The Men Who Destroyed America

The American republic is dead. It has been dying for many years. However the exact date of its death will never be known. The last election held on November 6, 2012 certainly made clear the republic created by our courageous forefathers had ended. I wrote about this in the last issue and I don't want to belabor the point.

Wait a minute!

Yes I do. Because I want you to clearly understand that the beloved republic now lies stone cold dead! And it is never going to rise again.

You have to understand this! It is imperative for you to understand this. Because as long as you are struggling to save this corpse you will never be able to turn around and see the reincarnation of our national spirit which is even now being born in the heartland of this North American continent.

This republic did not die of old age! It did not die because of laziness! It did not die from over spending! It did not die from high taxes! And it did not die from out of control entitlements! All these things were certainly contributing factors. But they are not the cause.

America died from anaemia. Anemia is from the Ancient Greek word ἀναμία and literally means: the lack of blood

Of course there really wasn't a blood drain but a nonwhite blood flood. And as this nonwhite blood poured into our republic's vascular system it became increasingly deluded and was unable to produce enough white blood cells to fight back against the disease which was rotting out the soul of America.

The death of this republic was brought about by the action of four men. These men are Philip Hart, Emmanuel Celler, Edward (Ted) Kennedy and President Lyndon Baines Johnson. More than any other, the death of America can be directly traced to the doorstep of these four. Philip Hart was a Michigan U.S. Senator from 1959 until his death in 1976.

Why did it take so long?

Liberals anointed Hart with the title "Conscience of the Senate."

Pleeease!

Another member of the gang which killed the republic was Emanuel Celler. Celler was U.S. Representative from New York and was in office for 50 years from March 1923 to January 1973.

The third miscreant instrumental in the Republic's fatality was Ted Kennedy, hailed by the liberal media as the "Lion of the Senate." He was a Massachusetts Senator from 1962 until 2009.

The fourth man in the evil deed was President Lyndon Johnson who got his start in politics in 1937 by successfully getting more dead people to vote for him than for his opponents.

So here is this roster of treason.

The Conscience of the Senate - Philip Hart

The Lion of the Senate - Ted Kennedy

The Towel Boy of the House - Emanuel Celler, and the guy who resurrected voters from the grave - Lyndon Baines Johnson.

These four men, more than any other, are responsible for taking our beloved Republic to the bone yard.

Benedict Arnold - already dead - couldn't participate!

It was Philip Hart and Emanuel Celler who created the Hart-Celler Act and it was Kennedy who drove it through the senate for passage.

The Hart-Celler Act was officially known as the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965. This new immigration law was passed on September 22, 1965 and twelve days later on October 3, 1965, Lyndon (I see dead men voting) Johnson signed it into law with a special gathering at the base of the Statue of Liberty.

The vast majority of Americans were opposed to the changing of our immigration laws which had as its core a national origins policy which meant the percentage of immigrants from other countries had to be equal to the percentage already here. This was done to insure the ethnic makeup of the country would not change. For example 92% of our citizenship were from nations that were white. The immigration policy that had been in effect insured that this balance would remain. But the new law removed those provisions and though there was a lot of goobally-goop in the new law it essentially created a massive pity-party allowing immigration for anyone who boo-hoed the most.

Today, the top five countries providing us our new immigrants are Mexico, China, Philippines, India, and Vietnam.

But in 1965 the politicians and the news media were making fun of people who were opposing the new immigration bill, telling us nothing would change. Ted Kennedy stood on the floor of the senate and said,

"First, our cities will not be flooded with a million immigrants annually. Under the proposed bill, the present level of immigration remains substantially the same.... Secondly, the ethnic mix of this country will not be upset . . . Contrary to the charges in some quarters, [the bill] will not inundate America with immigrants from any one country or area, or the most populated and deprived nations of Africa and Asia . . . In the final analysis, the ethnic pattern of immigration under the proposed measure is not expected to change as sharply as the critics seem to think.... The bill will not flood our cities with immigrants. It will not upset the ethnic mix of our society. It will not relax the standards of admission. It will not cause American workers to lose their jobs."

Ok, can anyone say, "Liar, liar - pants on fire!"

The Lion of the Senate assured millions of Americans that the country would not change. But it did change.

Jerry Mathers -
The Beaver

Beaver is not coming home.

In 1970 America was 92% white.

Today, because of massive immigration from non white countries the white population, the children of those who built America have been reduced and the spiritual soul of America has been gutted.

The good news is that there is a new white homeland being formed in the heartland of America with white people fleeing the degenerating cities and states on the east and west coast. That, along with the instability of our financial debt money system, will create the catalyst of this new white conscienceness and thus our national (racial) rebirth. END

Are Gun Grabbers Insane? (No - just lying hypocrites!)

Donald Kaul is a writer of sorts for the online opinion website, Otherwords.org. For 50 years he has been issuing "liberal" thoughts on everything from gun control to global warming. In July of 2012 he retired after suffering a heart attack which came very close to the "time to meet your maker" sort of thing.

Donald "Agree with me or I will kill you" Kaul

But after the shooting at the Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, Connecticut he discovered he still had a bit of liberal elitism pumping through his damaged heart. You know, "I am a liberal so I am smarter than you" type thing.

Liberals want us to believe they have more love and compassion than those darn "conservatives." And it must be true because in an article he wrote for Otherwords and published in the December 29th edition of the The Des Moines (Iowa) Register he gives us an up close look at how near and dear peace, harmony and brotherly love is to him.

His article is titled "Nation needs a new agenda on guns."

His agenda is quite simple, outlaw guns and if someone doesn't want to give up their guns - well - kill them!

Now what peace loving red-blooded American wouldn't be for that!

Perhaps Kaul should be arrested for terroristic threatening. But he doesn't see it that way. I suppose the heart attack may have caused a loss of blood and thus damage to vital regions of the brain.

So here is his solution to stop violence.

"Here, then, is my "madder-than-hell-and-I'm-not-going-to-take-it-anymore" program for ending gun violence in America.

• Repeal the Second Amendment, the part about guns anyway. It's badly written, confusing and more trouble than it's worth. It offers an absolute right to gun ownership, but it puts it in the context of the need for a "well-regulated militia." We don't make our militia bring their own guns to battles. And surely the Founders couldn't have envisioned weapons like those used in the Newtown shooting when they guaranteed gun rights. Owning a gun should be a privilege, not a right.

• Declare the NRA a terrorist organization and make membership illegal. Hey! We did it to the Communist Party, and the NRA has led to the deaths of more of us than American Commies ever did. (I would also raze the organization's headquarters, clear the rubble and salt the earth, but that's optional.) Make ownership of unlicensed assault rifles a felony. If some people refused to give up their guns, that "prying the guns from their cold, dead hands" thing works for me.

And those pesky politicians who are against gun control laws - well, according to Kaul (the guy who is against violence) they should be chained and dragged behind a pick-up until they "see the light!" Of course, he admits more drastic measures may be needed.

"I would tie Mitch McConnell and John Boehner, our esteemed Republican leaders, to the back of a Chevy pickup truck and drag them around a parking lot until they saw the light on gun control," he wrote. . . "And if that didn't work, I'd adopt radical measures,"

Liberals love to envision themselves sitting high up on a lofty tower of tolerance. From their heavenly perch they will instruct those simple and ignorant troglodytes "clinging to their guns and their religion" the gentle path to a great new world.

But the fact is, they have no tolerance, no peace, no love and are filled with hate and venom for anyone who disagrees with them

He claims that he is against violence then spues forth the most vile and hateful sickness imaginable all-the-while claiming it is necessary to obtain brotherly love and understanding. END

The Emperor May Be Here Forever!

Americans around the nation are shocked about H.J.Res. 15. The resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to repeal the Twenty-second Amendment. This would remove the limitation on the number of terms an individual may serve as President. Rep. José Serrano (D- NY15) introduced the controversial joint resolution on January 4, the second day of the 2013 legislative session.

If H.J. Res. 15 became law, Jose Serrano could possibly be reelected again in 2016.

The last President to serve more than two terms was Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt served three full terms as President and was elected to a fourth term, dying 83 days into his fourth term in office.

Congress passed the Twenty-second Amendment on March 21, 1947. The required number of states ratified it in 1951. Rep Serrano made a previous attempt to repeal the Twenty-second Amendment with H.J.Res. 5 in 2009. END

New School

I hope you will take time to read the enclosed information about the Soldiers of the Cross Training Institute that is being created along with the help and leadership of Jason Robb, Rachel Pendergraft, Billy Roper, Paul Fromm and Dr. Tomislav Sunic.

There is a new nation in gestation in the heartland of America. We don't know how large this new nation will be or when it will be born. But for the most part it is that area called Fly Over Country!

I know I'm repeating myself, but you must grasp what is happening. It is a natural organic move of our people into the heartland. It is not happening because of an effort we promoted but it is something that God himself is creating as He moves in the heart of our people.

According to the March 3rd 2010 edition of Time Magazine this shift in demographics is going to create a new white conscienceness in the heartland. And out of this new White conscienceness there will be leaders and spokesmen for our people. I can't see the future and none of us know with a certainty what will happen in the days that are to come upon our nation. But I do know this, we must not sit idle. The challenge is before us - it could not be more clear - and I hope and trust that you will understand the challenge, visualize the possibilities and harness the will to be a part of this wonderful team. Will You be Dead Next Week?

On Saturday, January 19th I attended a funeral of a woman that has been a friend of our family since the early 70's. In fact she, her sister along with her father and mother have been the oldest friends we have in Arkansas.

My wife and I moved here in 1972 and Mitchell was the post master at the little town of Bass. He became my first friend in the state. His two daughters were in their teens. They have been friends ever since. Actually I first met them in 1970 when we were visiting the state and considering our move here.

On Saturday afternoon of January 12th she was at work operating the cash register. She had no idea that this would be her last Saturday and in one week she would be at her funeral.

She died suddenly. Without warning.

Where will you be a week from today?

We often think in terms of growing old with death approaching us at a slow and steady pace.

But it doesn't always work that way. Sometimes in the midst of a happy and busy day death makes a sudden appearance.

There is no warning!

Death doesn't care about your age, your schedule, or your appointments. Death doesn't care about how old you are, how you look, how much money you have in the bank or where you live.

Some of us may be dead in a year, a month, a week or in an hour.

Death doesn't want our input or our opinion.

Solomon thought much about death and life. He stated that he attempted everything. He tasted life to the full. But he found that wealth, education and power were all useless and in the end served no purpose because in the end the poor and the wealthy, the powerful and the powerless the ignorant and the educated all die the same.

All go into the grave.

Alone.

Job likewise concluded the same and said that in the end the only thing which mattered is that we love God and keep his commandments.

In my father's old and well worn Bible he had written the following poem which he heard while attending church as a young man.

*Only one life, 'twill soon be past,
Only what's done for Christ will last!*

The complete poem is much longer, but the message is clear. We often get involved with life, the daily things which entangle us and we forget about those things which really matter.

Christ told the young man that the greatest commandment was to love God and the second commandment was "like unto the first" meaning that they are equal. The second commandment was to love your neighbor.

Without going into the confusion the world has with understanding the word neighbor, Christ was actually reminding the young man of what had already been written in the Scriptures. He was to

- 1) Love his God
- 2) Love his people

"Do not seek revenge or bear a grudge against one of your people, but love your neighbor as yourself. I am the LORD."
Leviticus 19:18

If you were the young man standing before Christ on that day, how would you have responded? What would you have been thinking?

We are facing the most difficult days in the history of our people. The Bible calls it, "the time of Jacob's trouble."

Loving God and loving our people should be the primary focus of our lives. It doesn't mean we live like a hermit ostracized by the community, but it does mean that our life is devoted to the rebirth of our national (racial) spirit.

It means we love our God and our people first - more than the pleasures of the world.

The Klan has as its motto, "Non Silba Sed Anthar," which is Latin meaning, "Not for self but for others."

We don't know when death will come barging through our door. Death doesn't ask for permission. Death enters at its will.

It is important that we stop and consider the valuables of life. They are not what is in the safe behind the picture, in the jewelry box or in the bank. The valuables of life are those things which are in keeping with and in agreement with that commandment. Love your God and love your people.

When death comes and it certainly will, it will be too late to put your house in order. Now is the time to do it. Loving your God and loving your people is a big chore and an enormous undertaking. It is not the trite remark of confession but is seen in the everyday actions of life. It is seen in how you love our people.

Our nation is lost - the power of the Holy People has been scattered and God is calling us to love them and send out a message of hope and deliverance.

When death walks through your door, whether years from now or next week will you be able to meet your God and say, I served your nation or will you say you served your self?

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." - 1 Peter 2:9
