a national registry of all AIDS carriers open for public inspection, and an immediate ban on all peoples entering the United States from third world countries due to the alarmingly high rate of AIDS in those countries. We support the placing of all carriers of the AIDS virus into national hospitals to be cared for while the disease is being researched. In addition to the innocent victims of this disease and the suffering they must endure, AIDS will break the country as more and more people become infected and go without adequate prevention and control methods. Through isolation of AIDS carriers, the spread of AIDS will eventually halt. Only by isolating AIDS carriers will we be able to spare the innocent and the scores of Americans who will be left with the staggering medical bills.

While the United States and most other countries (in fear of radical homosexual groups) use education (not accurate education either!) to fight the AIDS epidemic, one country has a successful AIDS prevention program. Cuba is the only nation that has aggressively fought the AIDS epidemic by using basic elements such as routine testing, contact tracing, partner notification, close medical surveillance and social isolation of all infected individuals. Their success rate is astonishing, and the federal government could learn well from this successful prevention campaign.

Puerto Rico, with one-third the population of Cuba has over 8,000 known cases of AIDS with more than 200 cases in children. In Cuba, with three times the population, there have only been 927 cases as of the end of 1993. During this same time period with 111 deaths and only one child dying because of HIV/AIDS, Cuba has displayed an effective model for controlling the HIV/AIDS epidemic.

The isolation centers in Cuba care for the patients and likewise protect society. These centers stress two main points. (1) Sex with an un-infected and consenting partner is a crime, and that (2) sex with an un-infected and uninformed partner is murder.

Where is the compassion for American citizens? Why does the government not do more to contain the disease? They will not dare risk offending the homosexual community. Why do we not have routine testing for all Americans or a national registry of AIDS carriers? Is it because it might interfere with the private life of a homosexual? It is logical and expedient to separate AIDS carriers from the general population. Unfortunately, the homosexual lobby and special interest groups will scream it is unethical for such unfair treatment. Is it ethical or moral to let the spread of this disease continue infecting innocent people and children? Absolutely not! The homosexual community has no compassion for the safety of society as a whole, and only cares for their perverted desire to continue a so called alternative lifestyle without any inconveniences of morality and compassion.

The solutions to Americas problems are there, but it will take a united effort to realize a rebirth of our nation. Through The Knights Party, men and women everywhere are uniting to make the dream a reality. When you support The Knights Party you can let those that hate your race and Christian faith hear loud and clear that we will never back down until we are victorious.
