

THE KNIGHTS PARTY COMMITTEE

PRIMER For SUCCESS

BELIEVE, ACHIEVE, WIN!

www.theknightsparty.com / PO Box 2222 / Harrison, AR 72601

PREFACE

We are proud to have you as part of our team of volunteers. We appreciate your effort to learn more about the struggle we are in, about our goals, agenda, beliefs, etc. The Bible says that where there is no vision, the people will perish (Proverbs 29:18). It is our sincere intent to impart to you a vision of a glorious future.

All across the nation we see evidence of decay and corruption. Our people suffer from violent crime and criminals are allowed to repeat their offense.

Our nation is trading financially secure manufacturing jobs for low paying service jobs. NAFTA and GATT are destroying our financial base and globalists are hard at work promoting TPP (Trans Pacific Partnership). Tech jobs are being sent overseas and immigrants from third world countries are being brought in to fill the service sector. The health care system is being gutted not only by illegal immigrant patients, but the health care jobs are increasingly being filled by non-white immigrants. This includes health aids, nurses, technicians, and doctors. The federal government, working in partnership with giant religious organizations (Christian, Jewish, and Muslim) are relocating thousands of non-white refugees to the U.S. every year. Even though many state and local governments have put up a fight, and the Trump administration has attempted to slow the process, it continues.

Billions are given away to foreign nonwhite countries each year. Illegal immigrants storm our shores. The IRS turns innocent citizens into criminals and terrorizes and steals from them. Our children are forced to endure long hours of nonsense in the schools and through television about how terrible the white race is. It seems everyone has rights except the person who does an honest day's work...supporting other people's rights with his or her tax payments while trying to raise his family in peace. It appears this way because no one stands for the white man or woman in the political arena - at least not yet!

The same tradition of free and constructive competition employed in America since the beginning, to provide the greatest good for the greatest number of people, has also given us our political system. Free competition between individuals to create, produce and sell goods and services which other individuals want to buy also applies to the political arena.

Politics is war fought in the time of peace. Instead of swords or guns - words are used. Rather than selling goods or services, a political party markets philosophy, platforms, programs, policies and candidates who best represent their ideas about government.

Unfortunately, what was once an even playing field is now filled with many obstacles. The Republican and Democratic parties have put laws into place which hinder the success of third party candidates. Thankfully we are like no other third party and our time is coming!

INTRODUCTION

The Knights Party and the 6th Era Klan

Since 1989 when Pastor Robb became the national director, he has been shaping the direction The Knights takes to insure a successful outcome.

And prior to that, our former national director David Duke emphasized the need to seek and win political power.

Our mission statement is, "We seek to gain political power for white Christian America by successfully placing Klansmen and Klanswomen in electoral seats of public office via The Knights Party."

We have a long term strategy mapped out, and while we are not running candidates for public office now, we are nevertheless, a real political party with a philosophy, platform, goals, and serious belief in The Knights ability to restore control of our nation to the children of our White Christian ancestors.

The Ku Klux Klan is truly a movement of the people because it is inspired by God during times of dire need. Its organizational structure adapts from generation to generation while retaining its beliefs in God, race, and nation.

At any age in time it has always stood to represent White Christian America - a fact which all of the politically correct historians in the world can never put asunder.

From this day forward, you have a mission and are being counted on!

THE PARTY STRUCTURE

Traditionally, all political parties, except The Knights, are structured like this:

1. The national committee of each party is comprised of three members from each state; a national committeeman, a national committeewoman and the state party chairman. These are usually selected by the party at state levels. The national committees are responsible for their national convention, it establishes party policy, it conducts fund raising efforts, oversees the party's national funds, headquarters and staff.
2. The state committee selects delegates to attend the national convention, works for election of party candidates to national and state offices, plans and directs party campaigns statewide.
3. The county committee works with precinct leaders, provides speakers, registration, publicity, finances, and education.
4. Each precinct has a precinct leader or chairman and precinct workers. They contact all new people in the neighborhood regarding political affiliation, see that members of their party get registered to vote, do other political canvassing, and carry out Election Day activities to get the friendly voters to the polls.

In comparison The Knights Party is structured as such:

1. The Knights Party is structured as a nonprofit corporation for the legal benefits afforded to organizations with corporate status and is governed by a board of directors. Our official name is the Knights Party Committee.
2. The Knights Party is organized through its national headquarters which provides speakers, publicity, unit support, and oversees the general business affairs, recruiting efforts, and education of associates.
3. The nation is divided into 10 districts. District leaders are called District Coordinators and direct publicity efforts, serve as district spokesmen or women, and work with state directors in the organizing of the state.
4. The leader of each state is called the state director and he or she is responsible for state organizing efforts.
5. Each congressional district within the state is led by a regional coordinator who is responsible for party organizing efforts within the congressional district.
6. The Knights Party Unit more closely resembles the precinct committee of the other parties as duties are much the same; contacting people in the neighborhood regarding political affiliation, political canvassing, distribution of tracts, fund raising, and promoting name recognition of The Knights Party. Unit officer positions are the highest officer rank generally commissioned. On rare occasions regional, state, and district officers will be appointed when deemed necessary by the national office.

7. Knights - individual Party links - In all other parties little emphasis is given to the positive impact that just one party member can have. Perhaps it is not a necessity; they have the financial leverage to pay for television advertising, radio spots, and direct mail campaigns. The actual physical and financial contributions of the individual are overlooked, not so in The Knights. We are overworked and underfunded, but we believe in our people's ability to win back control of the nation. Each Christian is important to God's plan.

Each individual is important to the Overall success of *The Knights

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

We believe America's most important asset is the dedicated and unselfish Knight. Are we kidding;? No!

Don't you think America is lucky to have you? It will depend on your level of activism - whether physical or financial.

If you truly believe our political platform is what America needs, if you understand why our people have become subjected to such oppression, if you understand the Christian foundation of America and choose to uphold the Christian faith and promote its return to the halls of congress, to the White house, our schools, and our courtrooms, then America indeed is blessed to count you as a son or daughter. However, if after all of this knowledge you refuse to act or you idly sit by and do nothing you will be counted not as hero, but as traitor. Yes, it is in God's hands. However, God uses people to carry plans to fruition.

The Knights Party needs your undivided attention, constant support, and continual goodwill.

We have the formula for success and many of the very important ingredients are coming together even as you read this.

You are an important part.

We have millions of followers! We don't have millions of members.

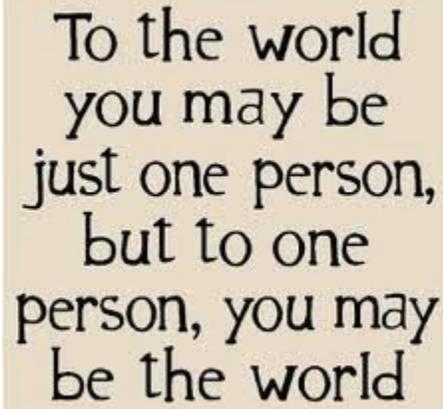

Our people need us. There are desperate elderly, fearful children and worrying parents nationwide depending on us. They need answers. They need guidance. Do you ever look at the faces of the people you meet everyday; friends, family or strangers and wish you could help them, let them know hope is not gone? Our white brothers and sisters need us desperately and America needs cleansing and healing. Our people must repent and our nation must stand as the bedrock of Christianity once again - only then will our people prosper and truly be free.

They are counting on you - far fetched? NO!

Elections are often won or lost because of one vote and important issues decided by one vote.

God did not put us here to have a nice life and die. We are here to serve Him and to promote His political program just as our founding fathers did.

Our government and constitution are based on actual laws and guidelines from the Bible; God's political program for a healthy nation. Through the centuries the world has waited for a nation built on Christian liberty and we have the opportunity to live within her boundaries and to enjoy its freedoms.

To the world
you may be just one person, but to one person, you may be the world

God has a very political agenda. Don't think for an instant that he cares not which direction America takes.

It is our duty to insure that God's standard is raised in the land and that our government is not left to the heathen, but secured for the future protection, liberty and happiness of OUR White Christian children as our forefathers and divine providence intended.

Understand this: YOU ARE COUNTED AMONG A VERY SMALL MINORITY!

YOU are part of an ELITE. You are crucial to the structure of The Knights.

PARTY MEMBER CONDUCT

Each and every one of us is an influential person. Do you believe you are important to God's plan of salvation for America? You are! You are an influential person! Do you believe in your awesome power? Christ does.

Every day, in hundreds of ways, you and I are influencing people about what it means or does not mean to be a Klansman or Klanswoman – even when you don't advertise that you are one.

If the people of our lives had to write a definition of being a racist or Christian separatist from what they see and hear from us, what would they write? Our influence is either positive or negative. People are reading the signals all the time. God intended us to have impact, influence, and inspiration in the lives of the people we touch.

In Ephesians 6:10-20 we find it says "Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." God has given us the power to share His warnings and His message of revival with our brothers and sisters and to make a difference in their lives.

When the land was filled with patriotism it was blessed. It must be understood when we refer to Patriot we are not talking about those who wave the American Flag on Veterans day or Independence day. We aren't talking about those who always vote, or support any particular law that is supposed to be good for America. We are talking about those men and women who give honor to their ancestors by standing for the same principles and beliefs they held. If a person doesn't believe in White Christian separation and a government based upon Biblical law then they aren't a Patriot no matter how many times they recite the Pledge of Allegiance or sing the national anthem.

A Political War has Been Waged Upon White Christians

A political war has been waged upon White Christians. During any war the enemy often uses deceit and confusion to render his target victims helpless.

This usually comes in the form of underground propaganda pumped into the movement which tells our people we are too weak to stand against them. We are told how powerful they are and that we are inconsequential to their ultimate victory.

The other method of propaganda our enemies use to keep Patriots beat down is diversion and this can be evidenced by the increased number of so-called common law courts, militias, and anti-tax groups. None of these things are in themselves wrong. However, they are diverting the attention of Patriots from the issue of race. The crooked courts did not create the problem, the erosion of our right to bear arms is not the problem, and taxation is not the problem. These are merely symptoms of a dying nation.

Our people allowed strangers (those outside of our racial family) to come into our land and the Bible says if we would let that happen the strangers would rule over us and our land would suffer the consequences.

God promised our people that if we would obey His ways He would honor us and cause us to rule over our enemies. Deuteronomy 28:13 "And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them." If, on the other hand, our nation rejects His laws, He promised that: "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low...Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the Lord shall send against thee..." Deuteronomy 28:43, 48 Some may argue that this prophesy was fulfilled long ago in ancient times but the precedent is the same and the moral laws of God are timeless.

Our forefathers left us an inheritance, a great Christian legacy, and a government taken from the laws of the Bible. From out of all of Europe, God gathered true believers and placed them here and gave them a country in which to prosper. However, their descendants did not heed the advice of our founding fathers and let strangers into the land and gave them equal standing with God's children. Notice we did not say equal treatment, but equal standing. Strangers were brought to our land and were given equal standing with the sons and daughters of God. Our land is plagued now with injustice.

It's not that our court system or issues of the U.N. are unimportant. It's not unimportant to know how to defend yourself and your family. The heavy tax burden on our people is of course important. But we can't treat the symptoms of a disease to cure it, we must treat the source and as we just stated the source of our problems is the transgression against our nation by our very own race. We must prioritize our fight and work to remove the strangers and those politicians in their pocket from positions of influence.

The strangers in our land are plentiful and those among our race who have embraced them are plentiful. We stand against a mighty army. In Judges 7:1-25 we read, And the Lord said to Gideon, "The people who are with you are too many for Me to give Midian into their hands, lest Israel become boastful, saying, "my own power has delivered me." The odds were not good when Gideon prepared for battle: 32,000 Israelites against 135,000 Midianites - with the Lord's help, perhaps he could win. No wonder Gideon was shocked when the Lord made two cuts in his army!

He lost 22,000 when he followed the Lord's instruction to tell those who were afraid and trembling to go home.

The second test of the remaining 10,000 was to march the soldiers through the riverbed. Those who stopped, took off their armor, and put their mouths into the water to drink were sent home. Only those who kept their eyes on Gideon while reaching down for a little water in their cupped hand were qualified.

The issue was twofold. One issue was their commitment to battle and not their own temporary thirst. Second was their willingness to keep their attention properly focused on the battle that lay ahead.

They did not allow themselves to become sidetracked on something as seemingly important as their need for drink. Rather they realized the symptoms would be taken care of as they allowed God to work through them to conquer the source of their despair - the Midianites.

Only 300 men of God destroyed 135,000 enemies. God has always called the elite out of the world to fight for Him and His word. You could say he was more interested in quality than quantity.

How can we become a Knight of worth?

How can we keep ourselves focused on the source of our problems? How can we become a credible witness to our lost brothers and sisters who do not know where to turn? How can we influence those we know in such a positive manner that they will forever think of us in the racist movement, not as someone to fear, but as someone worth listening to, not as a crackpot racist, but a logical person concerned about our racial family?

First off, we have to realize once and for all that God can work through each and every one of us. In Ezekiel 2:1 we read where the Lord said to Ezekiel, "Son of man, stand on your feet that I may speak with you!"

1. The Lord first told Ezekiel to stand on his feet so that He could speak with him. The Lord had wanted Ezekiel at full attention, ready to hear what the Lord had to say. He wanted no diversions. He wanted Ezekiel focused on his mission.

Ezekiel was called to be a prophet at a time of great need. He was among the people carried off in the Babylonian exile. There he became God's spokesman and watchman to our ancient ancestors.

Even today, He wants us at full attention, ready to listen, and prepared to move forward into battle.

God hates fearful inactivity and when we settle comfortably on a plateau, He says, "stand up, I want you active again!"

2. The second thing God did for Ezekiel was to enter and use him at his own command. The greatest need was for God's people to live by the power and truth of the Lord once again. What He wanted to do through Ezekiel He first did in him. He gave Ezekiel the power to act.

3. The third thing he told Ezekiel to do was, "Eat the scroll, and go speak to the house of Israel." The scroll was the sacred Scriptures.

God wanted Ezekiel to know and act as one who could speak with Christian authority.

We must continually strive to educate ourselves so that we can speak with authority to others. We must also work to become more Christ like so to be a more credible witness of Christian living to those we hope to reach with a message of White Christian revival.

As we learn more about our Christian and racial identity as God's children, we begin to see the whole significance of America, the re-gathering place of God's chosen. We realize how imbedded the laws of the Bible are in the early laws and writings of the United States. We also begin to realize how important America is in God's plan for an Earthly Kingdom.

With the knowledge of these things we become acutely aware of God's command to go forth with His word. It is our duty to go unto our white brothers and sisters. The strengthening of America will be done through Christ. He works in our lives individually and expects us to fulfill our duty.

When we lose the fear and take on the armor and power of Christ we can become disciples for Him and win others to our cause.

The Lord will work through the elite, those He has chosen to hear the truth. We will be tried for our patience, perseverance, loyalty, truthfulness, ethics, and conduct.

We aren't a Fast Food Drive Thru

Many come to the movement and wonder why things don't move faster, why advances are not granted to us more quickly, or victories more swiftly.

Those who come to the movement are being tested. Those in the world courageous enough to even step forward with our beliefs are in the minority and the masses are not ready. This is why we must develop the ability to stand long and determined. The Lord is tempering us and forging us into His weapons of truth and righteousness.

We are each individually important to God and His work here in America.

While we are aware, the masses are not yet ready to join our movement of Christian revival. We must continually work to be a positive presence, a fine example of a racist.

In our own community We can, with good public relations (Christian conduct) gain the immediate respect of those we come into contact with, our neighbors, and those in our community.

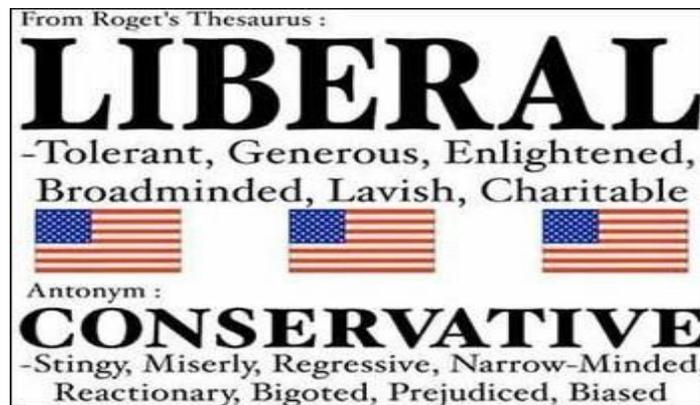

- We can gain their respect and support on a personal level, while at the same time slowly opening their eyes to reality.
- Raising their consciousness
- and leading them toward acceptance of our beliefs
- The first and most important aspect is simply to be a good neighbor.

The more trusted and admired you are, the better the possibility for outstanding success.

It is of the utmost importance not to build any barriers between yourself and your neighbors by either appearance or actions. For instance, don't decorate your living room like a Klan rally. You'll only warn everyone that you have an agenda. You should also take great care in the language you use. Swearing may give you a feeling of being on their level. However, while we don't want barriers raised up between us, this should not void us of our responsibility as the present elite to portray Christian conduct in all of our dealings. We should be the example they wish to aspire to, not vice versa.

In addition, no matter how a person dresses or talks, if there is always a big show of disgust whenever you're around liberals, Negroes, Jews, or other non-Aryans, you will let everyone know you have an agenda and your words, no matter how timely or true, will be discounted.

We also must remember that some folks claim to be liberal because they believe it is the compassionate label to wear. White people are by nature compassionate. We should not belittle them for their compassion, but rather redirect it. The definition given below is what many think of, but neither is accurate for the era we live in now.

The founding fathers were considered to be the liberals of their time while the conservatives wanted to remain under a monarchist system. George Washington, Adams, and Jefferson wanted liberated from an oppressive government while others wanted to conserve it.

We don't want to conserve this present system. We want a benevolent, white, Christian society that operates purposefully to better the lives of white Christian families. In a nation that is majority white and Christian, being generous is a plus. However, in a nation of mixed races who have grown accustomed to the generosity of whites, we cannot afford to be liberally minded!

You should certainly never pander to non-Whites, but it is very important to always be polite to all. Be above showing the childish emotions of the lower-castes. When it comes time to give your opinion, especially to young people, a superior level of behavior will ensure that your words will be valued.

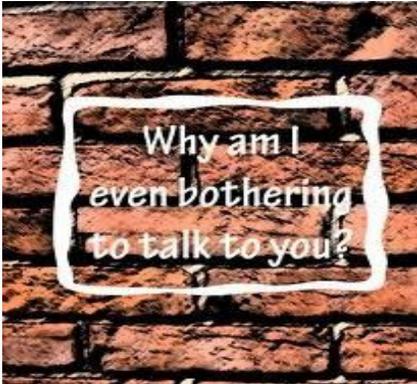

Don't play for the petty stakes of the moment. Play for the whole jackpot of the future!

When an opportunity does arise to make meaningful comments, don't shove it down their throats with a better than them attitude.

Always remember "Aryan" means noble. Be noble! Always be helpful, and dependable to your neighbors.

High level Aryan conduct even toward the lowest in your neighborhood will greatly influence the receptivity of those quality individuals and families whom you wish to bring into the movement.

There is no need to worry about getting rid of the dregs and fringes. They will fall away of their own violation as revival sweeps the land and our nation repents of her sins and restores White Christian government.

Sometimes it will be best to stay away from the subject of race, until you are very sure your neighbor or contact is receptive. However, every day the subject of race becomes less of an abrasive issue. When you do approach racial issues, do so with a professional mannerism. Our people have been educated to shy away from honest racial discussions, still it can be done. But always handle delicately or the walls will be put up immediately and you will end up talking to a brick wall.

You may wish to keep your Klan affiliation private though. If asked, tell them exactly what you know to be true and why you know it to be so.

Perhaps if you have a DVD you may tell them (this sums up your beliefs) and let them watch it or send a link to a video on line.

However, do not shower them with items, Simply state your views as matter-of-fact as if you were talking about the weather with a smile and then continue on to something else. If your actions have always shown you to be a respected and concerned neighbor, you will be surprised at the positive reaction. They will recognize your courage to stand up for what you believe, and they will recognize and appreciate that you are not trying to push your beliefs on them. Remember the old saying, "You can catch more flies with honey than vinegar."

It is, of course, important to our game plan to point out how the government, the courts, the news media, publishers, and the entertainment industry are controlled and have an alien agenda which is dangerous to the welfare and survival of us all, regardless of race. But, let them figure out who does the controlling at their own speed. This is really easier than one would think.

Today, most everyone is receptive to the idea that the politicians and news media are the bad guys. You should strengthen their suspicions by commenting on good examples when ever feasible. But use examples which are within the knowledge of the average individual. There are plenty of real examples of government mishandling and cover-ups without going into the realm of the weird. Also, don't use examples of revisionism or Zionist Israel until you are sure your neighbor is completely receptive and don't rush it. There are many issues which can be discussed such as illegal immigration, homosexuality, foreign aid, welfare reform, etc.

These can be used as a springboard to the most important issue of race.

You want to use your neighbors' natural distrust of the politicians, but you can't afford to replace it with distrust of YOUR motives.

Keep in mind that our goal is a White Christian nation achieved by winning political power. Influence your neighbors toward simple living and higher ideals and finally remember there are 3 ways to kill your efforts.

1. Criticism There is no such thing as constructive criticism. Don't individually criticize those you want to witness to. It will show you as uncaring.
2. Complaining No one likes to be around someone who is always complaining and it shows weak character. Those you are witnessing to may begin to wonder when you are going to shut up about all the problems and start working toward a solution.
3. Blame Don't blame others if your efforts don't always seem successful. Everyone and everything has its time. Your efforts, if done under the right motivation and not for ego sake, will never be a waste and will always be used by God to move His plan forward.

Our revolution in this nation is one of thought and our struggle is for the consciousness of our racial family. Each of us can raise the consciousness of our neighbors, even if only a little.

We should be like Gideon, instead of giving up because he had so few men to fight, he praised God.

Surely everyone would know how powerful God was by delivering such a huge enemy army into the hands of just a few.

We must have courage and faith that our efforts will not be useless. Our enemies are powerful and at times the odds look to be against us, but we can receive healing in our nation by keeping our eyes focused on God and not shirking from duty. When we think we can't do it alone we must remember we are God's disciple wherever we go and wherever we are, no matter what friends, family, acquaintances, or others may think.

Why are we important? Because God said so.

Are the efforts of one important? Yes, God said so.

Is it right to be so fearful of the enemy that we fail to fulfill our duty? No..

Is it time to act? Is it time to be a viable link in your area? Is it time to make a difference?

ABSOLUTELY!

We've discussed the type of personal life you should live: kind, helpful, compassionate, dependable, loving, truthful, determined, persistent, and unselfish. You should take care to guard your reputation so you are always regarded as a Christian.

FEARS PROMOTED BY THE ENEMY

- Fear of losing friends
- Fear of going to jail
- Fear of losing job
- Fear of IRS
- Fear of being killed
- Fear of embarrassment
- Fear of being "used" by the organization
- Fear of UN troops
- Fear of media
- Fear of federal agencies
- Fear of minorities
- Fear of the unknown
- Fear of your limitations
- Fear of ridicule
- Fear of failing
- Fear of losing family, girlfriend, boyfriend, husband, wife, parents, etc.

A dark rectangular box with white text. The text is arranged in five lines, reading: "WHAT WOULD YOU ATTEMPT TO DO IF YOU KNEW YOU COULD NOT FAIL?". The font is a clean, sans-serif typeface.

COMMON EXCUSES FOR NOT DOING MORE

(not being focused)

- too young
- too old
- poor health
- not educated
- too educated
- too poor
- too financially secure to risk any effort
- Spouse will be upset
- family will be upset
- too busy with career
- just made it to retirement - let others worry now
- it's a man's job
- working to make time for "future" activity
- no meetings where I live
- pursuing education, will promote Klan later
- started new business - must wait until its off the ground
- there are no minorities where I live - no need for the Klan
- wait to see how successful others are first.
- I don't want my children to know - I'll teach them our beliefs when they're older.
- Am having marital problems, Christian revival must wait.
- When my kids are out of school, I'll promote the Klan then.
- I was in the Klan a long time ago; It's time for the next generation to take up the fight.
- just started a new job
- I don't know what to do, or I would do something
- After the Klan becomes more powerful, I'll really support it then.
- It just doesn't seem practical for someone like me.
- I'm only a homemaker.
- After my family has everything it wants, then I'll help the movement out more.
- I'm a procrastinator - I just can't help it.
- National meetings too far away.

PARTY STRATEGY

Grass Roots Organizing

If we are a political party why aren't we running candidates for public office? Many third parties involve themselves in the election process immediately.

They allow almost anyone within their party to run for public office. They allow this often times without consideration for how long the individual has been a party member, whether they have been properly trained, whether they see themselves as an autonomous candidate or see themselves as a team player, etc. In addition, because third parties generally allow party members to run for any office anywhere at their own personal discretion without any coordinated game plan with headquarters or any real instruction, they end up with scattered elections here and there with poorly prepared candidates and the result is usually a lost election.

What is the outcome? The party, however well intentioned, is already establishing a pattern of failure. The Knights Party refuses to become bogged down by the petty difficulties of local, regional or national elections which only serve to drain the budget at this time. Before we will run Klansman and Klanswomen on The Knights Party ticket, we must insure:

1. All candidates are well trained at our leadership school
2. That Knights Party units are prepared to successfully support election programs, community relations work, etc
3. That our legal team is prepared to fan the nation in defense of Klan candidates and to aggressively pursue legal action against all groups and persons, whether they are from the political arena, educational area, religious arena, or the media who stand in our way.
4. That a well trained and qualified Knight can be placed on The Knights Party ticket in several high profile races on the same election year in those areas that are predominately white. In other words, we must not present a scattering of candidates, but a well filled slate of candidates as a show that we mean business.
5. Finally, we must be able to control a significant budget. We must be able to count on MILLIONS! These funds are not out of our league and we must have them to run campaigns, to allow for unit and precinct funding, to allow for massive advertising, to provide legal aid to whites, to continue growing our leadership school, to allow for proper financing of state and district offices. etc. If we wanted to have a million man march like the blacks did, we should be able to afford to bus in our supporters from around the nation in similar fashion. We must become the central focus of every white man, woman, and child in this nation, whether they agree with us or not.

If you are a member of means, then it is your duty to put your financial expertise to work for The Knights. Anything less is unsatisfactory. Money begets money which in turn can be harnessed to bring the wealthy (yet silent) sympathizers to our ranks. Remember that public opinion is very easily swayed. As easily as their opinion of the Klan has swayed toward the negative it will just as easily sway toward support of The Knights. The popularity of the Klan and in particular The Knights Party can be obtained much more quickly than most anyone realizes with adequate financing and calculated public relations.

We must all be patient and understand that as an organization, our bags are packed, we have the map, we have the driver, we know our destination, and we continue to attract others who believe in the same goal and agree to be a team player. We have only to gather the gas money. We must use our present resources to strengthen the organization and to increase the public name recognition of The Knights Party. YOU ARE VITALLY IMPORTANT IN THIS CRUCIAL PHASE OF PARTY BUILDING AND PRE-ELECTION preparation.

Name recognition is often times THE deciding factor in an election and the most cost effective avenue of "campaigning" that we presently have. Klan associates can be confident in knowing that we have gathered very talented and expert individuals who help analyze and help determine proper political moves, timing, etc. to enable The Knights to take full advantage of the window of opportunity which will be given to us in the future.

Our growth must remain steady and each Knight must renew his/her commitment each year to the party no matter how incredible the feat of political victory may seem.

There is NO doubt!

I want you to truly take it into your heart and mind. This is not something we say because we think it's cute, but it is our fanatical obsession. We sincerely believe this is true. And the leadership of The Knights is committed to this premise. The Knights Party is the Last Hope for America and We Will Win!

It is not our desire to build the biggest club or fraternity in the country. Nor is it our desire to simply form an association for lonely racialsists. For those of you who may have forgotten and for those of you who simply have failed to really understand I want you to understand that we are interested in only ONE thing, securing a future for our children and that will require:

Political Power!

If you are here today because you want to belong to a fraternity, you are here for the wrong reason! If you are here because you are seeking amusement, then you are here for the wrong reason. If you are here because you think belonging to the Klan will impress people, then you are here for the wrong reason.

Those who are Knights must understand that we have one and only one objective - political power!

As unlikely as it may seem to be to some people, we intend to be a true political party and we intend to be the only political power in America!

What about all the disclosure requirements political parties are regulated by? Will my affiliation be kept confidential? These are valid questions.

We are very serious about our bid for political power. We realize there are many regulations which hamper a person's ability to make anonymous contributions to political parties. This is what makes our strategy so very important. We will never put Klansman's or Klanswoman's confidentiality in jeopardy!

1. The Federal Election Commission gives a very loose definition to PARTY. In fact, the FEC has NO regulations regarding actual parties, but rather the committees which make up the parties. These include local committees, state committees, and national committees.
2. A committee ONLY comes under FEC guidelines when there is an attempt to influence an election.
3. Parties DO NOT come under FEC guidelines simply for being involved in grass roots organizing.

Headquarters is very well researched in this area. Our political strategy will insure your complete anonymity. The entire issue is very complex.

But, rest assured. Our plans for the future are fail proof. Again, we want to make it very clear. Your membership with The Knights Party is kept strictly confidential and is NOT made known to any governmental agency including those who regulate political parties!

Is a third political party necessary?

	Necessary	Not necessary	No opinion
All adults	48	49	4
Democrats	36	58	5
Republicans	40	57	3
Independents	61	37	3
Liberals	60	38	2
Moderates	51	46	3
Conservatives	39	58	3

Washington Post-ABC News poll, Jan. 12-15

Q: Some people say the country needs a third political party in addition to the Democratic and Republican parties, others say it's unnecessary. Do you think this country needs a third party or not?

The poll shown above was taken at the beginning of 2012. Those polled include all races, not just white people. Of white people polled, some will identify as liberal, as well as moderate, or conservative.

Polls like this are used frequently to prove that a third party is not viable. What is does show is that there are in fact many people who are willing to give a third party a try. This is why there are already so many third parties in this country. To list a few: the Green Party, the Libertarian Party, the Constitution Party, the National Socialist Party, the American Third Position Party, The American Way Party, America's Third Party, the Labor Party, the Citizens Party, the Progressive Party, and the New Whig Party.

The American people are unsatisfied with their political representation. The election of Trump proves this out. He was considered an outsider to the GOP. Even those die-hard Republican and Democratic voters really aren't so die-hard after all. The primary reason these individuals do not vote for third party candidates is out of fear. They would rather cast their vote for someone who is half-way decent than a third party candidate they really believe in, if they perceive that by voting their conscience it will mean a definite win for the other side. In essence they worry about splitting the vote and giving the election away to someone really horrible, instead of just a little bit horrible. That is the sad state of American politics!

This is why running candidates at this time is a waste of resources. White people aren't ready for a third party yet. They don't yet see the value in it. They feel they are throwing their vote away. And this is the sentiment of even many who agree with us on most all issues. If the majority of those who are like minded won't vote a third party ticket, why would we think that other whites would vote for a third party. They just won't do it.

So why have a third party? It is not because of the present political climate, but the future political climate, that we have a third party. Those who won't vote now will vote in the future. How far in the future? That is anyone's guess, but we feel it definitely coincides with the changing demographics. While we need a third party to represent white people because of the changing racial demographics, it is the changing racial demographics that will give people a reason to vote for a third party.

The Balkanization of America

A recent article in Time Magazine (March 22, 2010) was titled, The White Anxiety Crisis. The point of the article, and other sources verify, is that though we will reach a non-white national majority in the year 2042, the overwhelming majority of these non whites will be in the Pacific and Atlantic coastal states as well as the deep South. As this occurs whites will flee from the coastal states into middle America – often called “flyover” country.

This article states what we have been saying for almost forty years. When these demographic changes shift and lead to the rise of a white geographic heartland, an awakening will occur. To quote from Time magazine, whites will “increasingly develop a stronger consciousness of their political interests” and “A strong white minority political consciousness is most likely to arise.”

In the book, Civil War Two, the author, Thomas Chittum, gives considerable attention to the ethnic balkanization occurring in the south and the southwest. He suggests that by the year 2025 the southwestern states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California will have such a high population of Mexicans that it will be “American” in name only. By the year 2025 these states will in fact be “Mexico” within the U.S. border and will be openly defiant to U.S. laws. This will happen in spite of the bold and courageous moves of states like Arizona who have tried to halt the flood of illegal immigration.

He suggests most of the southern states will also balkanize at that time due to the extremely high population of blacks. The U.S. Government, already financially dead, will be unable to contain this open defiance to U.S. Law and will be forced to abandon any notion of doing so. America, as we know it, will cease to exist.

Researchers tell us that as a result, there will be a flood of whites with a racial consciousness moving away from the coastal states, the Southwest and the deep South into northern states, the west and the mid-west. Again, even then, they would be avoiding metropolitan areas that presently exist in these locations which would continue to be dominated by non-whites. However, outside of these areas, the majority will be white. In the rest of the country, most small towns and hamlets continue to be dominated by non-whites or are fast approaching non-white dominance. With this being said, there are a scattering of small white towns even in these areas that are maintaining a white majority population.

There are still pockets of America that are 90% white or better. God is calling our people back to a small town atmosphere so that we may be far from the coming calamity that non-white violence and economic collapse will surely bring to heavily populated areas. White nationalists are encouraged to use the internet to search out the demographics and seriously consider a move to these areas as you seek to protect your family or to start a family.

Be a Catalyst for Change

Every Knights Party associate is a catalyst in moving our communities forward. And by communities we don't just mean our physical communities, but also our ideological communities. It is important that we all work toward the growth of the white Christian community, not just and only in the sense of organization building, but also in reaching out and being a positive example to those many Americans who agree with us on most issues, but are unwilling to stand with us now. They are still our brothers and sisters.

They have to break free of the mental chains they are in. We must be patient with them, even when it seems almost unbearable. When their burden becomes too heavy, we will not need to break the chains for them. They will break the chains themselves. But after those chains are broken, they will need direction and guidance.

This is why volunteering is so important. This is how you meet others. This is how you lead. This is how you become an asset to your community. This is what causes others to look to you with respect. It is what will give credibility to your white nationalist stance when you slowly win others to considering your beliefs.

The whole concept of migrating to majority white small towns, volunteering, becoming known, developing relationships, and creating a foothold for white nationalism is critical. This is grass roots organizing at its core. Pastor Robb and his wife Muriel did this almost 50 years ago, moving across country from Tucson, Arizona to the Ozarks. And this area is thriving. Other white areas can experience the same thing and you can be the catalyst..

As evidenced by the latest census, the nation is turning rapidly non-white. And it is predicted that by the next census, the Ozarks will be the new population epicenter of the U.S. God is drawing our people out from the alien populated areas of the U.S. And bringing them to the Heartland and similar white enclaves around the country.

I believe this is significant. Especially in light of having passed the 150th anniversary of the 'Civil War'. While there is much misunderstanding on both sides as to the issues and true causes of the war, one thing that has remained is the strong belief in states' rights. But remember, the implementation of states' rights does not guarantee trouble free governance. An imperfect people can turn anything upside down. I give as an example that some homosexual groups have come out in strong defense of states' rights. Prior to the Supreme Court upholding "Gay marriage", homosexuals believed it would help them win rights for sodomite "marriage". States' rights are again being considered by some transgender advocates.

Nevertheless, states' rights is an issue that we can use to our advantage; even more so as white people become the minority in most states, but remain the majority in the new Heartland of the U.S. The overwhelming non-white population of the largest states and all coastal regions will mean huge blows to the white race at the federal level.

Our efforts, politically, must stand at the local and state levels. This is where we can win in the future. Others will catch the vision. God is gathering our people together. Our people are making friends and influencing people. We are at the cross roads of something great.

What about the rest of the Country?

To be sure, we are not supporting the idea that we should set out to build communes in the rural areas and to hell with the rest of the country. When we speak about building communities, we simply refer to building a stronghold in areas that will be majority white. Recently, headlines around the nation read, "Minority Births are Now the Majority." It has already occurred in the cities of America. So what does this mean to the rest of the country that is ruled by the minorities? Does this mean we intend to forsake our brothers and sisters who are left behind in majority non-white areas? No. What it does mean is that we must think strategically.

It is sad to say, but many white people refuse to move from non-white areas because they simply like the metropolitan feel. They like to live in an integrated area. They do not see it as a danger to themselves or to their children. We cannot force these people to change. They may change given the right circumstances or it may be their children who hear the wake up call.

Others refuse to flee non-white areas because it is their home. It is where their family is. It is where they grew up. It is what they know. The thought of moving to a white area may be appealing, but it is also frightening. That is understandable. They receive absolutely no condemnation from those who have made the move to a white area or are fortunate enough to have grown up in a white area that remains white. We are simply looking at the overall picture.

The Burbs

Now for a word of caution. Do not be deceived into thinking that you are in a safe area. We just discussed the various problems that may arise for those living in metropolitan areas. But as evidence for how far our nation has fallen, there are just too many people that are comfortable in the suburbs. And by suburbs, I am going to include all gated communities, cities that have other cities directly on its perimeter, and cities that residents of Chicago, New York, or Los Angeles would consider small – perhaps in the 50,000 – 100,000. range. The suburbs do not indicate safety. In fact, living in a suburb is very likely to lull you and your family into a false sense of security.

The Real Criteria

- What is the percentage of non-whites in a seventy five mile radius? Anything above 12% - 15 % puts you in the danger zone right now. In twenty years that number is likely to be 35-45%. This is important to know because this is where your children or grand children will be living. Not only do they need to be in a majority white area, but they need to be a safe distance from a dominate non- white population.

Allow me to give an example of a community that is trying to go in the right direction, but we feel is putting itself in harm's way.

Located within the Crescenta Valley of California are a number of white activists and their families. They sponsor heritage festivals, meet for recreation and fellowship, and are generally fine people. They are not doing anything wrong, but the future there is bleak from a racist standpoint.

According to white patriots in the valley, it is an ideal place to raise a family. Here is the information they give to those interested in relocating to the valley.

“For those not familiar with the Crescenta Valley, the Crescenta Valley is located in Southern California about 15 miles north of downtown Los Angeles and is surrounded by rugged mountain ranges which separate us from many of the ills commonly found in the greater Los Angeles area.

The Crescenta Valley has a higher percentage of ethnic European Americans relative to the total population than most other parts of Los Angeles county. European Americans first began to settle the Crescenta Valley in the late 1800's forming the first settlements and building the area into a pleasant community over 140 years later. Non-European populations in the Crescenta Valley are comprised mostly of Asians and Middle-Eastern peoples, namely Koreans and Armenians. Due to the 1965 immigration act, non-Europeans began moving in large numbers to the US and subsequently the Crescenta Valley but their populations in the Crescenta Valley remain small due mostly to housing factors such as the relative low availability of inexpensive housing like apartments and condominiums. Geographic factors also limit population growth in the Crescenta Valley since the surrounding mountains are too steep to build upon. The geographic and housing factors helps make the Crescenta Valley a very desirable community to call home. It should also be noted that generally speaking the further east you go in the valley the more affluent the neighborhoods become. Our population and demographic statistics are as follows:

La Cañada Flintridge (91011 zip code) - 20,187 population - 72% White La Crescenta (91214 zip code) - 29,101 population - 67% White Montrose (91020 zip code) - 7,515 population - 63% White

North Glendale (91208 zip code) - 16,909 population 67% White Tujunga (91042 zip code) - 26,738 population - 61% White

Sunland & Shadow Hills (91040 zip code) - 18,748 population - 69% White Total Crescenta Valley population - 119,198 - 67% White

Distances

The Crescenta Valley is surprisingly very close to many Southern California areas yet far enough away to retain our small town charm.

Crescenta Valley to....Downtown Glendale - 09 miles Glendale Train Station (Amtrak & Metrolink) - 10 miles Downtown Pasadena - 10 miles Burbank Airport (Bob Hope Airport) - 13 miles Downtown Los Angeles - 15 miles Hollywood - 16 miles San Fernando Valley - 20 miles “

End of their information

I am sorry, but this isn't good enough! We are looking at a valley eleven miles long with an average overall white population of 65% and these statistics include Jews who unfortunately are counted among the white population. In twenty years the number of whites will drop dramatically. California is already a majority non-white state and fifteen miles from downtown LA is too close. In the likely event of a racial civil war and the South West and Western States defying U.S. Law in favor of Mexico, white people in the Crescenta valley will be cut off from all assistance and will be sitting ducks.

My white brothers and sisters, we must consider the future demographics of the area, the proximity to large groups of non-whites and in addition, the proximity to military bases. In another generation or two, the military will be majority non-white and military bases in and around large cities will be seen as an open house for gun looting bands of non-whites.

The changing demographics and tsunami of non-white violence is going to happen – it is happening! It is not a matter of if, it is a matter of how soon and fast it will escalate. It is the natural consequence of millions of white people for a number of generations turning their backs on their white brothers and sisters. Or if not that severe, they certainly did not take seriously the warnings of white nationalists who have been sounding the alarm for at least eighty years!

While we believe in a decentralized government, when it comes to building a movement and a political party that can achieve real success, we must think of centralization. Our people must unify themselves. Our party must centralize itself in the midst of a majority white population. We must pull like a magnet likeminded patriots to our cause and organize them in geographically viable areas – white areas. It is not a matter of letting the enemy have the rest of the nation, it is simply gathering the forces together, building momentum, branching out and then under God's guidance, taking our entire nation back.

There is no retreat to the hills. There is no giving up huge sections of our country. There is no turning our back on our white brothers and sisters in the outermost regions of this land. There is an organic – yet strategic gathering of white families – to white areas – to educate, work, organize, fellowship, live, grow, reproduce, and serve as the pillars of a new society of white Christian America under the banner of the Ku Klux Klan, by which we will win back our whole country!

PARTY PHILOSOPHY

We are all aware there are a growing number of people who are becoming angry with the betrayal of our political leaders. And while there may be a few of us who would quickly label this betrayal as treason we find little comfort in knowing that treason will never prosper because as Sir John Harrington stated the reason treason will never prosper is because if treason prosper - None dare call it treason!

But treason is treason no matter what you call it!

It is no light task that calls us together and the contest for the future liberty of our children is fervent in our mind and heavy upon our hearts.

Our enemies hate those who stand for righteousness

- Because you love your Christian heritage, they call you a bigot
- Because you love your racial family, they call you a hater
- Because you want to preserve a future for your children, they call you prejudice
- Because you want to keep our culture, they call you narrow minded
- Because you want to protect our border from the flood of illegal aliens they call you a racist
- If in fact it is something so simple as to say that you prefer to be around White people, they want to demonize you!

But their name calling doesn't change what we know. They have neither facts nor history on their side.

I know that there are many people who are holding out for hope, hope that they believe will come from the Republican Party. I have met Klansmen who are deceived into believing that it is imperative for some conservative to win the November election so that the scalawag Democrat will be kicked out of the presidency. These people are really angry with the Marxist politics of the liberal politicians and are committed to the work of insuring that conservatives are elected to public office.

For example, over twenty years ago, back in 1996, they presented to us a man touted as the conservative leader of traditional America, Bob Dole. I know that among Klan members there is great contempt for the liberal policies of the Democratic Party. I know that there are American veterans that say there is no way they would ever vote for a Democrat. I know that many of these veterans have great admiration for some Republican leaders, but I want you to understand that we are left with no national political leadership. Even Trump has his hands tied by a cowardly congress.

I want you to understand that if we are going to give our children a future then we need to look into our own hearts and into the resources that reside in us to find the strength and the courage to build a grass roots movement that can challenge the establishment of power that now rules over us.

I want you to understand that it is morally wrong to vote for the lesser of two evils. Voting for the lesser of two evils is like trying to decide which of two intruders into your home you will support in the rape of your daughter. If two men break into your home, is there really such a thing as one being the lesser of two evils. If two men attempt to rape your daughter or molest your son, would you help one of them in the performance of their evil deed because he would be the lesser of the two evils? Is there really such a thing as the lesser of two evils when it is the intent of both to murder, rape and plunder?

Would it not be better to drive the intruders from your home? How many times must America be raped by the November Criminals, regardless if we call them Democrats or Republicans, before we commit ourselves to others who have not and will not betray us?

I know there are those in the racist movement who abhor the liberal socialist Democrats and so they support Republican "conservative" candidates. However, who was one of their main leaders in recent years? It was Bob Dole. Did Bob Dole work to preserve our heritage? Did he lift up the banner of our racial mission? Did he stand as the gauntlet between racial life and racial suicide? The answer is NO. He did not.

In fact, Bob Dole was the author of the Martin Luther King Holiday Bill. He supported fetal tissue research. The nerve of him to allow his tongue to speak of moral values while his ear becomes deaf to the cries of torment screaming out of the tiny lungs of every aborted baby! It was Bob Dole who supported the anti-2nd amendment Brady Bill which is making criminals out of law abiding citizens who choose to own guns. And it was Bob Dole that sold out American industry and the American worker through his efforts to secure the passage of the North American Free Trade Agreement and the GATT treaty which has harnessed us to the World Trade Organization. Now, thanks to Bob Dole all of our foreign trade is regulated by people in Geneva Switzerland through the World Trade Organization.

We now are closer to the new world order because of people like Bob Dole.

What about the latest slate of candidates? Many stood up against the policies of Obama. They cited numerous reasons why Obama was bad for the nation. But did anyone dare criticize Obama because his policies promote white genocide? No.

They will speak out about illegal immigration, but in the same breath will grovel by saying that immigration is okay as long as it is legal. They don't care that the white people of this country are being overrun not just by illegal immigrants, but also by legal non-white immigrants.

Asian immigrants are spilling over into this nation. They are not sneaking across the border! They are being allowed to come here. And many a Republican has backed measures to increase non-white laborers due to an alleged agricultural labor shortage or healthcare worker shortage.

To those who say the Republicans are the lesser of two evils, I ask, how can you tell?

The election of Obama to a second term was a watershed moment in American history and one that should have every white person shaking their head.

Commentators have spoken about this election being a final proving ground for the absence of barriers to non-whites. Now there is no stopping them. The Latinos (most notably the non-white portion of the group) are now a coveted voting block and their political courtship will only grow. And it's not just blacks or Latinos, but it's almost a given that if you are non-white you were in the Obama camp. It was a race issue.

What this election came down to was a show of rejection for white Christian America and the principles upon which the nation were founded.

This is something that some Republican strategists are already banking on in regard to their final show of disloyalty to whites. As with any true huckster, it's not the values that are important, rather it's the winning.

Michael Cooper writing for the New York Times:

"John Weaver, a Republican strategist who worked on the presidential campaigns of Senator John McCain and Jon M. Huntsman Jr., has long argued that the party's reliance on the votes of older white men was putting it on a demographically unsustainable path.

“We have a choice: we can become a shrinking regional party of middle-aged and older white men, or we can fight to become a national governing party,” Mr. Weaver said in an interview. “And to do the latter we have to fix our Hispanic problem as quickly as possible, we’ve got to accept science and start calling out these false equivalencies when they occur within our party about things that are just not true, and not tolerate the intolerant.”

Matthew Dowd, who was a top adviser in the re-election campaign of President George W. Bush, said on ABC’s “Good Morning America” that the Republican Party had become a “Mad Men’ party in a ‘Modern Family’ America.”

And Mark McKinnon, another former strategist for President Bush and Mr. McCain, argued that the party “needs messages and policies that appeal to a broader audience.”

“This election proved that trying to expand a shrinking base ain’t gonna cut it,” Mr. McKinnon said in an e-mail. “It’s time to put some compassion back in conservatism. The party needs more tolerance, more diversity and a deeper appreciation for the concerns of the middle class.” End Quote

Perhaps this isn’t alarming to everyone, but I think it quite obnoxious to find these Republican strategists to be so degrading to the older white men and their no doubt equal disregard to older white women. Is that how we want to view what many have referred to as the “greatest generation?”

The election showed white Christian America that there is wide spread disdain for their traditional values. It is after all, as Obama has stated many times, a new America.

Where will white families fit into this new America? Will the minority voting-block backed by white ultra-liberals care what happens? And remember, that while white voters made up 72% of the electorate, this included those discounted elderly white people. If you think the demographic shift is scary now, wait about ten or fifteen years. The white electorate is about to shrink like never before. As a last gasp for air they have tried to assert themselves via Trump.

A NEW GOP?

The entire election here in the U.S. and the growing hatred against traditional families along with the changing racial demographics showcase what we have been saying for decades. Our national director, Pastor Thomas has stated it for over forty years, “white people are in danger.”

We (and I am including all western Christian nations) are on the receiving end of a unified worldwide hatred. Our nations have opened the doors to millions of third world immigrants. We have clothed, fed, and educated the world and instead of “thank you” we hear “entitlement” and “give us more.”

However, it’s more than the lack of appreciation or the rising taxes used to feed and police the world. It isn’t just about the economy. It is about the displacement of the white race and according to the Geneva Convention it is called genocide.

Genocide sounds extreme, yet it is happening. We are near zero population growth worldwide and it seems too many that our demise couldn't happen quickly enough. The Republican Party sure isn't going to help and its leadership is looking to a new support base and willing to dump their core values. It is about winning a game. As Meghan McCain said the morning after Obama was elected to a second term as she co-hosted with the out homosexual Anderson Cooper in a town hall meeting in regard to appealing to the non-white vote, "I want to starting winning cause I love my party."

Blah, Blah, Blah! I would like to hear someone say, "I love America." Or how about loving the children of the founding fathers and mothers. What about the novel idea of cherishing the ideals of race, faith, and nation that made America so great.

Even saying "Make America Great Again" is enough to get one labeled a racist or potential terrorist. What is evident is that while national politics is clearly in the bag for ultra liberals and non-whites, there is a strong base of support for traditional America. You can find pockets of it in the rural areas of the west and east coasts and in large measures throughout the heartland of America. This is the population that the Democrats have ignored and that the Republicans have been slowly moving away from in their game changing analysis. As mentioned previously, the March 2010 issue of Time Magazine called this the "white anxiety" crisis and among the top 10 issues of the next few generations. This is a time to refocus on local politics. We cannot compete with the sprawling non-white urban areas. We can, however, educate and strengthen the core constituency. This is what will keep a final genocide against our children (already a minority) from becoming a reality.

This is the time for all good men and women to consider what is really at stake. It isn't just about the house, the car, or the boat. It is about the life or death of the white race. Does that sound dramatic and overly cautious? It should, because the change is going to be dramatic and we fear for the safety of this nation and the children of the Republic.

If you are sincere about seeking to provide a future for your children then you need to take the first step and realize that those who now rule over us regardless of how they label themselves have more than once proven either their treason against our heritage or at the very least their inability to properly safeguard it.

If America is going to have the bright sun of liberty shine upon its fair shores, then the hope of that bright day will not come out of the Republican and Democratic war rooms, but will come out of the heart and the blood of those who hold high our banner.

My white brothers and sisters, the future of America comes from your heart, the strength of America comes from your blood.

Though family ties may run deep in a particular party, you need to reconsider your support. The old parties must give way to a new one.

The Knights Party - of the Ku Klux Klan is the last hope for America. And to claim that victory I am asking you to give your life to this struggle. There is nothing more important. Absolutely nothing!

The Apostle Paul said for us not to become entangled with the things of this world. We cannot let worldly pleasure and pursuits distract us from our Christian responsibility to our race, faith, and homeland.

The revival of our nation and our people must be our ultimate obsession.

There are those who would reduce us under absolute despotism. Only by our fanatical opposition shall we destroy their evil intent. Only by our fanatical zeal shall we grasp the cup of victory from their claws of death.

The fanaticism of the left can only be defeated by a greater fanaticism from the right.

No Compromise!

We must not allow compromises with those that seek to kill our unborn.

No compromise with those who will corrupt the minds of our children.

No compromise with those who seek to teach that homosexuality is simply an alternate life style.

No compromises with those who permit the flooding of our nation with illegal aliens.

No compromise with those who insult the integrity of our history. No compromises with those who seek to miscegenate our blood. No compromise with those who humanize our Christian faith.

No compromise with those who seek to rob us of our heritage.

No compromise with those who would destroy the sovereignty of our homeland.

The Republican Party once likened itself to a big tent that has room for ALL Republicans. It makes no difference what your personal philosophy may be. It makes no difference if you are pro-life or pro-abortion. It makes no difference if you are Christian or Jewish. It makes no difference what race you are or how you may believe on any other issue.

Everyone is welcome under the big tent of the Republican party.

My white brothers and sisters, we have a tent too. But, let me tell you something. Baby killers are not welcome in our tent! Queers are not welcome in our tent! Those who promote race-mixing are not welcome in our tent! Those who welcome the flood of illegal aliens into our homeland are not welcome in our tent. And those who betray our national sovereignty are not welcome in our tent.

Is that extreme?

Certainly!

Is that fanaticism?

ABSOLUTELY! The Republican and Democratic parties are not parties of honor. They are not parties of commitment. They are not parties of character and they are not parties of principle. These parties are no more honorable than an inner city gang. Their political platform will change from one election to another.

Conservative talk show hosts (name any of them), somehow believe that conservatism can be reestablished by a multi-racial voting base. They are wrong!

Republicans in California might have a totally different philosophy than the Republicans in Ohio. In fact, the philosophy of a candidate will often change from one election to another or from one section of the country to another. It is the same with the Democrats.

Neither the Republican Party nor the Democrat Party has a true ideology.

The only common thread that unites them all is their willingness to sacrifice their beliefs for the good of the party.

Political campaigns between Democrats and Republicans are nothing more than sophisticated gang warfare, a fight over turf. Which gang will control the turf of a city, state or the nation? Which gang will control the turf of the senate and which gang will control the turf of the congress?

Consider this:

A quiet transformation is taking place in the Republican Party, which has begun to embrace openly gay candidates – and among gay Republicans, who now feel more comfortable speaking out in a party that may have accepted them but didn't always show it.

While differences still exist, the party is on the cusp of a generational shift in which the longtime foes of gay rights are replaced by younger party leaders who are more accepting. Donald Haider-Markel, a political science professor at the University of Kansas and the author of “Out and Running: Gay and Lesbian Candidates, Elections and Policy Representation,” said there’d been a shift in the Republican Party in the past decade.

“The party overall has been more open to gays and lesbians,” he said. “And gay and lesbian candidates have been more supported.”

Zach Wyatt, a Republican state representative in Missouri, said gay Republicans needed to have a conversation with members of their own party.

“If you don’t say anything, they’re going to think they’re going the right way all the time,” he said. Surrounded by colleagues from both parties at a news conference earlier this month, Wyatt, a 27-year-old Air Force veteran, denounced Republican-sponsored legislation that would have prohibited public schools from discussing sexual orientation in the classroom, which was known in Missouri and other states as a “don’t say gay” bill. But Wyatt wasn’t finished. In the same news conference, he came out, making him the only openly gay Republican state legislator in office in the country. “Members of my own party and members on the other side say it’s interesting how the mindset is changing,” Wyatt said.

Obama’s announcement of support for Gay “marriage” is a reminder that Democrats historically have come to support gay-rights causes ahead of Republicans, leading a generation of lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender voters to identify strongly with the party. At the same time, social conservatives who opposed gay rights came to dominate the Republican Party, making it difficult for gay Republicans to speak up. But as social issues have become secondary to economic and national security issues, gay Republicans are finding their voice. The last Republican National Convention included high profile homosexual speakers.

To be sure, Democrats don’t always vote in favor of gay rights. When the House of Representatives voted in December 2010 to end the military’s ban on openly gay service members, 15 Democrats voted to keep it. Meanwhile, an equal number of Republicans in the House and eight in the Senate voted to end the “don’t ask, don’t tell” policy.

A CBS/New York Times poll conducted found that 46 percent of Republicans supported legal recognition for same-sex couples. Among all Americans, 62 percent supported either marriage or civil unions for same-sex couples, the poll found, while 33 percent favored neither. Illustrating the generation gap, 70 percent of 18- to 44-year-olds supported either marriage or civil unions, while only 55 percent of respondents 45 and older did. Many young Republicans have voiced support for British “conservative” Milo Yianoppolous; a flamboyant Jewish homosexual.

When Obama made the announcement, Republican leaders didn't say much. Instead, they kept their focus on what unites the party: fixing the economy and defeating Obama. In 2017, GOP leadership blasts Trump for attempting to curb immigration - even if only a little. And they call on him to denounce white people who simply want to defend their history.

Beliefs, ideals and principles are all sacrificed for the good of the gang so that their gang can fly their colors over the turf. The issues of Abortion, queers, illegal aliens, free trade, etc can all be sacrificed if that is what is needed to insure the colors and the gang signs of the elephant or the donkey can be displayed over the turf.

We seek company with those who love America in their hearts and not in words only!

Is that extreme?
Certainly!

Is that fanaticism?
ABSOLUTELY!

If you are a member of The Knights then we expect your loyalty and that you will work diligently in this gigantic effort to take back America.

The Knights Party has a platform that does not change. We have a true ideology that does not shift with every political wind that blows across the nation.

Our philosophy is simple. Our entire party is organized around the issue of race. We want to protect it and advance it. We do not want a white genocide. Every issue destroying our nation has at its root a racial premise. The race issue must dominate our thinking and it must be centered on a deep abiding love for our racial family and Christian faith as our motivating force.

WE SEEK LIBERTY

As an individual and as a nation – Liberty is what we seek.

Liberty is important. It is what allows us to be independent, if properly used. Liberty allows us to fully worship God in all areas of our life and with that worship comes more liberty.

Rather than being a bond servant, we are a free person or a free nation.

5 PRINCIPLES OF LIBERTY

1. The first principle of liberty is that of power and form – there must be a balance.

The external form of liberty results from an internal power.

For the external form to take place there must be an internal power.

2 Corinthians 3:17 says that “where the spirit of the Lord is – there is Liberty”

Reformationist John Calvin stated it very eloquently. “There are no doubt many countries, especially among those which the sun of Christianity has not yet illuminated, that are without civil liberty, and that groan under the arbitrary rule of powerful masters, but in order to be free outwardly, man must first succeed in being free inwardly.”

The Bible tells us to lead a balanced life and we must keep in mind that the same principle applies to the nation also.

Too much external form leads to tyranny and a big brother state controlling all our actions. Government attempts to control every aspect of our life for our own good.

In the process, our liberty runs dry, creativity is squelched, and excellence is looked down upon.

Too much personal liberty results in anarchy. An example of this would be the French revolution.

We are on the verge of anarchy in this country. Personal liberty is looked upon as the crowning achievement of the people. It is an “anything goes” mentality. Excesses and fetishes of all sorts are applauded and promoted. However, Christianity and the white man's law and order is viewed as the enemy of this new found liberty and is why it is under attack.

2. The second principle is that of individuality.

God created everything in the universe.

Christian Historian Rosalie Slater states:

“Everything in God’s universe is revelational of God’s infinity, God’s diversity, God’s individuality. God creates distinct individuals. God maintains the identity and individuality of everything which He created.”

Being allowed to be an individual and being given the encouragement to pursue our individual goals is important to us as people and as a nation.

Satan attempts to destroy this concept.

Those who promote Racial Reconciliation as it is called in the churches, or as we know it simply as race mixing, say they are trying to promote diversity. In reality they are trying to destroy diversity. They want one brown race of people.

Those promoting a global village work against the concept of individualism and competition. Within each of us is an innate desire to choose our own path. God wants to direct that path. Those who promote a world government want to direct our path and make our choices for us.

On the other hand, we should not worship individualism in itself.

Groups like the American Civil Liberties Union work to support the individual rights to the extreme.

Examples: Free speech – pornography – NAMBLA – Homosexual rights – polygamy – Chicken rights – animal rights – Tree rights.

It is out of control!

Our individual rights and our responsibility to the nation or society must be in balance. God is not the author of confusion. Satan is.

The Bible teaches what we call positive Christianity. It is the voluntary, yet commanded assistance to our fellow brothers and sisters. According to the law handed down to us from God through Moses, 9% of our increase or income was to be given to the government to be used for the people. 1% was to be given to the temple for religious use. Under a Christian government held accountable to God's governmental rules, everyone would equally give.

The progressive income tax that we are burdened under today is Communist it not Christian. Under Communism, wealthy people are forced to pay a higher percentage of their increase. The end result is that the very wealthy find loop holes and the expense then falls squarely upon the middle class. Those in poverty end up paying no tax. Then apart from the income tax, there are a thousand other various taxes that eat up people's money, no matter the income bracket.

God's law is fair. Everyone pays 10 %. 1% went to the land's religious instructors and ministers and the other 9% could be used for what the people needed. Today those needs would be perhaps schools, infrastructure, police departments, fire departments, care for those truly disabled, the widows, hospitals, etc.

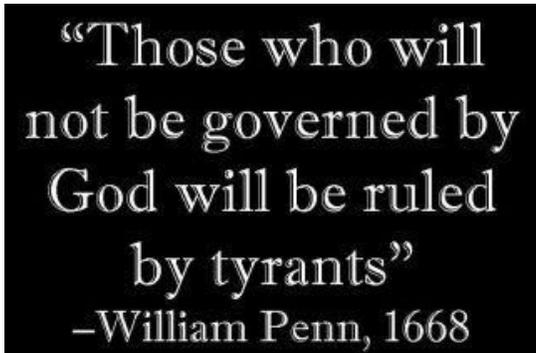

And let's not forget that a Christian government is forbidden to partake of a debt usury scheme as we see happening with the unlawful Federal Reserve System.

3. The Next Principle of Liberty is Self Government

National Self government must come from those who have learned inward self government. If a person can't properly manage their own life they should not be in a position of authority.

Look at those who hold public office. Their lives are often a mess and their families are shameful.

Yet we are told that it is none of our business what they do in the privacy of their own homes. Voters too often only think about what the politician will give them. What kind of payout is there? The person's character is ignored. Think back to Bill Clinton and the sex scandal. He has reached hero status to many. They think it's awesome he had relations with a much younger woman and that he got away with it. Never mind what we think of his wife Hillary. His adultery was laughed at and even admired.

“Those who will not be governed by God will be ruled by tyrants”
-William Penn, 1668

Under God's economic format the people's needs would be provided for. Constitutionally speaking our founding fathers understood that the power to coin money was vested in the people and their representatives. Under a Constitutional Republic, it would be difficult for people to vote in a greedy manner and there would be zero national debt. Still, it comes back to the ability to govern our own lives and our families well. When you have a nation made up of people who are of the same blood (white) and who are living every day in a positive Christian manner, society runs smooth, we experience peace, and our people are able pursue happiness and prosperity.

Many times we blame bureaucracy for hampering society, but in reality bureaucracy rises up in response to the habitual practice of people not policing their own lives. More and more laws appear to be needed to keep people acting in an orderly and civil manner.

For instance, we are often fed up with the EPA, the Environmental Protection Agency. Their rules and regulations have gotten out of control. But why are they there in the first place? They came into existence because dishonest businessmen behaved in a way that harmed people. In addition, what about the FDA, the Food and Drug Administration. Food manufacturers, especially those involved in meat packing were disregarding the health of the consumers; families. Is this Christian behavior? Is this practicing self government in a righteous way? No.

Government is not meant to be a babysitter. However, through our own lack of self-restraint coupled with the manipulation and deceit of non-Christian people and their influence into American government, society, education, and business, we are continually finding new things that we must protect ourselves from.

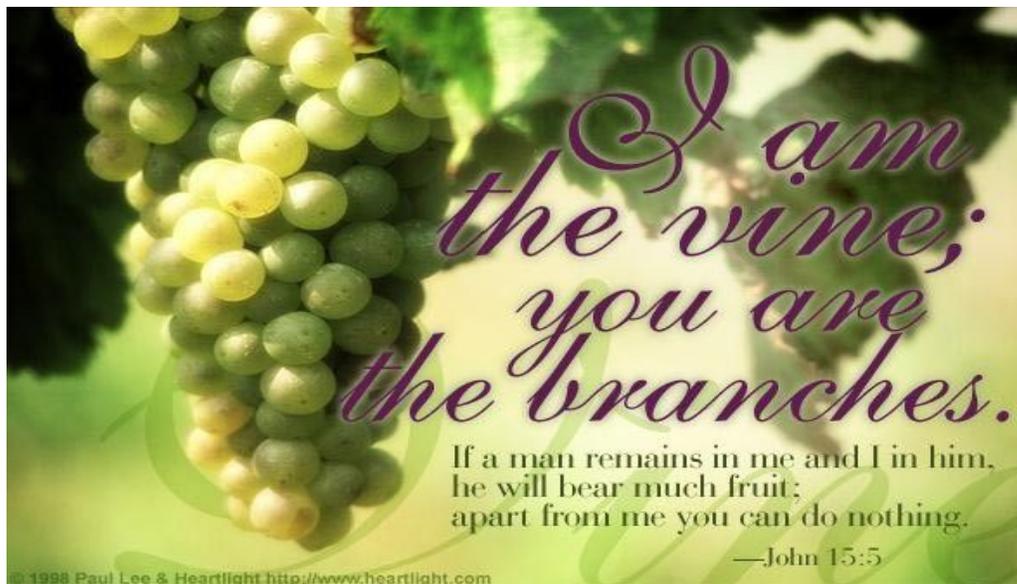

4. The 4th Principle of Liberty is Christian Character

Character means to stamp and engrave through pressure – that is what God wants to do in our lives.

In Romans 8:29 we are told that we are to be conformed to the image of God

The 15th chapter of the Gospel of John tells us that Jesus is the vine and we are the branches, and the father is the vine-dresser.

When we wish a tree to bear fruit we must take great care of it. If a branch does not bear fruit it is cut and eventually dries up and withers away.

If the branch bears fruit it is pruned or cut to help it grow more heartily and bear even more fruit.

The branches are pruned to produce fruit of both quantity and quality.

Either way, whether a fruitful branch or a barren branch, we are cut. We are faced with trials and God willing, we prevail much stronger and more in the image of God.

God is working in our lives to build character – to mold us into His image. We must be witnesses of Him to others.

Likewise, a nation is pruned so that it will become more Godly and an example to other nations.

When a nation loses its character and refuses to repent, it is often dealt harshly with. Turmoil and strife results.

These should be viewed as both punishments and warnings. We should thank the Lord that He is sending us strong signals that our nation has lost its character.

God still directs the path of America and our sister white nations.

During the fight for American Independence, our ancestors were patient and persistent, yet always active.

It was not a rebellion because the crown of England had ceased to have the right of authority over them. The war for Independence was a war between two nations.

All avenues were attempted at a peaceful resolution, but King George refused to recognize their right to petition.

Patrick Henry is well known for his statement, “give me liberty or give me death.”

But the first part of his speech is very enlightening. It shows that the fight for liberty had been a long and persistent battle and not just a short lived attempt.

In the first part of his speech to the Virginia Convention he said.

“Sir, we have done everything that could be done to avert the storm which is now coming on. We have petitioned – we have remonstrated – we have supplicated – we have prostrated ourselves before the throne, and have implored its interposition to arrest the tyrannical hands of the parliament. Our petitions have been slighted; our remonstrances have produced additional violence and insult; our supplications have been disregarded; and we have been spurned, with contempt, from the foot of the throne. In vain, after these things, may we indulge the fond hope of peace and reconciliation. There is no longer any room for hope. If we wish to be free...we must fight! I repeat it sir, we must fight! An appeal to arms and to the God of Hosts is all that is left us! Three million of people, armed in the holy cause of liberty. Are invincible by any force which our enemy can send against us. Besides, sir, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a just God who presides over the destinies of nations; and He will raise up friends to fight our battles with us. The battle, sir, is not to the strong alone; it is to the vigilant, the active, the brave..There is not retreat but in submission and slavery!”

Indeed the American people were patient and persistent.

But they had one thing going for them that warranted a successful outcome should they take up arms. The population was - without apology, Christian.

While not perfect – their homes and their communities were entirely dedicated to Christ and their dedication to His laws of nature – is proven in that they did not reject their birthright – they were a people of racial integrity. This was their greatness.

Even if some should decide that we have talked all we can talk and petitioned all we can petition – there is one huge obstacle in our way- our people are not ready – they have forsaken their birthright and have lost their racial integrity – at this point in time – They have not earned liberty!

We are here, all of us, as leaders, whether in our homes or in our communities or among our friends, to prepare the people so that they might remember and embrace their birthright and rightly deserve the liberty that Christ wants them to have.

Jesus raised Lazareth from the dead, but someone else rolled the stone away!

We are here to prepare the way.
It takes commitment
it takes persistence
It must start in our own life and extend outward.

CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP

The war effort for American Independence had the inspirational leadership of the colonial clergy. They became known as “The Black Regiment”) They wore their black pulpit gowns on the battlefield.

Successful fights for liberty by God’s people have always had the backing of men and women of God.

Consider our Israelite ancestors. God’s prophets would lead the armies into war to secure victory and to keep the troops focused on the righteousness and divine purpose of the battle. You may recall Moses on the hillside when they fought the Amalekites, lifting his hands in praise to God. And in Judges, Barack, the general of the armed forces, refused to battle against Sisera unless the prophetess Deborah led as God’s representative.

Regarding the War for Independence, Wingate Thornton in his book, “The Pulpit of the American Revolution” said, “Thus it is manifest, in the spirit of our history, in our annals, and by the general voice of the fathers of the republic, that, in a very great degree, to the pulpit, the Puritan pulpit, we owe the moral force which won our independence.”

Reverend Langdon, a preacher in the Black Regiment, recalls in his memoirs a deacon standing and addressing the congregation at the news that Rev. Langdon was leaving the church to offer his services to Washington’s army.

The deacon said, “Brethren, said he, our minister has acted right. This is God’s cause; and as in days of old the priests bore the ark into the midst of the battle, so must they do it now. We should be unworthy of the fathers and mothers who landed on Plymouth Rock, if we do not cheerfully bear what Providence shall put upon us in the great conflict now before us. I had two sons at Bunker Hill, and one of them, you know, was slain. The other did his duty, and for the future God must do with him what seemeth him best. I offer him to liberty.

Christian Character was at the center of the fight for Liberty

We must diligently work to govern our lives and to cheerfully accept the responsibilities given to us; to develop the character making us worthy of our calling.

5. And the final Principle of Liberty is Christian Education

This is the most important Principle of Liberty and the most unaccomplished principle.

None of the other Principles or steps toward Reformation and Liberty can be accomplished without Christian education.

Christian education tells us why we need Christ to be the center of our lives in order to obtain liberty.

It tells us the importance of individuality.

It explains why self government is necessary.

And how and why we should always strive for Christian character and to be more Christ like?

Noah Webster had this to say about education:

“The Christian religion is the most important and one of the first things in which all children, under a free government, ought to be instructed. No truth is more evident to my mind than that the Christian religion must be the basis of any government intended to secure the rights and privileges of a free people.”

We are to be educators, but educators of what?

Let me quote here from a German statesman: “When a man begins to fight for an economic interest, he avoids death as much as possible, since death would forever deprive him of his reward for fighting. Anxiety for the rescue of her own child makes a heroine of even the feeblest mother, and only the struggle for the preservation of the species and the hearth, or the state that protects it, has at all times driven men against the spears of their enemies.

This is exactly what is happening now. Hundreds of conservative groups are only concerned with the economy. Even many of the immigration protest groups are concerned largely about the effect on the economy.

When we look at the success of the large political parties, we see that most of their campaign ads are directed toward economic factors. It's not that these things aren't important.

- Federal reserve
- World monetary fund
- Foreign debt
- National deficit
- Outsourcing
- Depressed wages - We are now competing in a global economy where labor is the currency of value. Third world nations can supply more labor for less expense.

But for a man or woman to base their patriotic fight on economics; it is absurd!

If any white nationalist party in the entire world rises up and somehow seizes power, would it accomplish anything?

The answer is No. And it wouldn't last. Ultimately Christ wants us to know that He deeply and thoroughly cares for us and that He will always be our listener, lord, benefactor, healer, and loving authority. He wants Kingdom government established whereby we humble ourselves before Him and faithfully serve our white brothers and sisters. He has planned to spend eternity - a time that never ends - with His family. He wants to be a part of our nation; not just part, but sovereign.

And what are the basics of a strong family? It is authority and love. While these are shared by both parents of course, usually authority is thought of in the context of the father and love in the context of the mother.

Jesus Christ has based His family on both authority and love. He wants to show us the mercy and unwavering love He has for our people

Take a man's job away and he may panic or make the best of it. Somehow he'll survive. But don't take a man's family way from him. Take a mother's children from her and you have awakened a warrior!

The independent spirit of our forefathers built the framework of America. But the feminine spirit of our Christian foremothers built the homes and the communities through their God given compassionate hearts and influence. Together these two great principles, inspired by God, built America; Independence and compassion!

- Independence can grow to stubbornness and selfishness
- Compassion can be wrongly directed.

We have to reapply these traits to the betterment of our people.

Compassion must give rise to passion - passion for our folk. And then mold that with our independent spirit and move our program forward; reaching more and more potential followers.

In Isaiah 2:4 it says, “The law will go forth from Zion and He will judge between the nations, and will render decisions for many people; and they will hammer their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation will not lift up sword against nation, and never again will they learn war”

But what happens before this happens?

It is recorded in the preceding verse three. “Come and let us go unto the mountain of the Lord, that He may teach us His ways.”

And what ways must we teach? We must teach authority and resistance to wickedness.

John Locke an 18th century authority on common law stated there is a difference between express consent and tacit consent.

The word tacit means silent; implied, but not expressed. Tacit consent is consent by silence, or by making no objection.

When people make no objection to a particular government or opposition to certain unjust laws, then there is tacit consent - it is a voluntary surrender of natural rights.

The preachers of today often say that we are to give unto Caesar what is Caesars. This, they say, means that we are to obey all laws or the rule of law, whether or not we agree with it. This is not Biblical and is taken out of context

Our conscience is our personal property - but we forfeit our right to follow our conscience to act according to God's moral laws, when we give consent by our silence.

Governments exist to protect property - both external property and internal property.

Oppressive governments always take away our internal property before they take away our external property.

Our internal property rights must be safeguarded.

Noah Webster wrote: "The liberty of the press, trial by jury, the Habeas Corpus writ, even Magna Carta itself, though justly deemed the palladia of freedom, are all inferior considerations, when compared with a general distribution of real property among every class of people. Let the people have property and they will have power - a power that will forever be exerted to prevent a restriction of the press, and abolition of trial by jury, or the abridgment of any other privilege. The liberties of America, therefore, and her forms of government, stand on the broadest basis."

Family is the most simple yet most important form of government. It has a King (husband) a Queen (wife) and subjects (children).

When the white Christian families known as the Pilgrims came to America they knew that it was part of the Dominion Mandate of God. God had also allowed them to undergo much tribulation. They came seeking liberty of conscience - private internal and external property under the authority of the Dominion Mandate

We need law and order and to practice authority. Practice by taking authority over your own life. The dominion mandate is the birthright and responsibility of the white race.

John Locke wrote in his treatise Of Civil Government:

"For men being the workmanship of one omnipotent, and infinitely wise Maker: all the servants of one Sovereign Master, sent into the World by His Order, and about His business, they are His property, whose Workmanship they are, made to last during His, no one another s Pleasure."

Samuel Adams who has been called the father of the American Revolution warned of "internal invaders."

He said "A general Dissolution of Principles and manners will more surely overthrow the liberties of America than the whole fore of the common enemy. While the people are virtuous they cannot be subdued; but when once they lose their virtue they will be ready to surrender their liberties to the first external or internal invader. If virtue and knowledge are diffused among the people they will never be enslaved. This will be their great security."

Galatians 5: verse 1 "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage."

Don't be a slave to the world – its philosophy and its attitudes.

- Be free.
- Be a Soldier for Christ.
- Be an Educator for Christ!
- Be a leader for Christ!

Our children and our nation are worth our every effort. Pray for guidance and forever be diligent and persistent!

Why The Knights Party is the last hope for America!

We are the last hope for America, because we have a Christian foundation. From its very inception The Knights Party has embraced the gospel of Jesus Christ. From out of the churches of the south the Klan gathered its strength and realized its mandate.

As members of the Klan we should always be mindful of the scriptural admonition in Proverbs 3:5-6 which states, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and learn not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him and he shall direct thy path."

We must continually remind ourselves that our message is meaningless and our voice as an empty echo if we do not acknowledge the Lordship of Jesus Christ. We are only a vessel proclaiming the message of hope and deliverance, which can only come through a national revival. While we proclaim that The Knights is the last hope for America, it is Jesus Christ who is the message and He is our deliverance. We are only a vehicle which is placed in His hand to be molded into a tool for national revival.

- 1. The Knights Party is the last hope for America because we stand on a Christian foundation. Others may promote the "white cause" but we understand that Christ must be the center.
- 2. The Knights Party is the last hope for America because we are courageous and we have proven ourselves! The Knights Party has held hundreds and hundreds of rallies. Our leadership has been attacked and beaten during rallies and jailed for holding "unauthorized" press conferences.
In 1996, the decision was made to take our "rallies" to the internet. Our street activity proved our bravery, but now a better way to reach our people became evident after launching our website in 1995 and reaching more people than we ever could via public demonstrations.

However, we are always looking forward and as the enemy begins to restrict free speech via the internet, we are prepared and experienced in the art of street demonstrations.

3. The Knights Party is the last hope for America because we have faith in our ultimate victory.

Reporters often ask how we can expect to win when we are looked upon as an aberration and as extremists.

The fact that we are looked upon as extremists is not a handicap. It is a plus! It is the very reason why we can win this battle for the future of America.

Finally, the American people will have a choice. As the betrayal of our people and our institutions and our faith become more and more evident, we must point the way. The American people will not want another shade of gray. It is because that is exactly what they are getting from the Republicans and Democrats; just different shades of the same gray. And those political parties which have sprung up in the racist movement have adopted a failing strategy.

We are the extreme. We offer our people a bright light, a blue sky and a straight path. We are the extreme and therefore we are the natural choice of those who will come out of the gray clouds of political treason.

My brothers and sisters, we are not promising you a better world -we are asking you to fight for one.

4. The Knights Party is the last hope for America because we are the extreme and we offer our people extreme politics.

Do you realize what you have? Power!

The Knights Party is the last hope for America because we have shown time and time again that we truly love our people.

Some think it's too late - that it's over. But we are here to tell you it's not over until we win!

You know why? It is because this country belongs to our children.

You know why, because this is OUR country - it belongs to us. I know that there are a lot of people who are afraid of the FBI, ATF, U.N. Troops or the latest betrayal of our national leaders and think that it is hopeless - But I'm not going to let them steal my dream.

I've a got a dream and I'm not going to let anybody steal this dream from me. I'm not going to let a reporter steal this dream from me. I'm not going to let Hollywood or television steal this dream from me. I'm not going to let liberals or conservatives steal this dream from me. I'm not going to let negative people steal this dream from me and I'm not going to let those who are fearful or cowardly steal this dream from me.

Many, even among those who are aware of the hatred against us, have given up. They think that all is lost and that a death decree is about to be played.

But perhaps I am only a dreamer, but I don't hear a death march.

The enemy seeks to destroy us. If we are to be victorious than the solution is simple - we must legally destroy them before they destroy us!

There are reasons why conservatives cannot win.

Victory in any struggle will always go to the one that is prepared to make the greatest sacrifice.

The very nature of our enemies and their very objective is one of a being a revolutionary. It is their desire to tear down our nation and institutions and replace it with their own regime.

The accomplishment of this goal has been almost totally brought about.

The radical leftists of the 60's are now the ones in power today. And the conservatives of today would be classified as liberals a generation ago.

The shift in our politics continually moves to the left. Why is this? It is because conservatives have no solid rock to stand upon. Like the shifting sand their platform is always being blown about by the wind.

The Bible says we shall not adulterate our blood, but the alien races and the modern churches say we evolved into different races only after the tower of Babel (which is Christian endorsed evolution) and uniting as one physically and spiritually is a testament to our love of God's creation.

The Bible says, thou shall not murder, but the alien races and the churches advocate murder and the ending of life each and every time they give their stamp of approval to an interracial couple, thus ending the life line of a thousand generations.

Matthew 7:24-27

Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

We've all heard this parable and many have learned the song. Most liken this story to the need for Christ in our life and this is true, but let's look at the word "house." This word can mean a residence as in a brick and mortar house. But in the Greek it also means family and temple.

This country was built upon racial purity and founded as a temple to God. That this was founded as a white Christian country there is no doubt.

This country was founded on the rock of Jesus Christ.

That our constitutional Bible based government has been usurped by an alien flood there is no denying.

Floods and water are often symbolic of alien heathen people and if we are not based upon racial purity and Kind after Kind our house will not withstand the alien flood that attempts to pull us down.

LIVING IN 1984

In George Orwell's novel, "1984," he describes a futuristic world in which the people are controlled by a tyrannical government. The government Orwell describes is not a Republican form of government, but a government ruled by self-chosen elites. These elitists (not unlike most politicians today) felt it was their duty to rule the lives of the common people and decide what was best for them.

Within this government, the leader is known as Big Brother. The people are taught from little up that Big Brother is there to protect them – which Big Brother will take care of their every need. Hence, the people don't need to worry about anything. That is why Big Brother is there. Big Brother becomes symbolic with the government and the government is there to protect the people who aren't smart enough to take care of themselves.

George Orwell describes a world in which the government changes history so it will better match the thinking of the day. It becomes apparent, "Whoever controls the present controls the past, and whoever controls the past, controls the future." The government in 1984 achieves this by rewriting the history books and literally creates a society without a history, or at least without a valid, accurate history. Thus a people without a history are a people without a future. Big Brothers must impose his own history upon the people. It dictates what the people can say by making it a crime to say forbidden words, and more frightening; people are monitored to determine if they may even have forbidden thoughts.

In the novel, the main character, Winston, discovers something is wrong, he can feel it, he can see it, but somehow, most others can't. There are some, but they are few in number, and are considered abnormal and an "enemy" because they have incorrect thoughts and ideas. Perhaps Orwell was reflecting upon the words of the late Soviet Dictator Joseph Stalin who stated, "Ideas are more dangerous than guns. We do not allow people to own guns, why should we allow them to have ideas."

The American people are being conditioned to frown upon "politically incorrect ideas" in preparation for a world ruled by Big Brother and the vast majority is blindly unaware. I do not want to alarm people or create fear in their hearts so that they are reluctant to continue in their efforts of bringing revival to White Christian America, but we need to be aware that "1984" is upon us.

As Big Brother works to change history books, Orwell's "star" Winston states, "This process of continuous alteration was applied not only to newspapers, but to books periodicals, pamphlets, posters, leaflets, films, sound tracks, cartoons, photographs-to every kind of literature or documentation which might conceivably hold any political or ideological significance. Day by day and almost minute by minute the past was brought up to date. The largest section of the Records Department, far larger than the one in which Winston worked, consisted simply of persons whose duty it was to track down and collect all copies of books, newspapers, and other documents which had been superseded and were due for alterations....Books, also were recalled and rewritten again and again, and were invariably reissued.”

This is upon us today. We see our history being rewritten and not only do we see the past being changed to conform to the political correctness of the day, but we see this change occurring right in front of our eyes.

One example is the famous firefighter picture scene at the World Trade Center in which three firefighters are raising the flag. The actual photo shows three white firemen hoisting up the American flag. But now a monument is being built at ground zero, in which a white, Mexican, and a Negro is hoisting up Old Glory. Future generations will come and mistakenly believe the exact opposite of the truth.

All through the South, Confederate monuments and Confederate flags are being torn down in an effort to orphan our children from the historic struggle of their ancestors. The Bonnie Blue flag and even the Texas flag is being questioned because they also represent the pride of millions of people for their cherished past. Washington and Jefferson are under attack and the American flag is hated by many refugees and non-white immigrants.

History books are being rewritten in order to make history more politically correct. In New Jersey the study of the founding fathers is no longer required. William Perry, the discoverer of the North Pole is no longer credited for doing anything more than being lucky enough to bring along his black servant, Matthew Henson, which is now listed as the co-discoverer of the North Pole. In fact, Henson’s body has been removed from its former burial plot and reburied in Arlington National Cemetery with a head stone reading, Co- discover of the North Pole.

In an Indiana school, a mural which depicts major events in Indiana history, displayed Klansmen having a cross lighting. The school was ordered to take it down because it offended some of the non-white students.

Thomas Jefferson, one of our greatest Founding Fathers, has been slandered by the “Big Brother” crowd of having had a sexual affair with Sally Hemings, a black slave, and producing mulatto children. Yet, the overwhelming opinion of all historical scholars claims that it simply never happened, rather an uncle did have relations with black women. But of course, Jefferson and his uncle would have similar DNA so Jefferson who was solidly against race mixing, is trashed before this generation of young people.

Those who reject the new proven teaching of “Big Brother” historians will perhaps be considered dangerous to the peace and tranquility of society.

Far-fetched? No! It is already happening.

Dr. Leonard Jeffries, one time chairman of the Black Studies Department at City College of New York stated, "To make Washington and Jefferson out to be a freedom-loving people, you've got to be joking." Jeffries was a consultant to the task force appointed by New York's education commission that recommended sweeping changes in school curriculum that would eliminate teachings that favored the legacy of European culture.

The New York State task force has stated that teaching history from a European viewpoint (Euro centrism) has created a "terrible damaging effect" on non-White children, while at the same time have given White children "inappropriate encouragement" to believe that European culture is somehow superior to the culture of others such as African or Asian.

At one time, Martin Luther King, Jr. was known by millions to be Communist sympathizer, with ties to over 60 communist organizations. He promoted the destruction of a White Christian Culture in lieu of a multiracial nation that did not recognize the intent of our Founding Fathers. Now, we have a national holiday for King when in fact there is not another single American honored with a holiday. For those who want to point out Washington's Birthday or Lincoln's birthday we must be reminded that neither of these men has a national holiday honoring their achievements. "President's Day" is a national holiday to honor presidents Lincoln and Washington collectively.

Children are presented a distorted image of King. He is admired as a great man without being taught of his Communist connections, The vast majority of Americans don't even realize that his FBI files, in which the FBI spied on him for many years, has been sealed by a federal judge until 2027. A new generation will be raised without knowing the past and in all retrospect, won't care because history has been rewritten.

Names of streets are changed to Martin Luther King, Jr.; rivers are changed from Squaw River or other Indian names because it may offend the Indians, Native-Americans, or whatever name they are supposed to be called. Songs are changed such as the beloved, "Oh Black Joe," to "Old Poor Joe," because it offends Negroes. The Louisiana song, "My Dixie" has been changed because it states, "Black..." We could go on forever. As George Orwell stated in 1984, "day by day and almost minute by minute the past was brought up to date." The statues of Teddy Roosevelt, Joan of Arc, and Mt. Rushmore are under threat of removal. In the novel, "1984," the worse department of the government was the "Thought Police." A person could be prosecuted for their thoughts. George Orwell writes, "It was terribly dangerous to let your thought wander when you were in any public place or within range of a telescreen. The smallest thing could give you away. A nervous tic, an unconscious look of anxiety, a habit of muttering to yourself-anything that could carry with it a suggestion of abnormality. In any case, to wear an improper expression on your face was itself a punishable offense. There was even a word for it in Newspeak (the official language of the government): facecrime, it was called."

A few years ago at the University of Connecticut a student was suspended by the school for engaging in “Inappropriately directed laughter.

Many would laugh at the suggestion that we are today entering Orwell’s futuristic world of 1984. People in Orwell’s book were equally blinded.

Ask the man in Idaho who used the “N” word. He was charged with a “hate crime.” His wife, a reporter, was covering a football game for a local newspaper, and the black referee got upset with the reporter because she took his picture, he grabbed the camera from her, yanked the strap that was around her neck and pushed her to the ground. She hollered to her husband, and he came running to help her. Yelling at the black referee he used the terrible “N” word as he was pushing the referee off of his wife. The prosecutor did not charge the referee for assault or even battery, but instead charged the reporter’s husband with a hate crime because he used the “N” word.

At Indiana University, the university has an official policy that if a person makes a strange face or expression toward a non-white and that non-white feels uncomfortable, the student can be charged and dismissed from the university. If a person commits a crime against a non-white, and the prosecutor feels it was because of the person’s race, he will be charged with a hate crime, the sentencing can be enhanced.

The thought police are here.

There is a frightening similarity between the government of George Orwell’s novel, “1984,” and the government of today. The difference is Orwell’s novel is based on a government that is oppressive toward everyone. The government of today has become oppressive against those of European descent, the same people that built this country. That is why we see the names being changed, our monuments being torn down, history being rewritten, and words being regulated.

Today, we are living in a culture in which the government, our political leaders, and even our so-called church leaders have animosity and hatred toward our people. That is why there is an aggressive attempt to destroy everything that will remind our people of their glorious past. But as sons and daughters of God we have a duty to ourselves, a duty to our forefathers, and a duty to our children to continue to be missionaries in order to proclaim a message of hope and deliverance for White Christian America. We are not here to hate anyone; we are here to love our people and to be a beacon of light to those who are searching.

Just as Winston in “1984,” we know something is wrong when we look at what is happening around us; however, it is our duty to be the lighthouse in stormy weather sending a signal to our people that American is in distress.

How is the Foundation of Conservatism and Communism the same?

Conservatives base their political theory on Capitalism
Communists base their political theory on Collectivism
Both Are Based on MONEY NOT PEOPLE!

Both are based on economics.

International elitists want us to keep equating capitalism with free enterprise. The truth is that free enterprise is 180 degrees-opposite of capitalism. Capitalism is an economic system which can only survive by fleecing the people while moving all wealth to private bankers and their lackey corporations.

Patriots to this day are repeating this error which is promoted as ardently as the lie of worthless bank credit being real debt which must somehow be "repaid."

Capitalism is NOT free enterprise and it is NOT the Free Market

Question: on what foundation must it be built?

Answer: RACE! Not Money!

In the Bible Jesus talks about two great sins that would fall upon our people. What are they? The two great sins are race mixing and homosexuality. Nature has dictated that every child is born with two distinguishing features, what are they and how do they relate to the sins that Jesus spoke of in the Bible? It is race and gender and our people are betraying both. Economics are important, but is not the basis of our struggle.

Let's take a quick look at some of the goals of Communism and compare these with the current state of America. Aren't the goals of the Communist Party being realized today? Do the Democrats and Republicans both support this agenda? Yes. And at the core of both philosophies, whether Communist/Marxist or Conservative economics is the central principle.

CHRISTIAN IS AT WAR

(Dmitrii Z. Manuilskii) (Lenin School of Political Warfare, Moscow, 1931)

"War to the hilt between communism and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in thirty or forty years. To win, we shall need the element of surprise. The Western world will need to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There shall be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate to their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

Karl Marx is said to be the founder of Communism. In addition we are told or led to believe that Communism is a political philosophy that ran its course between 1848 and 1989 and now it no longer exists.

The central point of Marxism is collectivism. The dictionary defines it as, "a political or economic theory advocating collective control, especially over production and distribution or a system marked by such control." In practice it is the confiscation of all property and the destruction (even by violence) of those who oppose the theft of their property.

A major tenant of Christianity is the right to personal and private property. Thus, an attack against religion in general and Christianity in particular is central to the Marxist philosophy and therefore their embrace of Atheism. However, it is not all that it appears. Atheism is in itself a religion. It centers on humanism. We are a law unto our self and there is no higher being but our own consciousness.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

It isn't so much that a person is knowingly a Communist as much as it is that a person knowingly or unknowingly supports programs which are communistic -which in itself is only a recent term. The foundation of "Communism" is what we call secular humanism – it is a rebellion against God. It is the attempt to remove God as the center of the universe and replace Him with man – it is the removal of God as the chief law giver and replacing His authority – Man will make his own law.

REBELLION AGAINST GOD

When the churches began to promote the teaching that God's law had no meaningful relevance to our lives they watered the seeds of secular humanism and gave power to the rebellion.

Let's look at some Communist objectives

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster. He was the national chairman of the American Communist Party from 1933 until 1957. He died in Moscow in 1961 and was buried with honors by the Soviet government. It was reprinted by Elgin press in 1961. Congressmen Francis Walter, chairmen of the House Committee on Un-American Activities wrote the forward. According to Congressman Walter, the book was too revealing and alarmed too many people so it was necessary to back away from its contents.

Let me quote from the introduction to the reprint. “Foster told too much. The international Communist conspiracy ordered him to repudiate his book. Red book-burners were sent out to destroy every copy of the work – in libraries, in bookstores, even in private hands. Today it is all but impossible to find a copy of the original.” NOTE: Pastor Robb has an original book.

This book says on page 326, “Not Christianity but Communism will bring peace on earth.”

Lenin said, ‘first, we will take Eastern Europe, then we will organize the hordes of Asia . . . then we will move on to Latin America; once we have Latin America, we won't have to take the United States, the last bastion of capitalism, because it will fall into our outstretched hands like overripe fruit.’

REPARATIONS

The Genius of Huey Newton – by Eldridge Cleaver /Black Panther Party Platform – 1966

Point 3 – “We want an end to the robbery by the Capitalist of our black community. We believe that this racist government has robbed us and now we are demanding the overdue debt of forty acres and two mules. Forty acres and two mules was promised 100 years ago as restitution for slave labor and mass murder of black people. We will accept the payment in currency which will be distributed to our many communities.”

World Trade Organization – Economic Summit

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster: “A Communist world will be a united organization world. The economic system will be one great organization.”

NAFTA – GATT and Free Trade

“In such a society there will be no tariffs or the many other barriers erected by capitalism against a free world interchange of goods.”

Taking away Local Control of Public Education

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 316

“Among the elementary measures the American Soviet government will adopt to further the cultural revolution are the following: the schools, colleges and universities will be coordinated and grouped under the National Department of Education and its state and local branches.”

General Attack upon Excellence

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 316

*“Present obsolete methods of teaching will be superseded by a scientific pedagogy.”
(method of education)*

OUT COME BASED EDUCATION

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 334

Quoting Stalin

“The principle of capitalist competition is defeat and death for some and victory for others. The principle of Socialist competition is, comradely assistance to those lagging behind, with the purpose to reach general advancement.”

Radical Feminist Movement

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 307

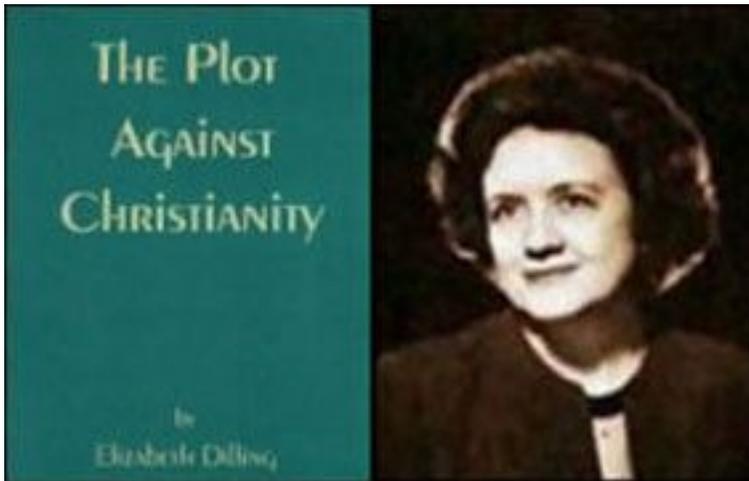

“The American Soviet government will immediately set about liquidating the elaborate network of slavery in which woman is enmeshed. She will be freed economically, politically and socially. The USSR shows the general lines along which the emancipation of woman will also proceed in a Soviet America.

“The Russian woman is free economically, and this is the foundation of her freedom. Every field of activity is open to her. She is to be found even in such occupations as locomotive engineer, electrically crane operator, machinist, factory director etc.”

Elizabeth Dilling – White Nationalist Hero

The great Anti-Communist Fighter (speaker, organizer, book author, Elizabeth Dilling noted after a trip to the Soviet Union in 1931 that the women there who were said to have been freed from economic oppression were the most oppressed of all. Young women and old women were forced to do the heavy work such as carrying heavy bricks, building railway track, and other jobs of body breaking drudgery. Home life was appalling with little food, wives and children abandoned by husbands who were told they weren't needed at home any longer, and a seven day work week with no time for self or children. Men began to view women as mere chattel for sexual pleasure – far from being “equal”. Abortion was epidemic due to abandonment, grueling work, and loss of economic prosperity. Six year old children were ragged, starving, and begging for cigarettes. Communism and its ideals said to help women only destroy women!

Elizabeth Dilling said, “Jews deplore the fact that no one with open eyes can observe a Red parade, a communist, anarchist, or radical meeting anywhere in the world without noting the prominence of Jewry.....The interracial idea is one of the strongest dogmas of Communism..It remained for Karl Marx to insist that agitation must not cease until the races and sexes be poured into one melting pot to be molded into one mass, as planned by Marx, not by God.”

Dilling was charged with sedition in the great sedition trial of 1944, in which the government tried to shut down white nationalists. The government lost. Her book, The Plot Against Christianity, is a must read for any serious patriot who wants well documented proof of the Jewish attack upon Christianity and white people everywhere. Her book, The Red Network, connected the dots between Communists and people employed by the government, including the state department. Several thousand copies were ordered by the FBI during their investigation of Communist infiltration.

Radical Feminist Movement and its Attack Upon the Institution of Marriage

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 308

“The Russian woman is also free in her sex life. When married life becomes unwelcome for a couple they are not barbarously compelled to live together. Divorce is to be had for the asking by one or both parties.”

Pornography

In 1972 Billy Graham met with Richard Nixon in the Oval Office of the White House; Nixon says, “We can’t talk about it publicly” stating that the media is “totally dominated by the Jews” and that of the network writers, “95% are Jewish.” Graham jumps in and says “That’s right, and they’re the ones putting out the pornographic stuff.”

Statements from the Babylonian Talmud -The Jewish Holy Book

“Who is a whore? Every non-Jewess is a whore” – Eben Haezara 6,8

“A non-Jewish girl who is three years and one day old may be misused.” – Abodah Sara 37a

“A Jew may do to women whatever he can do. He may treat her as he treats a piece of meat.” – Nedarine 20b

Is it any wonder that Martin Luther, founder of the Lutheran church, said: “You should know that the Jews blaspheme and violate the name of our Savior day for day . . .for that reason my lords and men of authority, should not tolerate but expel them,. They are our public enemies and incessantly blaspheme our Lord Jesus Christ and they call our blessed virgin Mary a harlot and her Holy Son a bastard.”

On page 36 of his book, The Jews and their Lies, he writes, “They are a heavy burden to us in our country, like a plague, pestilence and nothing but misfortune.”

Communists call for King Holiday

King supported Red China’s admission to the UN and said that Americans should “not engage in a negative anti-communism.” (Congressional Record May 2, 1967 p. H4973) Communists in the U.S. were told to rally behind King.

The U.S. Congressional Record of March 30, 1965 quotes Karl Prussian, a FBI counterspy inside the Communist Party. “At all of these Communist Party meetings Rev. Martin Luther King was always set forth as the individual to whom Communists should rally around.”

Upon the death of King, Henry Winston, National Chairman of the Communist Party, USA led a six men delegation to the funeral of King. The Soviet Union sent messages of sympathy as well. Memorial meetings took place all over the Soviet Union: factories, halls, and theaters – even Moscow University. Waldeck Rochet, general secretary of the French Communist Party sent his regards and Poland’s Communist paper the Worker sent condolences to Coretta King.

William Patterson, secretary of the Negro Department of the Communist Party, USA sent a telegram to Coretta King, wishing her the best: “Tonight we will join with all progressive mankind in expressing the deep pain and anguish at the monstrous assassination of your illustrious husband.”

Also in the Worker along with the article about the telegram was an article entitled, "Dr. King's Legacy – 'FULFILL IT! COMMUNISTS DEMAND.'"

What was it they wish to fulfill? The New York Post of July 1, 1958 interviewed King whom stated: "I'm sure that integration will lead to intermarriage."

William Z. Foster head of the Communist Party in the 1940's stated in his book, Toward a Soviet America, "The American Soviet will, of course, abolish all restrictions upon racial intermarriage.... The revolution will only hasten this process of integration."

Class Warfare (unequal taxation)

Communist textbook Psychopolitics: "The masses must at last come to believe that only excessive taxation of the rich can relieve them of the burdensome leisure class and can thus be brought to accept such a thing as an (progressive) income tax, a Marxist principle smoothly slid into Capitalistic framework . . . in the United States. This even though the basic law of the United States forbade it and even though Communism at that time had been active only a few years in the United States."

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 249 "The party fights against the monstrous tax burden being heaped from year to year upon the toiling masses and demands that this be shifted to the rich."

Government Regulations

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 290 "Naturally the American Socialist industry will be operated upon the basis of a planned economy."

Civil Rights

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 249 "The Party lays the utmost stress upon its demands for the Negroes. It demands full economic, political and social equality for them; it fights to eliminate the entire system of discrimination."

American Negro Problems (Workers Library Publishers 1928 – Forward -p39)

"The Communist is everywhere putting up a courageous fight for the full social and political equality of the Negro race."

Anti-Miscegenation Laws

Israel Cohen prominent Jewish writer and Communist theoretician stated in 1912, A racial program for the twentieth Century,

"We must realize that our party's most powerful weapon is racial tension. By pounding into the consciousness of the dark races that for centuries they have been oppressed by the whites, we can mold them to the program of the Communist Party. The terms colonialism and imperialism must be featured in our propaganda. In America, we will aim for subtle victory. While inflaming the Negro minority against the whites, we will endeavor to instill in the whites a guilt complex for their exploitation of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise to prominence in every walk of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige, the Negroes will be able to intermarry with the whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause.”

The Negroes in a Soviet America (Workers Library Publishers 1935) “Living in close contact and the mixing of peoples of all nations and all races will be encouraged, for this will hasten the destruction of all forms of separation passed down as a heritage from capitalism, will tend to freely amalgamate all people.”

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 305 “The American Soviet will, of course, abolish all restrictions upon racial intermarriage.”

God & Prayer taken out of the Schools

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 317 “The whole basis and organization of capitalist science will be revolutionized. Science will become . . . truly scientific. God will be banished from the laboratories as well as from the schools.”

Black Congressional Congress

American Negro Problems (page14) “It is permissible to form a united front, for example in the form of a Negro Race Congress.”

Hate Crimes

The Negroes in a Soviet America (Workers Library Publishers 1935) “Any act of discrimination or of prejudice against a Negro will become a crime.”

Toward Soviet America – 1932 William Z Foster, page 303 “Attempts to maintain the capitalist white chauvinism and ostracism of the Negroes will be punished as a serious crime.”

COMMUNISM BEFORE IT WAS COMMUNISM

People generally think of Communism as a form of government that existed in Russia from 1917 until 1989

Communism is only a modern name. But the ideals of Communism are very old and can be traced back into time.

1905 Jewish Encyclopedia – Under the heading of Socialism – It says: “Socialism – the theory of civil policy which advocates public collective ownership, production and distribution. Jews have been prominently identified with the modern socialist movement from its very inception.”

1871 Paris Commune of March-May 1871: the first time workers took state power – The Communist song, The Internationale was written to commemorate this event.

1864 Karl Marx helped form a revolutionary movement called the FIRST INTERNATIONAL

ILLUMINATI 1776 – Adam Wieshaupt a Jew with German citizenship

1791 French revolution organized by the Jacobin Society

Jews expelled from countries of Europe due to their treason

1727 Expelled from Russia and the Ukraine by Catherine The Great

1695 expelled from Sweden

1496 expelled from Portugal

1495 expelled from Lithuania

1492 expelled from Spain by the great Queen Isabella

1460 expelled from Austria

1394 another call to expel Jews from France

1365 expelled by Louis the Great from Hungary

1306 another call to expel Jews from France King Phillip IV

1283 Germany

1290 expelled from England

1254 Expelled from France Louis the IX

Many smaller communities did also

1423 from Cologne

1424 from Zurich

1438 from Mayer

1440 from Augsburg

1454 from Brunn, Olmutz and Capistrano

1458 from Erfurts

Neisse, Colmar, Passau, Bamberg, Aries, Geneva and many others

Prominent Jewish author Eli Savage in the Century Magazine stated, “We Jews are at the bottom of nearly all your wars, not only of the Russian, but of every other revolution in your history . . . we did it solely with the irresistible might of our spirit, with ideas and propaganda.”

One reason why the revolt against our people continues to grow year by year, month by month and moment by moment is because it is better financed. Those who support the cause of this rebellion support it with a greater degree of dedication and loyalty than those who claim to support liberty and our Christian values.

Why is that? It is because the basis of the revolt has always been Jewish and the nature of Jews is willing to promote their cause, while the nature of white people is not to support our cause – even when it is in their best interest to do so. Why? – it is found in the very fabric of their utopian dream. Their utopian dream is a classless society that exists for the benefit of the state. The state is all powerful and the individual is reduced to nothing.

This is not my theory; it is quite clear in all their teaching and propaganda. There are no individual rights of liberty, or property. Even life itself belongs to the state and all is to be sacrificed for the general good and welfare of the state.

Property ownership, profit, personal achievement and personal excellence are to be sacrificed for the general welfare of all.

The name for their society is collectivism. It is their nature. I cannot change it, you cannot change it and they cannot understand why we are against it.

However, in our mind individual freedom is of the highest order. We value self-government and individual responsibility. We value our property, we value our independence. In fact, we boast and glory in our rugged individualism.

Because we value our individualism and independence we have the attitude – every man for himself. When we make money, we do it for ourselves and to make our life better. Our individualism can be our strength, but if not properly balanced it can be our undoing!

However, when Jews make money, because of their collective communistic nature it is to advance their cause, their ideals, and their utopian dream and to increase their power.

For this reason millions of dollars are given from Jewish groups to liberal and left wing causes each year. Their enormous power of the purse has obtained power in the media, entertainment and government.

Because Jews are by nature collectivists, they are the founders of collectivist ideology and causes. Therefore they support multi-racial socialism and communism.

Joseph Kastein in "History and Destiny of The Jews" wrote "To the Greek, incapable of founding a community, everything was merely a question of form for the individual, or at best for a number of individuals; but the Jews immediately inquire how it affected the community as a whole."

The Jewish Chronicle in April 4, 1919 stated, "There is much in the fact of Bolshevism itself, in fact that so many Jews are Bolsheviks. The ideals of Bolshevism are consonant with many of the highest ideals of Judaism."

Jewish leader Bernard Baruch stated in the Knickerbocker Press August 8, 1918 "We are living in a highly organized state of socialism. The state is all; the individual is all important only as he contributes to the welfare of the state. His property is only his as the state does not need it. He must hold his life and possessions at the call of the state."

Preachers – Dogs that cannot Bark

King James

Isaiah 56:10-11 His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.

Christianity will be vehicle through which we will become Jewish Rabbi Martin Seigel gave a very prophetic quote in the 1972 Jan. 18 edition of New York Magazine. He said, "I am devoting my lecture in this seminar to a discussion of the possibility that we are now entering a Jewish century, a time when the spirit of the community, the non-ideological blend of the emotional and rational and the resistance to categories and forms will emerge through the forces of anti-nationalism to provide us with a new kind of society. I call this process the Judaization of Christianity because Christianity will be the vehicle through which this society becomes Jewish."

Preachers throughout America will relish in the notion that Communism is dead. Yet, they fail to tell their congregation that while the name of Communism may not be used any more, the ideals of Communism are alive and thriving worldwide. Furthermore, they are actually aiding the rise of Jewish/Communitistic ideals in the U.S. and other nations.

It is interesting that while Eastern Europe was under the heel of organized national Communism there was little miscegenation among the people. Yet, Communist organizers in the U.S. and Western Europe promoted it incessantly. They know that race mixing will break down society and to them this is a desired outcome.

Eastern Europe was conquered by force and race mixing was not needed to bring chaos to society. But because it was done by force and obvious to the people that it was an idea put upon them against their will – they rebelled. The takeover of Eastern Europe by organized Jewry failed.

However, in the U.S. and other white nations, the Jewish experiment of “friendly” takeover is proving to be a success.

First, the media outlets and entertainment industry was by and large acquired by Jews.

Second, the Christian publishing houses, seminaries, and colleges were inundated by Jews and Jewish ideas.

Thirdly, the educational system in which the ideas of successive generations are planted were attacked – Christianity removed – and in its place Humanism and Jewish ideas of collectivism and state control were supplanted.

We now have a nation of people virtually unaware of the silent war being waged upon them. Our nation is in chaos. Tolerance of sin is the new mantra being touted by the media, educational, and religious segments. Rather than a strong racially homogeneous Christian nation set upon one united goal of the furtherance of faith, race, and nation, we now have a nation riddled with internal strife, racial disharmony, atheism, homosexuality, abortion, etc. National repentance and a return to racial integrity and Christian principles is the only way to win the war at last.

How Jewish is Hollywood?

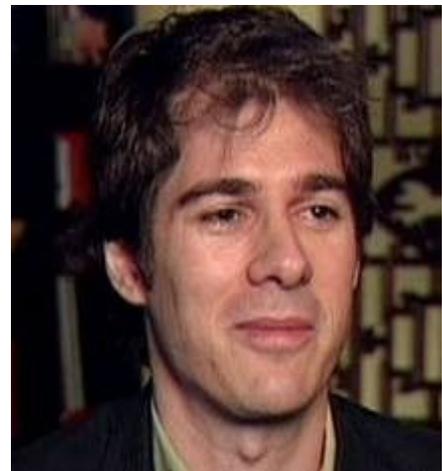

A poll finds more Americans disagree with the statement that 'Jews control Hollywood.' But here's one Jew who doesn't.

By Joel Stein

December 19, 2008

I have never been so upset by a poll in my life. Only 22% of Americans now believe "the movie and television industries are pretty much run by Jews," down from nearly 50% in 1964. The Anti-Defamation League, which released the poll results last month, sees in these numbers a victory against stereotyping. Actually, it just shows how dumb America has gotten. Jews totally run Hollywood.

How deeply Jewish is Hollywood? When the studio chiefs took out a full-page ad in the Los Angeles Times a few weeks ago to demand that the Screen Actors Guild settle its contract, the open letter was signed by: News Corp. President Peter Chernin (Jewish), Paramount Pictures Chairman Brad Grey (Jewish), Walt Disney Co. Chief Executive Robert Iger (Jewish), Sony Pictures Chairman Michael Lynton (surprise, Dutch Jew), Warner Bros. Chairman Barry Meyer (Jewish), CBS Corp. Chief Executive Leslie Moonves (so Jewish his great uncle was the first prime minister of Israel), MGM Chairman Harry Sloan (Jewish) and NBC Universal Chief Executive Jeff Zucker (mega-Jewish). If either of the Weinstein brothers had signed, this group would have not only the power to shut down all film production but to form a minyán with enough Fiji water on hand to fill a mikvah.

The person they were yelling at in that ad was SAG President Alan Rosenberg (take a guess). The scathing rebuttal to the ad was written by entertainment super-agent Ari Emanuel (Jew with Israeli parents) on the Huffington Post, which is owned by Arianna Huffington (not Jewish and has never worked in Hollywood.)

The Jews are so dominant; I had to scour the trades to come up with six Gentiles in high positions at entertainment companies. When I called them to talk about their incredible advancement, five of them refused to talk to me, apparently out of fear of insulting Jews. The sixth, AMC President Charlie Collier, turned out to be Jewish.

As a proud Jew, I about our we control Hollywood. flipping between "The "Davey and Goliath" on

So I've taken it convince America that by launching a public because that's what we several slogans, "Hollywood: More Jewish "Hollywood: From the you the Bible"; and enjoy TV and movies, Jews after all."

want America to know accomplishment. Yes, Without us, you'd be 700 Club" and TV all day.

upon myself to re-Jews run Hollywood relations campaign, do best. I'm weighing including: than ever!" people who brought "Hollywood: If you then you probably like

I called ADL Chairman Abe Foxman, who was in Santiago, Chile, where, he told me to my dismay, he was not hunting Nazis. He dismissed my whole proposition, saying that the number of people who think Jews run Hollywood is still too high. The ADL poll, he pointed out, showed that 59% of Americans think Hollywood execs "do not share the religious and moral values of most Americans," and 43% think the entertainment industry is waging an organized campaign to "weaken the influence of religious values in this country."

That's a sinister canard, Foxman said. "It means they think Jews meet at Canter's Deli on Friday mornings to decide what's best for the Jews." Foxman's argument made me rethink: I have to eat at Canter's more often.

"That's a very dangerous phrase, 'Jews control Hollywood.' What is true is that there are a lot of Jews in Hollywood," he said. Instead of "control," Foxman would prefer people say that many executives in the industry "happen to be Jewish," as in "all eight major film studios are run by men who happen to be Jewish."

But Foxman said he is proud of the accomplishments of American Jews. "I think Jews are disproportionately represented in the creative industry. They're disproportionate as lawyers and probably medicine here as well," he said. He argues that this does not mean that Jews make pro-Jewish movies any more than they do pro-Jewish surgery. Though other countries, I've noticed, aren't so big on circumcision

I appreciate Foxman's concerns. And maybe my life spent in a New Jersey-New York/Bay Area-L.A. pro-Semitic cocoon has left me naive. But I don't care if Americans think we're running the news media, Hollywood, Wall Street or the government. I just care that we get to keep running them.

End Article

THE SIMPLE IDEA OF COMMUNISM

Counterfeit Patriarchy: Ever since the beginning of Adam and Eve there have been counterfeits. Through deception, mankind has been inundated by counterfeits. There have been religious systems that closely resemble Christianity. There have been governments that closely resemble the righteous legal system of God codified by Moses. We are even told there will be a counterfeit church and anti-Christ. We are commanded to search out all matters, beware of Jewish fables, and not to be deceived.

Biblical patriarchy is a system whereby the fathers or patriarchs are given the responsibility to provide for, protect, and love his family. To enable him to do this, certain rights and authority are bestowed upon him. Likewise, the woman is to manage what is provided to the betterment of the family, to assist in the protection of the family, and to love her family. She too is provided with certain rights to enable her to do this. Both are limited in their authority as a means to safeguard against the carnal mind and acts of selfishness that would harm the family. True patriarchy is centered on the family, not around one man and his desires.

The enemies of God have always sought to destroy what He has created. Counterfeit patriarchy has caused enormous harm throughout the ages. Rather than putting the family first, many men have used the family and its enlarged system of community, government, and nation as a tool to further their own selfish desires.

Prior to the time of Christ the Roman paterfamilias could murder a member of his family with the same impunity as if he had simply killed an animal. Fathers could sell their children or wife. Unwanted babies could be left out to die. The family existed for the father. The community existed for the men in charge. Responsibility was taken out of the equation.

Long before Rome, the law of Moses sought to correct this injustice. The Traditions of the Elders that the apostles and Christ fought bitterly against was a counterfeit to the Law of Moses. The Oral Law (Traditions) of the Rabbis was a corruption of God's Law and it held the people in bondage. The Oral Law today is commonly known as the Babylonian Talmud. It is the ultimate heresy.

Some will make the claim that Judaism is Matriarchal. This is not true. They say this because kinship is reckoned through the mother although in actuality they do not deny community and Jewishness to children who have only a Jewish father. Government within the Jewish religion is not held by women. Women are considered worthless. Women are not allowed to study their law or to speak or recite their law (Traditions of the Elders) The apostle Paul (Note: Paul was an Israelite not Jewish – the two are not related and this is part of the deception) had to fight the infiltration of Jewish ideas into the early church. One example where it regarded women was the Jewish prohibition against women speaking. The Traditions of the Elders forbade it (let the law be burned rather it be spoken by a woman) God's law however, did not. After restating their objection (noted in Corinthians) he asks, “What! came the word of God out from you! or came it unto you only?”

Marxist writings are extensive in their accusations and condemnation of patriarchy. Language and phrases are often used which imply that they have the best interests of the poor, the workers, the downtrodden, women, children, etc. at heart. Thus the world has witnessed the rise in working class revolutions, children's rights movements and the feminist movement. These are tools counterfeit patriarchy uses to destroy true Biblical patriarchy. However, these movements have been successful because they are built upon legitimate concerns and reactions to counterfeit patriarchy

Carnal minded men do not want to eat by the sweat of their brow. They do not want to till the soil. They do not want to be responsible for the love, care, and protection of their family. They want reward without the effort. They “love” the money, but don't want to earn it. The root of their desire is evil mindedness. They may pretend to care, but only as a means of getting what they want. And so it is with Marxism, Judaism, Communism, and the present political force in this country including those who would be world dictators and a part of the global elite.

Some have found that it is easier to steal then to work for what they need. For example: Many of our governmental leaders pretend to be paternalistic. They believe they have the authority to take care of their family (country.) In order to do this, they have convinced the American people that they can and will take money from the people and then decide how best to care for the masses at large. They will decide where the money goes. Those who get some of the money are led to believe that they are being cared for. In truth, those doing the taking, whether global corporate conglomerates, wealthy entertainers, or sheltered bureaucrats and politicians really are using their slogans of care as a ruse to steal and they write laws to make it seem lawful.

If all the people tried to live by stealing then everyone would go hungry because no one would ever produce anything. So the simple concept of communism is that one should make a living by stealing instead of working.

Communism has a special appeal to non-whites because they are naturally non-producers. This is not to say that they will not work. This does not mean they are unable to work hard and to put forth effort and receive their just reward. But as a whole, and history proves it out, they are non-productive to the extent that they are able to create and sustain a civilized society that can care for families.

No, they need to be cared for. Given the opportunity, they find it easier to be taken care of than to take care of others. In a multi racial society this means that white people end up taking care of non-whites and this appears to be the natural order of things.

However, a multi-racial society is not natural – only the consequences are.

In a homogeneous white Christian nation, true patriarchy can exist and its benefits will be felt by all. Women and children will be loved, protected, and esteemed. Women will not react negatively to a system that values and respects them for both their mothering capabilities and their wisdom and insight nor resent women who are called by God to step out of the historical sphere of women.

Children will not feel the need to rebel against parents who focus themselves upon the family unit and cherish and rule it well. Employers will not exploit their workers and workers will be grateful for their opportunity. Under a true white Christian Patriarchy based upon racial unity, everyone will strive to be productive in society as a part of being a good Christian. When society as a whole functions in such a manner, it leaves open the possibility for benevolent charity to those who really need it. This is Biblical Patriarchy. Communism is counterfeit patriarchy.

RACIAL DESTRUCTION and ECONOMIC TYRANNY

It should be clear by now that economic tyranny and the destruction of our race is intertwined. The Bible is very clear that the root of ALL evil is the love of money. It is not money that is evil, but rather the love of it. Those who desire to raise up for themselves enormous wealth on a global scale are aware that war and social upheaval can turn a profit for themselves. There is a profit to be made from the genocide of our race.

Consider the following:

The Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act - gives the government authority to take over and liquidate failing financial firms, injects transparency into transactions involving financial instruments called derivatives and will restrict banks from making risky bets with their own capital. It directs agencies to write hundreds of new rules. It is said that this act, and others like it, will protect the taxpayers.

But once again, we see that under the banner of Capitalism, our economy is being manipulated and orchestrated. Free enterprise and Capitalism is not the same thing. Conservative leaders are not standing up for free enterprise; they are promoting a different scheme of money manipulation. Both Communism and Capitalism attempt to manipulate the market, although in different ways. The end result for both, however, is ruling elite, who does so at the expense of the working and middle class.

"The powers of financial capitalism had another far reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole. This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements, arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences. The apex of the system was the Bank for International Settlements in Basle, Switzerland, a private bank owned and controlled by the worlds' central banks which were themselves private corporations. The growth of financial capitalism made possible a centralization of world economic control and use of this power for the direct benefit of financiers and the indirect injury of all other economic groups."

Tragedy and Hope: A History of The World in Our Time (Macmillan Company, 1966,) Professor Carroll Quigley of Georgetown University,

The Founding Fathers on Money Manipulation

John Adams wrote to Thomas Jefferson in 1787 "All the perplexities, confusion and distress in America arise, not from defects in their Constitution or Confederation, not from want of honor or virtue, so much as from downright ignorance of the nature of coin, credit and circulation."

In 1606 the English crown granted the Virginia colonists the right to make their own laws. And Virginia took it upon themselves the right to establish and coin their own currency. The same thing happened in Massachusetts in 1628 whereby it was concluded that the colony had the right to make its own laws. In 1690: The Massachusetts colony began to coin and regulate their own currency. In 1688 the Bank of England was started after a revolution - And they began issuing currency without having anything to back it up.

By 1773, the British Crown had begun annulling laws in the American colonies that had enabled the colonists to issue their own currency, never having to rise into debt. Because you can't owe, what you don't borrow from someone else. The colonies were forced to borrow from the Bank of England. All a part of the stamp act of 1765.

In 1865, during the time Lincoln was attempting (and thereafter succeeded) in creating a debt-free currency for the People; this editorial was printed in the London Times.

"If this mischievous financial policy [of creating a debt-free currency], which has its origin in the American Republic, shall become permanent, then that government will furnish its own money without cost! It will pay off its debts and be without debt.

It will have all the money necessary to carry on its commerce. It will become prosperous without precedent in the history of the world. The brains and the wealth of all countries will go to America. That government must be destroyed or it will destroy every monarchy on the globe!"

Hazard Circular of 1862 "Slavery is likely to be abolished by the war power and all chattel slavery abolished. This I and my European friends are in favor of, for slavery is but the owning of labor and carries with it the care of the laborers, while the European plan, led on by England, is that capital shall control labor by controlling wages. The great debt that the capitalists will see to it is made out of the war, must be used as a means to control the volume of money. To accomplish this, bonds must be used as a banking basis. We are now waiting for the Secretary of the Treasury to make this recommendation to Congress. IT WILL NOT DO TO ALLOW THE GREENBACK, as it is called, TO CIRCULATE AS MONEY any length of time, as WE CAN NOT CONTROL THAT. But we can control the bonds and through them the bank issues."

President Lincoln himself stated,

“I have no purpose directly or indirectly to interfere with the institution of slavery in the state where it now exists. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so...My paramount objective is to save the Union and it is not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it.”

Otto Von Bismarck when he was Chancellor of Germany (1871 - 1890), stated the following in 1876 in regard to the crooked bankers.

“The division of the United States into federations of equal force was decided long before the Civil War by the high financial powers of Europe, these bankers were afraid that the United States if they remained as one block and as one nation, would attain economic and financial independence which would upset their financial domination over the world.

The voice of the Rothschilds' predominated. They foresaw the tremendous booty if they could substitute two feeble democracies, indebted to the financiers, to the vigorous Republic, confident and self-providing. Therefore they started their emissaries in order to exploit the question of slavery and thus dig an abyss between the two parts of the Republic.”

President Lincoln begins the printing of $450,000,000 worth of American currency. These bills are printed in green ink on the reverse side, in order to distinguish them from other bills in circulation, and are called, “Greenbacks.” These are printed at no interest to the Federal Government and are used to pay the troops and purchase their supplies. President Lincoln would be the last President to issue debt free United States notes, and on this subject he states,

“The Government should create, issue and circulate all the currency and credit needed to satisfy the spending power of the Government and the buying power of consumers. The privilege of creating and issuing money is not only the supreme prerogative of Government, but it is in the Government’s greatest creative opportunity. By the adoption of these principles...the taxpayers will be saved immense sums of interest. Money will cease to be master and become the servant of humanity.”

He also states,

“We gave the people of this republic the greatest blessing they ever had, their own paper money to pay their own debts.”

President Lincoln is re-elected on November 8th and on November 21st he writes a friend the following,

“The money power preys upon the nations in times of peace and conspires against it in times of adversity. It is more despotic than monarchy, more insolent than autocracy, more selfish than bureaucracy.”

On April 14th, forty-one days after his second inauguration, and just five days after General Lee surrendered to General Grant at Appomattox, President Lincoln is shot by John Wilkes Booth, at Ford’s Theater. He would later die of his injuries, less than two months before the end of the American Civil War.

More than seventy years later, Booth’s grand-daughter Izola Forrester, reveals in her book on Booth, “This One Mad Act,” that he had been put up to this assassination by powerful interests in Europe, and contrary to reports that Booth was later killed by the American authorities, he actually escaped to Europe and died in Calais at the age of thirty-nine.

Subsequent allegations that international bankers were responsible for President Lincoln’s assassination would be made in the Canadian House of Commons, nearly seventy years later in 1934.

The person who revealed this was a Canadian Attorney, Gerald G. McGeer.

He had obtained evidence deleted from the public record provided to him by Secret Service Agents at the trial of John Wilkes Booth, after Booth’s alleged death. McGeer stated that it showed that John Wilkes Booth was a mercenary working for the international bankers. His speech would be reported in an article in the Vancouver Sun, dated, 2nd May 1934, which stated, “Abraham Lincoln, the murdered emancipator of the slaves, was assassinated through the machinations of a group representative of the International Bankers, who feared the United States President’s National Credit ambitions.

There was only one group in the world at that time who had any reason to desire the death of Lincoln.

They were the men opposed to his national currency program and who had fought him throughout the whole Civil War on his policy of Greenback currency.”

Gerald G. McGeer also stated that Lincoln's assassination was not purely because the International Bankers wanted to re-establish a central bank in America, but also because they wanted to base America's currency on gold, which they of course controlled. They wanted to put America on a Gold Standard. This was in direct opposition to President Lincoln's policy of issuing Greenbacks, based solely on the good faith and credit of the United States.

The Vancouver Sun article also quoted Gerald G. McGeer with the following statement,

“They were the men interested in the establishment of the Gold Standard and the right of the bankers to manage the currency and credit of every nation in the world. With Lincoln out of the way they were able to proceed with that plan and did proceed with it in the United States. Within eight years after Lincoln’s assassination, silver was demonetized and the Gold Standard system set up in the United States.”

Following a brief training period in the Rothschilds' London Bank, Jacob Schiff, a Rothschild, born in their house in Frankfurt, arrives in America at the age of eighteen. The year is 1865.

On January 1st, 1875 Jacob Schiff, now Solomon Loeb’s son-in-law after marrying his daughter, Teresa, takes control of the banking house, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Schiff goes on to finance the Standard Oil Company of John D. Rockefeller. He also finances Edward H. Harriman’s Railroad Empire, and Andrew Carnegie’s Steel Empire. This is all with Rothschild money.

He then identifies the other largest bankers in America at that time. They are, J.P. Morgan who controls Wall Street, and the Drexels and the Biddles of Philadelphia. All the other financiers, large and small, would dance to the tune of those three houses. Schiff then gets the European Rothschilds' to set up European branches of these three large banks on the understanding that Schiff, and therefore Rothschild, is to be the boss of banking in New York and therefore America.

N. M. Rothschild & Sons undertake a share issue to raise capital for the first channel tunnel project to link France to England, with half of its capital coming from the Rothschild owned, "Compagnie du Chemin de Fer du Nord."

Rothschild agents begin fomenting a series of programs predominantly in Russia, but also in Poland, Bulgaria and Romania. These programs result in the slaughter of thousands of Jews, causing approximately two million to flee, mainly to New York, but also to Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Los Angeles. However, some are assisted with Rothschild money to begin settling in Palestine.

The reason these programs were initiated, was to create a large Jewish base in America.

President James A. Garfield (The 20th President of the United States who lasted only one hundred days) states two weeks before he is assassinated,

"Whoever controls the volume of money in our country is absolute master of all industry and commerce...and when you realize that the entire system is very easily controlled, one way or another, by a few powerful men at the top, you will not have to be told how periods of inflation and depression originate." The year is 1880.

The French Rothschild bank, de Rothschild Frères obtains substantial amounts of Russia's oil fields and forms the Caspian and Black Sea Petroleum Company, which quickly becomes the world's second largest oil producer. The year is 1887

Edward Albert Sassoon, grandson of Rothschild opium monopolist David Sassoon, marries Aline Caroline de Rothschild, the grand-daughter of Jacob (James) Mayer Rothschild. Aline Caroline's father, Gustave, together with his brother, Alphonse, took over the Rothschilds' french arm following their father Jacob's death. The year is 1891

The Rothschilds finance the amalgamation of the Kimberley diamond mines in South Africa. They subsequently become the biggest shareholders of this company, De Beers, and mine precious stones in Africa and India.

The British Labour Leader makes the following statement on the subject of the Rothschilds',

"This blood-sucking crew has been the cause of untold mischief and misery in Europe during the present century, and has piled up its prodigious wealth chiefly through fomenting wars between States which ought never to have quarreled.

Whenever there is trouble in Europe, wherever rumours of war circulate and men's minds are distraught with fear of change and calamity you may be sure that a hook-nosed Rothschild is at his games somewhere near the region of the disturbance."

Comments like this worry the Rothschilds' and towards the end of the 1800's they purchase Reuters news agency so they can exercise some control over the media.

Pope Leo XIII states the following on the subject of usury (the charging of interest on money) in 1898.

"On the one hand there is the party which holds the power because it holds the wealth, which has in its grasp all labour and all trade, which manipulates for its own benefit and its own purposes all the sources of supply, and which is powerfully represented in the councils of State itself. On the other side there is the needy and powerless multitude, sore and suffering.

Rapacious usury, which, although more than once condemned by the Church, is nevertheless under a different form but with the same guilt, still practiced by avaricious and grasping men...so that a small number of very rich men have been able to lay upon the masses of the poor a yoke little better than slavery itself."

Due to the discovery of a vastly increasing amount of wealth in gold and diamonds within South Africa, the Rothschilds' through their agents Lord Alfred Milner and Cecil Rhodes send 400,000 British soldiers over there to fight against the, "enemy," which consist of 30,000 Boer farmers with rifles who would rather not leave their own land.

The British round up anyone sympathetic to the Boers, which included women and children, and place them in unsanitary, fever ridden camps. The Rothschild British Army goes on to win this war and thus the vast wealth in gold and diamonds, for the Rothschilds'.

Indeed in a speech he gave on October 30th, 1937, Rear Admiral Henry Hamilton Beamish, had the following to say on the subject of the Boer War,

"The Boer War occurred 37 years ago. Boer means farmer. Many criticized a great power like Britain for trying to wipe out the Boers. Upon making inquiry, I found all the gold and diamond mines of South Africa were owned by Jews; that Rothschild controlled gold; Samuels controlled silver, Baum controlled other mining, and Moses controlled base metals. Anything these people touch they inevitably pollute.”

Rothschild, Jacob Schiff, the head of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., in a speech to the New York Chamber of Commerce, warns that,

“Unless we have a Central Bank with adequate control of credit resources, this country is going to undergo the most severe and far reaching money panic in its’ history.”

Suddenly America finds itself in the middle of another financial crisis, known as the, “Panic of 1907,” which goes on to decimate the lives of millions of Americans.

The NAACP is FOUNDED

Jacob Schiff founds the National Advancement for the Association of the Colored People (NAACP). This is done to incite black people into rioting, looting and other forms of disorder, in order to cause a rift between the black and white communities.

Jewish historian, Howard Sachar, states the following in his book, “A History of the Jews in America,”

“In 1914, Professor Emeritus Joel Spingarn of Columbia University became chairman of the NAACP and recruited for its board such Jewish leaders as Jacob Schiff, Jacob Billikopf, and Rabbi Stephen Wise.”

Other Ashkenazi Jew co-founders included Julius Rosenthal, Lillian Wald and Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch. It would not be until over 60 years later in the 1970's that the NAACP would appoint its first black president, Benjamin Hooks.

1913 – The Anti Defamation League is Founded

Jacob Schiff sets up the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) as a branch of the B'nai B'rith in the United States. This organization is created for the purpose of identifying anyone who questions or challenges the unlawful actions of elitist Jews or the Rothschild global conspiracy as, “anti-Semitic,” and against the Jewish race as a whole.

Following the passing of the Federal Reserve Act on December 23rd, 1913 Congressman Charles Lindbergh, a committed white nationalist, states,

“The Act establishes the most gigantic trust on earth. When the President signs this Bill, the invisible government of the monetary power will be legalized...The greatest crime of the ages is perpetrated by this banking and currency bill.”

Winston Churchill writes the following in an article on page 5 of the Illustrated Sunday Herald, dated February 8th, 1920

“Some people like Jews and some do not; but no thoughtful man can doubt the fact that they are beyond all question the most formidable and the most remarkable race which has ever appeared in the world.

And it may well be that this same astounding race may at the present time be in the actual process of producing another system of morals and philosophy, as malevolent as Christianity was benevolent, which, if not arrested would shatter irretrievably all that Christianity has rendered possible....

From the days of Spartacus-Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx, and down to Trotsky (Russia), Bela Kun (Hungary - pre Crypto-Jew name, Cohen), Rosa Luxembourg (Germany), and Emma Goldman (United States), this world-wide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilization and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, of envious malevolence, and impossible equality, has been steadily growing.

It played...a definitely recognizable part in the tragedy of the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the Nineteenth Century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become practically the undisputed masters of that enormous empire.

There is no need to exaggerate the part played in the creation of Bolshevism and in the actual bringing about of the Russian revolution by these international, and for the most part atheistic Jews. It is certainly a very great one; it probably outweighs all others. With the notable exception of Lenin (subsequently revealed as a Jew), the majority of the leading figures are Jews.”

In the September 10th edition of, The American Hebrew,” it is stated,

“The Bolshevik revolution in Russia was the work of Jewish brains, of Jewish dissatisfaction, of Jewish planning, whose goal is to create a new order in the world. What was performed in so excellent a way in Russia, thanks to Jewish brains, and because of Jewish dissatisfaction, and by Jewish planning, shall also, through the same Jewish mental and physical forces, become a reality all over the world.”

On April 23rd, 1952 during a debate on immigration law,

Congressman John Rankin makes the following statement to the house on the subject of the Jews, which is recorded in the Congressional Record,

“They whine about discrimination. Do you know who is being discriminated against? The white Christian people of America, the ones who created this nation... Communism is racial. A racial minority seized control in Russia and in all her satellite countries, such as Poland, Czechoslovakia, and many other countries I could name. They have been run out of practically every country in Europe in the years gone by, and they keep stirring race trouble in this country and trying to force their Communistic program on the Christian people of America..”

Jews Gather Wealth for themselves and Plan Genocide for Whites

The evil system of control over a nation's wealth is referred to in the Bible as a Babylonian system. It is spoken of in the book of Revelations. While we will not attempt to reach into a lengthy Bible lesson here. Please be advised that the end times which included race mixing, sodomy, and a global economic system (new world order) is here. And the destruction of the Caucasian Christian people is set to occur within this time frame.

Why is the impending genocide of the white race discussed in the same breath as the topic of an evil economic system? It is because many patriots desire to put economic issues first, above that of race. This brings us back to our philosophy. Race IS THE ISSUE! We cannot make economics our priority as nearly every other political movement strives to do. It is not the LOVE of money that motivates us. It is the LOVE of our people that motivates us.

Scripture assures us that we can be successful when we LOVE God and LOVE our Neighbor (which Biblically speaking would be our own racial family or stock) We simply can't put economic policy as our priority.

1. The age old enemies of God seek to destroy our Christian people so that they can control the world's power and wealth

Their motive is wealth and power = HATE

2. We seek to Unite our Racial family by prioritizing Heritage and Christ

Our Motive is God and God's people/the white race = LOVE

The book of Revelations teaches us that Babylon will fall in these end days. In other words; the system will collapse. We are not trying to save an economic system that seeks to devour our people for the sake of world wealth and global power.

There is certainly nothing wrong with discussing economic issues. It can be useful to use economic issues and examples of economic tyranny as talking points in order to get into a deeper and more meaningful discussion of race. We can cite sound economic solutions. We can support solid Biblical economic principles. However, we must never fool ourselves into thinking that we can save our nation by any change of economic rule or law.

The Babylonian system (Note: it may be of interest to some that the Jewish holy book – the Talmud – is actually titled, the Babylonian Talmud) that we are living under will fall. It isn't a matter of if – but rather when! Again, we reference the Bible in warning our people to seek the refuge of the country and rural places keeping in mind the unthinkable conditions that will exist in the cities when (Babylon) the economic system collapses and the alien hordes rise up in anger and chaos.

What we can do and what we intend to do is to lay the groundwork for a new Kingdom – a restored nation that is built upon the Bible and our precious white race. It will be accomplished for we are told that Christ will return with vengeance to finish the work that the elect have begun. We must fight genocide, but also know that as surely as we fight it, God will use the plight of our race as an alarm to awaken the Anglo-Saxon, Germanic, Scandinavian, Celtic, and related people.

We do not fight for an evil system. We fight for a new beginning and a return to greatness for our people. We fight for the love of our family and for Godly government under the rightful authority of White Christians.

Note: If you have not already, it is highly recommended that you read, “Moses the Economist” available at www.theknightsparty.com (use your user name/password to log in) It is available in the library section in PDF format.

WHAT WENT WRONG With the Klan IN THE TWENTIES

The Klan went from millions to thousands in just a few years during the early twenties. What can we learn from their past mistakes? By understanding past failures we can easily see why The Knights, moving into the 6th era, has a program geared toward real success and victory for our people.

The reasons for decline:

1. Continued argument over Roman Catholicism
2. The Klan appealed to only a certain number of people. Sooner or later all or nearly all of these people would join the organization. When the Klan realized its membership potential in a given area, there was no place for it to go but down. The reason for this is that the goals of the Klan were merely fraternal and not political.
3. During the mid 20's all fraternal orders entered a period of decline. The Klan could not escape this trend.
4. A period of prosperity, indeed an era, although brief of unprecedented abundance which quieted the fears and anxieties of the middle class American.

5. The passage of the 1924 Johnson-Reed Act which severely limited immigration by non European countries caused many Klansmen to simply assume that they had won the battle.
6. Because of its secret nature, law abiding citizens discovered that due to some of its masked traditions, it attracted many kinds of malcontents who had no national political aspirations. Zach Harris, Grand Dragon of Oklahoma said, "In the early days of the organization, some men joined who simply desired to take part in a whipping with some personal enemy as the victim." Therefore when local Klan units decided to (make their own rules) and become engaged in extra legal affairs it not only caused non Klan members to avoid Klan membership, but actually drove law abiding Klan members away from the organization.
7. Political controversy also weakened the Klan as it began to endorse candidates for office. Rather than uniting as a political party to oppose the treason of the established parties, it attempted to endorse Republican candidates in one area and Democrat candidates in another. There was no clear cut political agenda, but rather they would support or decline support to candidates on how they stood on issues such as prohibition, religion, and gambling. This is not necessarily a wrong move to make on an individual basis. However, had the Klan organized itself as a party requiring all of its candidates to stand upon the same platform everywhere, they very well may have become the first successful third party in American history and significantly derailed the Republican and Democratic turf war. Even now, we must use the same strategy, while recognizing the route will be somewhat different due to the majority non-white population in the states with the most electoral votes.

members under specific political goals. Political power was something that the Democrats or the Republicans could wage over, while the Klan stood on the outside hoping to yield influence to the contenders and the eventual victor and Klan leaders could easily become entangled in mere Klan in-house politics.

Many if not most joined the Klan because of its fraternal nature, Because of the rapid growth of fraternities at the time, including the Klan, members quickly became Klan leaders, with few having any real understanding of the political and racial dynamics of our struggle. Too many became enthralled with ceremony and what became known as Klancraft; the use of secret words, phrases, handshakes, etc. It became a social club for amusement shrouded in political ambition. However, they often let ritual supersede the goal of white Christian unity.

In order for a political movement to grow and become a major contender for power there must be a feeling of urgency and a commitment to fanaticism that fully engulfs the members so that the success of the movement becomes all important; not the mere practice of fraternal rituals.

Everything in the life of the individual must be subservient to the eventual success of the movement, keeping the Biblical admonition of balance in view, of course.

It was this spirit of complete dedication and the willingness, if need be, to sacrifice even life itself that have always caused the crusaders of liberty to march off to the battlefield.

In the 20's, Klan members did not have this sense of belonging to a powerful political machine that would ultimately secure the future existence of their children. No fraternity can inspire such complete devotion and zeal. Nor can mere politics pull out of the spirit of man such devotion as loyalty. Only a cause - bordering on that of religious zeal - can demand such loyalty. The nature of a fraternity is for social recreation, the nature of most political parties is likewise for advancement of party bosses and certain special interest leaders.

Those who signed the Declaration of Independence were prepared, as many did, to sacrifice their lives and worldly possessions for the overall success of their undertaking. It was not a game of party politics. Those soldiers that marched off to join Washington in the struggle for American Independence did so to purchase the prize of freedom. That is the kind of fanaticism that we must capture and nurture.

Therefore because of the weakness built into the Klan of the 1920's, it could never deliver any long lasting political victory. And while we like to think and talk about the huge membership the Klan had in the 20's, we must remember that it held this huge membership only for a very short period of time. Although, the reorganized Klan was founded in 1915 by Col. William Simmons, the Klan did not actually begin to realize any substantial growth until the fall of 1920. In a very short time it acquired a large membership, but by the end of 1924 it began its rapid decline.

The Klan itself was not a movement, but a fraternity and even a novelty for members. Their work and efforts were noble; however, their strategy undermined them in the end.

As an associate of The Knights you are associated with other likeminded individuals around the nation who probably have the same idea as to what White victory means. Some may be more concerned about the safety of their family and others may be more concerned about the betrayal of the churches. But, all in all we are each concerned about the same things and recognize the destruction of White Western Christian Civilization as the culprit of our woes, both personal and national. The dream of victory you wrote about is a dream that others share with you. This is the reason we are here.

This is our last chance. We have perhaps only one generation between us and the complete destruction of our people. We must not blow it, we cannot afford any more mistakes, and we must move slowly and calculate our moves.

How is it that so many within the movement have accepted defeat? They talk about how someday White people will "wake up" or how someday White people will get sick of it all or they won't take it anymore. We can't put this struggle in the draw of a hand or the toss of the dice - we can't just wait around until some sort of "collapse". WE must make the victory possible and we must see ourselves as victorious - not defeated. We have a habit of looking through the eyes of preconditioned images.

Our past experience determines our view of present situations.

- 1. We are told we can't win.
- 2. We are told the Klan has too much baggage.
- 3. We are told the Klan has a bad image.
- 4. We are told that times have changed - the Klan isn't viable.

What we want to do is to change our thought pattern, attitude and direction from failure to success. We want to re-frame the images of ourselves and our situation.

We must have a WINNING attitude.

A PARABLE

Two men, living next to each other are wood cutters. Their fathers were wood cutters and their father's fathers were wood cutters.

Their homes are located at the bottom of a great mountain. The one wood cutter, Bob, made a meager living. On the other hand, his neighbor, Jim, always had plenty of wood stacked and made a pretty good earning selling to others in the town nearby.

Every day, the two men met for coffee and then started out the day together at the same time. Their lunch, saw, and tools in hand they started up the great mountain. Now there were dense forests on the top of the mountain, plenty for the wood cutters to cut and still many trees left, but at the base of the mountain only underdeveloped trees grew and sparsely at that.

Everyday Bob and Jim would start up the mountain and about half way up Jim would stumble over a rock. This rock had been there for years as its lower portion rested just a little under the packed soil. Every day the same thing happened. They started up the mountain, and Jim stumbled over the rock and decided to cut what he could at the base while Bob stepped around the rock and proceeded up the hill where he always harvested enough to live on and a little to save.

One day while they were on their usual morning start up the mountain, just before they got to the rock that Jim always stumbled over, Bob asked Jim why he didn't pick up the rock and move it out of the way. Surely if this rock was moved, Jim could finally reach the top of the mountain. Jim shook his head and said he didn't really know. His dad always tripped on the rock and as far as he remembers his grandpa always tripped and stumbled on the rock. He figured it was just the way it was, why move the rock. The others stumbled, he might as well too. After all he was able to "get by".

If you do what you have always done, you will get what you have always gotten We must remove the obstacles between us and success. We must not continue a certain program or the use of certain titles or Klan ritual just because it was done in the 20's or by some group or other. We must not use the same tactics and strategy just because that's the way it's always done. We must not repeat the mistakes made by the Klan in the past. We must not let an opportunity get by us.

CHANGING THE FUTURE

What is preventing us from having victory?

- 1. Reporters?
- 2. Government?
- 3. Blacks?
- 4. Homosexual Agenda?
- 5. Jews?
- 6. Brainwashed people?
- 7. The United Nations?
- 8. Big Corporations?

Actually, none of the above are the problem. We are the problem and we can't shift the blame to others.

Part of that problem is image - the image WE have of ourselves. Because we recognize there is this giant image problem, we accept it and accept the limitations we feel it places on us.

Limited goals create limited lives and limited results.

So often our people feel we can't REALLY get political power - so why even try.

Goal setting is like trying to put a jig saw puzzle together without seeing a picture of what the puzzle will look like when finished.

We have got to see the picture of success; we can never reach our goal if we fail to understand exactly what it is. It is our firm belief that The Knights have done this.

What is our goal? POLITICAL POWER

1. Sounds UNBELIEVABLE
2. Others may not believe it
3. The MOST IMPORTANT question is: Do YOU believe it?

Objects Preventing us from Reaching Our Goal

1. Mass ignorance
2. Public support for our enemies
3. Public image

You must realize that mass ignorance and their support of our enemies is a result of the Klan's (or white nationalists in general) public image and the failure to alter it.

What are some of the impressions that the public has about the Klan?

Make a list

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

What would you think if I told you this image was true and correct?

REMEMBER to the PUBLIC the truth is NOT how WE see it, but how the PUBLIC sees it. Therefore in approaching the task of winning the masses, we must begin at the point of reference of where the masses are in their thinking and NOT where we are.

Too often those in the overall racist movement begin to accept the negative image and their leaders are too timid to tell their membership to shape up.

We must recognize our goal, restructure our minds to think as winners, and finally recreate the image the public has.

RE-CREATING OUR IMAGE THROUGH PROPAGANDA

The word propaganda often is given a negative connotation, but it's simply information used to persuade during times of war.

Politics is war fought in the time of peace and peace time information (propaganda) must be used to persuade our white brothers and sisters of their need to stick together for the sake of survival.

The purpose of propaganda is to win the support of the masses - to appeal to the masses.

- It isn't for those who are already decided.
- It's not for our enemies

Propaganda is intended for those who are undecided.

What makes an item good propaganda or bad propaganda? It may sound good to us, but is it good propaganda? Does it give us support? The racist movement is losing the propaganda war. The Knights will not!

Many times in the Bible people are referred to as sheep. The sheep in our nation as a whole are unable to understand complicated political issues. If you HAVE to explain it -it's too deep.

The masses respond to emotion not intellect. The way they see it IS the truth to them and we must learn to feel and see things their way. It does not matter (right now) if the way they see it is correct. We still must see it their way and must design our propaganda with this in mind.

1. We must never do what the opposition expects or desires. They expect us to run up and down the streets in white robes yelling nigger, nigger, nigger - Sadly many in the racist movement all too easily live up to our enemies' image and expectations.
2. The kind of propaganda we have to employ is determined by the position and strength of the opposition as well as the strength or as in this case the weakness of our own as it is TODAY! Not the way it was yesterday or the way it should be or the way we wish it could be.
3. Propaganda must be kept simple. Within our propaganda, we must not have too many enemies - you can't chase more than one squirrel at a time. We must keep people focused in one direction. (the politicians) Because we understand the foundation and proper use of propaganda and tailor our program for its use, we are often attacked by splinter groups and are accused of watering down the message while they continue stumbling over the same rock.

For the sake of a great cause one must be willing to suffer, for a time, of being considered a traitor by even his own people. We can't risk offending the millions of our white brothers and sisters who are undecided just to act like toughs with angry and complicated sounding rhetoric. And we must not go the way of some white groups who eschew Christianity. Christianity is our strength, not our weakness. Don't confuse corrupt Churches with the pure message of Christ.

- Compassion is the greatest strength of our people. It is why our people build hospitals and schools, develop cures for diseases, build houses for the poor, educate the children, donate to charities, etc.
- Compassion is also the greatest weakness of our people. It is why many people give privileges to non-whites, feel sorry for so-called persecuted homosexuals, or feel sorry for illegal aliens.

All Propaganda is for the Purpose of Redirecting Compassion

Does it bring them closer or push them further from our position? We must not give the masses a reason to have compassion for our enemies versus compassion for OUR people. Do other racist groups cause the masses to feel compassion for them or for non-whites? Does hateful sounding rhetoric, speeches, writings, slogans, etc. from racist leaders cause their listeners (not those we have won, but those we are trying to reach) to feel sorry for the poor, down on his luck, persecuted Negro, or do they feel sorry for the so-called oppressive hate monger?

We must be careful where we direct the compassion. It can be used for us or against us. For instance, The Knights began using the term "White Separatist" and "White Nationalist" rather than "White Supremacist" years ago and now it's used commonly throughout the movement and in many news reports.

When speaking to those undecided - those who have a racial instinct, but need help developing it, can you see how the use of the word separatist leads the listener to have more compassion to those just wanting to be left alone, to be separate, to practice their beliefs. Does the average person feel compassion for someone wanting to be ABOVE, BETTER, or SUPREME to those less privileged?

NO!

Is it morally wrong to believe or say that White Christians should be in charge or that we think the White race has been blessed by many positive attributes which make the world a better place for all? Is it morally wrong to say that in respect to these things, the White race is SUPREME?

No, it's not wrong.

But, is it good propaganda to say we are SUPREME? NO, it's not. We must tailor our program to take advantage of the strengths of our people and direct those strengths to our ultimate victory.

Remember the weapons used by the colonial soldiers in 1776 were far outdated by the time we entered World War I. But likewise, the weapons of warfare used in the trenches of the First World War would have been scorned if an attempt was made to use them in World War II. And of course the weapons that were used to defeat Japan and Germany are outdated for today's use.

We all can readily see and understand this - but we also have to keep in mind that the psychological weapons used by the Klan in 1865 are just as much outdated in the 1990's as the cannon ball and the long rifle would be for today's soldier.

We have to stop and look at where we are on the playing field and right now it's the bottom of the ninth inning, we have no men on base, with two outs and two strikes and the last pitch is about to be thrown.

The movement must not make any more mistakes.

Winning the support of the masses is the ticket to political power.

But

The ticket to mass support is in the propaganda!

To win the war of political power you must first win the propaganda war.

And In order to win the propaganda war we must become the source of propaganda. In other words we must become the spokesmen for America's White racialist movement!

Or in other words:

The Knights must be number one!

Some in other Klan and racialist groups have said that we are arrogant in The Knights - but remember we must secure a future for our children and political power is not the reward of timid souls.

So if we are to be number one - which means we are the source of propaganda and we are considered THE AUTHORITY when it comes to the racialist movement and White rights - then each of us must have:

- 1. Passion to win
- 2. A fighting spirit
- 3. A dedication to excellence.

It seems like every White racialist group in America has failed miserably in understanding this political evolution toward power. Therefore they talk in vague terms of waking people up, without understanding HOW, and then achieving victory over our enemies by simply getting everyone to join the Klan or Alt-Right and bypassing the need for leadership. Leaders become anyone who can afford to print their names on a letterhead or get a twitter account.

The Knights Party is Unique!

Our positive propaganda makes us totally unique to any others in the movement.

We can't worry about what others in the movement may say about our technique and strategy. We have picked up the rock that others continue to stumble on and have constructed a sure path to the mountain top.

BAD PROPAGANDA

Let's look at some examples of bad propaganda that is used by a Klan group on the East Coast.

EXAMPLE 1.

This is a cartoon of a black man picking his nose. He has an exaggerated ape appearance and is obviously of low intellect.

Is this funny? Maybe. Is it illegal? No. Is it good propaganda? No. Does it matter? Yes, it matters because we are working to get a message out about white genocide. We want people to listen to us. Note: I said, "listen" and not necessarily "agree". That is step 2.

So here are a few questions to ask yourself.

1. For the average white person looking at this cartoon, what feelings do you think they have in regard to this?
 - Some may secretly think it's funny, but they would never tell another living soul.
 - Others are abhorred by the thought of someone making fun of "insert a Famous black man's name here." It is just a mean and nasty cartoon put out obviously, by scary white supremacists. Every time they watch a Will Smith movie they get angry that some fool white supremacist made fun of black people.

- More than giving it a fleeting thought, the next viewer of the cartoon may be a deeply compassionate (remember, this is a white trait and can be harnessed for good or evil purposes) and idealistic person. He or she decides on the spot without any real conscious effort that the author of this cartoon is hateful and violent and potentially capable of ruining the world by bringing chaos into their life. They work a little harder to eradicate racism as being anti-American.
- The last person viewing the cartoon is an angry man or woman who is concerned about the problems in this nation. They may or may not work or go to school with non-whites, but they get along as well as they can. They would be the first to say they are not hateful. They recognize illegal immigration as detrimental to their family's future. They could go right down our platform and most likely would agree with most if not everything. They don't get bent out of shape if they hear a "racist" joke or see a cartoon somewhere, but it just doesn't seem professional somehow and doesn't bode well for the group who put it out. The author of the cartoon or joke doesn't appear as a serious contender for white rights.

In none of the above scenarios does the cartoon have any propaganda value. The outcome of bad propaganda is closed ears and eyes. In order to be able to get our people to respond to us, we must do so in a way that will open their hearts and minds to the truth we have to share.

EXAMPLE 2

Let's compare these two images. The one on the left is a historical representation of a Klansman. He's on his trusty steed. He's carrying a lighted torch. His robe is flowing and he looks to be on a mission. While our enemies may say it is a scary image, it is more of a historical image than anything, much like a cowboy in the old west riding out to save the day. This image is propaganda neutral. It isn't violent looking. It is simply a Knight on a horse. Those who hate us will not like it, but for most people it most likely has a mysterious appeal if anything and may draw them in to learn more, but it most certainly won't do any harm.

The second picture characterizes everything we don't want to be thought of. The Klansman looks almost Satanic with the extra emphasis on the strange slanted eyes. Behind him is a noose. This picture definitely conjures up visions of lynchings, burnings, and general mayhem.

Questions to ask yourself about the reasons to use this picture.

- 1. Is the illustrator or individual using this image purposely attempting to scare someone?
- 2. Is the person using this picture implying that whoever contacts this particular Klan office better be tough and willing to be involved in a criminal enterprise?
- 3. Are they trying to give the media, law enforcement, and the general public the idea that they are committing unlawful acts?

Okay, let's ask a few more questions. But first, let's divide the viewers of this image up a bit.

1. The first group isn't particularly offended by the image, but they do think it looks pretty amateurish.
2. The second group thinks it's awesome. They hate that black guy at work and the Pakistani guy he talks to at the cable company. He'd love to stick one of these posters up where one of these people could see it. He'll show them! And they might call the phone number given.

3. The third group is opposed to affirmative action, non-white immigration, and free trade with China. They see the anger level rising against whites and it worries them. They wonder if there are others who feel the same way. They don't want to get involved with one of those crazy white supremacist groups, but might be willing to read a few things or check out a website. They probably voted for Trump. What is the effect this cartoon is going to have? In other words, will it help our cause or hinder our cause.

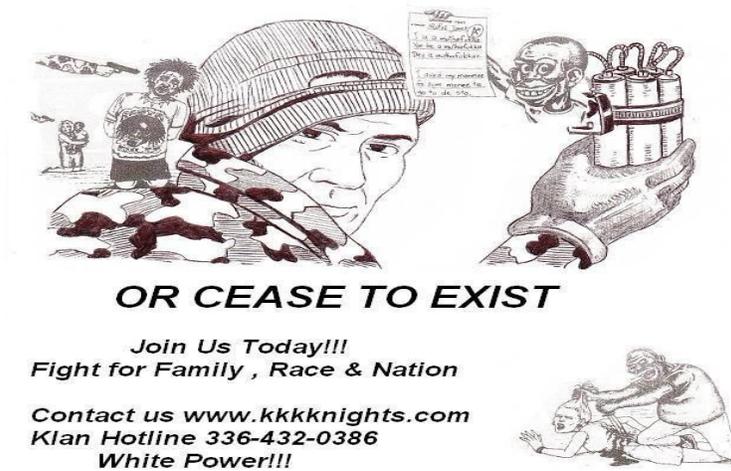

- The first group isn't going to care one way or other. They aren't concerned about society in general. They most likely are only focused on their careers or personal goals and may be very materialistic.
- The second group wants to join up right now. They hoot and holler at a few get-togethers, wear a t-shirt of a menacing looking Klansman holding a semi-automatic rifle, let's everyone within ear shot know that he doesn't like "niggers." Later, he meets a cute black girl, and because he's generally unmotivated, he settles for Shwandada, and decides he's not a racist after all. (Okay, I'll be honest. This one really happened to a guy I know and he was even Knighted in a Klan group. He's all about black lovin' now.) As far as the others who don't go crazy with betrayal, there is still hootin' and hollering. They aren't having much of an impact in the area and aren't trying to improve themselves in order to become more accessible to their white brothers and sisters. Others may try to come off as polished, but promote ideas such as "white Shariah" and are deeply anti-family and Jewish influenced. Their propaganda helps the enemy.

- This last group (group 3) would make some great members. They are properly motivated and seem at least curious enough to be willing to investigate the matter themselves rather than let the media do all their thinking. They hope to find a group that is professional in their approach and doesn't have the appearance of being a one-way ticket to the slammer. They definitely won't contact the phone number on this sign. What a loss!

EXAMPLE 3

Loyal White Knights of the KKK
JOIN TODAY!!!!
START TO RESIST

It's YOUR Turn!

What is wrong with the picture above?

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

EXAMPLE 4

REVOLUTION NOW

It is time to throw the scumbags
out of office

*Minority Crime is going up!
Unfair Taxes are going up!
Foreign Aid is going up!
Unemployment is going up with no end in sight!
Government control over every facet of our lives is going up!*

The enemies of America are in control of Washington D.C.

White People

It's time to join the Ku Klux Klan
Loyal White Knights of the KKK
Klan Hotline (336) 432-0386
www.kkkknights.com

REVOLUTION NOW

It is time to throw the scumbags
out of office

*Minority Crime is going up!
Unfair Taxes are going up!
Foreign Aid is going up!
Unemployment is going up with no end in sight!
Government control over every facet of our lives is going up!*

The enemies of America are in control of Washington D.C.

White People

It's time to join the Ku Klux Klan
Loyal White Knights of the KKK
Klan Hotline (336)432-0386
www.kkkknights.com

The content of the message above is on point. However, the use of the word "revolution" sets off alarms. It leads people to believe that the revolution desired is one of bloodshed and mass killings. While we may rightfully know that the revolution in mind is one of a social nature in which white people form a general consensus and unite to throw of tyranny, others view it as ending very badly. It gives the impression of trying to overthrow the government and of being anarchist. This doesn't work with middle class Christian white people and our nation is not chaotic enough for them to view revolution in a good light.

EXAMPLE 5

I don't know who is in this picture, but it is horrible propaganda. Three overweight girls (it wouldn't be any different if boys were pictured) are posing for the camera (I don't know where the adults were that let this happen) and one is holding a gun! This smacks of a "child soldier." What type of image is this creating? Who wants to join this? Other, than those in the photo, of course. But is this really the ideal basis for building a mass movement? No.

EXAMPLE 6

This group posed for a picture with what is supposed to be the severed head of an illegal alien. (Just a fake) Who will be attracted to this? Certainly not the long term, life time, dedicated family type that we want and who will be credible in building a mass organization of similar law abiding citizens.

EXAMPLE 7

Really?

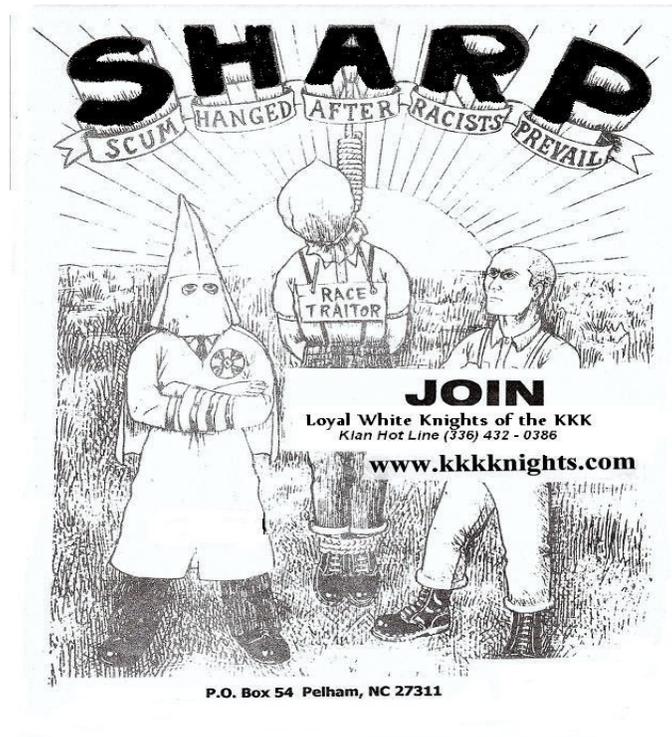

EXAMPLE 8

I'm sure these are very nice ladies and I give them a lot of credit for being out there, so this is only a slight critique, but we have to take everything into consideration when we are working to win the masses. The sign is spelled wrong and while ladies in The Knights may wear dress pants with their uniforms, we also encourage skirts. Mrs. Pendergraft always says that women in the white nationalist movement, who are taking on a more active role, need to remember that we are dealing with people on a massive scale who appreciate or at least are mystified by the values of traditional America. In other words, she says, ladies will have greater impact if dressed in a more feminine manner. We appreciate women who take an active role in these struggles and the presence of women will counter any charges our enemies make when claiming that the white rights movement is misogynistic. Likewise, however, the men here are not dressed professionally either. T-shirts and jeans are not proper attire.

EXAMPLE 8

Well, to be honest, this is supposed to be a portrayal of what happens after a victory so the authority would obviously be invested in the Klansman and Skinhead shown and therefore this doesn't depict an illegal act.

But again, how was that victory obtained? The picture doesn't tell the story. Was it a mass movement built up in white communities and geographic locations around the country? Remember, the original Klan didn't win because they were more dedicated than folks are today. It is because they had a massive following. Do we have a massive following? No. So this just doesn't work. It in fact will more likely back fire and we will lose our intended audience.

EXAMPLE 9

Now are you getting the hang of it? (no pun intended)

1. The NOOSE – It's always going to be bad propaganda. It does NOT bring up images of law and order. It has the opposite effect in the minds of people. The noose represents rape, pillage, and plunder. It represents lawlessness. There is no need to argue here about the hangman's noose and the old west as a means of legal execution. That is not what people think about when they see a picture like this.
2. Again, what's with the devil looking Klansman? Are we trying to scare away recruits? Are we trying to send someone a message?

PROPAGANDA DETOUR

To be sure we aren't the first ones to discuss propaganda nor are we the first to instruct others in the proper use. Unfortunately, propaganda lessons of the past have failed to hit the mark. And yet some of these lessons are still being adhered to because of the expert status of the propaganda's formulators.

I want to use excerpts from one of these tutorials and then investigate it further, rather than just taking it as truth.

EXCERPT 1

"In almost every case he produces propaganda which he likes, completely forgetting in his political excitement that the art of propaganda (and advertising) is not in producing that which one likes and admires one's self, but that which will produce the effect desired— sales in the case of advertising and political conviction in the case of propaganda. Because he is able to think, he presumes that his audience is also able to think, a completely unwarranted assumption. Because he himself is repelled by crudeness and exaggeration, he makes his pitch factual, logical, and usually subtle. In addition to this foolishness, he also forgets that the average man in the street is emotionally assaulted during all his waking hours by advertising brilliantly designed by experts to capture attention through the most powerful kind of psychological impact. The average right wing piece, crowded onto a page, verbose, and dull, is not only not able to win the attention of the average man amid all this competition, but positively repels him."

What is right about these statements? You can't assume that the intended audience is able to understand all of your points. This is true. But this isn't what propaganda is for, so that doesn't matter. The only purpose is to illicit a response. What did we say previously? Our job is to redirect compassion to our own people and certainly not to non-whites.

It is also true that a majority of right wing literature is long, dull, and boring. It is fine for those already in the know, but what works as educational for the believer doesn't work as propaganda to the masses.

I won't address the crudeness and exaggeration aspect at this time.

Okay, on to more excerpts from the same book and author.

EXCERPT 2

"Even worse propaganda mistakes are made by both those at the top and those at the bottom of the right-wing intellectual spectrum. Because they can't read and understand "them big words," these types are "agin" anything other than the crudest and most brutal of approaches. "Hit 'em 'longside the haid with a two-by-four," is the motto of these boys, and any attempt to produce anything else is likely to get you called a "Communist-Jew spy," or get you hit "'longside the haid" yourself. This type loves the "Boat Ticket to Africa."

“At the other extreme is the Ph.D. D. right-winger who hurriedly claps his hand over his mouth and gulps in nausea when one shows him something like our all-time most popular propaganda piece, our “Boat Ticket to Africa,” full of expressions such as “nigger-earmpit stench” and the like. Because this refined gentleman prefers to read Spengler or Gobineau, he can’t imagine that the ideas of these men might be gotten across to a semi-literate farmer better with a “boat ticket” than with a volume of Houston Stewart Chamberlain”

In describing the Jewish achievement in propaganda directed toward our people, here is another quote from the same gentleman as the previous quotes. He is considered by many white nationalists to be the master of right wing propaganda during the 1960's. Here is more of what he had to say regarding Jewish methods.

EXCERPT 3

“For the lower-middle classes, they (JEWS) provide pseudo-'objective' and thoughtful television 'documentaries,' which flatter the unthinking bourgeois into imagining that they are participating in a scholarly and high-level 'study' of a controversial subject, while actually the Jews are pumping into their smug, dog-blinded minds massive doses of raw lies and hatred. They also provide this kind of “intellectual” pap in Look, Life, and other mass-circulation periodicals.

“For the upper-middle classes the college graduates, professionals, and business executives the Jews produce their Harper's Magazine and Atlantic Monthly “thinkpieces,” which are genuinely intellectual but nevertheless so subtly poisoned by false basic assumptions and misdirections that all the thinking in the world is bound to lead only to error. This is the sort of thing one finds among the sincere race-mixers and liberals, who have been taught, as religious dogma, that anything other than democracy is unthinkable, that black men are only white men with dark skins, and that all opponents of liberalism are 'fascists' who seek to murder almost everybody and who have no ideas other than bloodshed and tyranny, Starting with these as unquestionable premises, the most sincere and well intentioned, 'thinking' in the world can produce nothing but the race-mixers, liberals, beatniks, rebels, and lost souls who are swarming like maggots in every intellectual center of our civilization.

“Finally, there is the devilishly clever, ivory-tower propaganda designed for the truly intellectual and highly sophisticated academic community, which actually does examine even basic premises. For this latter, elite class, even though it is tiny, the Jews spare no effort or money. For were the intellectual leaders of a nation to see through all the propaganda on the lower levels, it would sooner or later be disastrous to the Jews, when the the elite had warned the masses. For this minute, top group, the Jews actually produce manufactured 'facts' of the most basic nature...(such as there is no such thing as race)”

“The Jews do not confine their attack on us only to gutter propaganda or only to goon squads; God knows they certainly have flooded America with their filthy and degenerate 'literature, 'art,' and 'poetry,' with their 'comedians,' their warped stage plays, and their savage, jungle 'music,..”

“This whole intellectual fraud would never work if our side had sense enough to understand it and courage enough to stand up to it. But our side can never understand, let alone fight, this vicious Jewish perversion of our people and their minds as long as our side, like the aforementioned blind men, remains utterly mulish in its insistence on amateur and one-level propaganda efforts. The left wing has its organizations and its propaganda at all levels. And the whole left aims the same way—right at your heart.

“In short the enemy has brought about a 'black miracle' of subversion of our people with his multi-level propaganda, while the reply of the leaders of our people has been almost entirely an attempt to 'prove,' with facts and arguments, that tall this is 'wrong.' Right and wrong in propaganda have no meaning. There are only effective and ineffective. Jewish propaganda couldn't be more wrong, objectively speaking, but it is almost always right, psychologically. It is carefully aimed; it is designed for a specific audience; it is not concerned with what the producers think and feel, but with what the audience thinks and feels; and it is uniformly excellent and successful in doing the job for which it is intended.

“Right-wing propaganda, to choose a contrary example, is almost always wrong. It is invariable, single level material-usually aimed at the upper middle class. It is utterly disdainful of the audience and endlessly insists that 'the truth will make us free,' if we just get out enough 'literature'.

“Surely we need the truth and facts and arguments..but only to win over the officers and noncoms of our counter-revolutionary forces and then to educate and train them for intellectual combat with the well trained forces of the enemy, not to convert the masses. To try to use the 'facts and arguments' method with the masses of the people is the eternal stumbling block of the right wing. By insisting on only this method, in its pure (and dull) form, not only the right wing, but any movement of national regeneration, insures that its material is read only by itself and the few Jews whose professional job it is to study and neutralize its material.

“When I began, I purposely made my propaganda as brutal and shockingly rough as I could, simply to force attention. And I have kept everlastingly at the business of building a simple and direct image of all-out hostility to 'Jews and niggers' in the minds of millions of Americans, regardless of the costs in other respects.

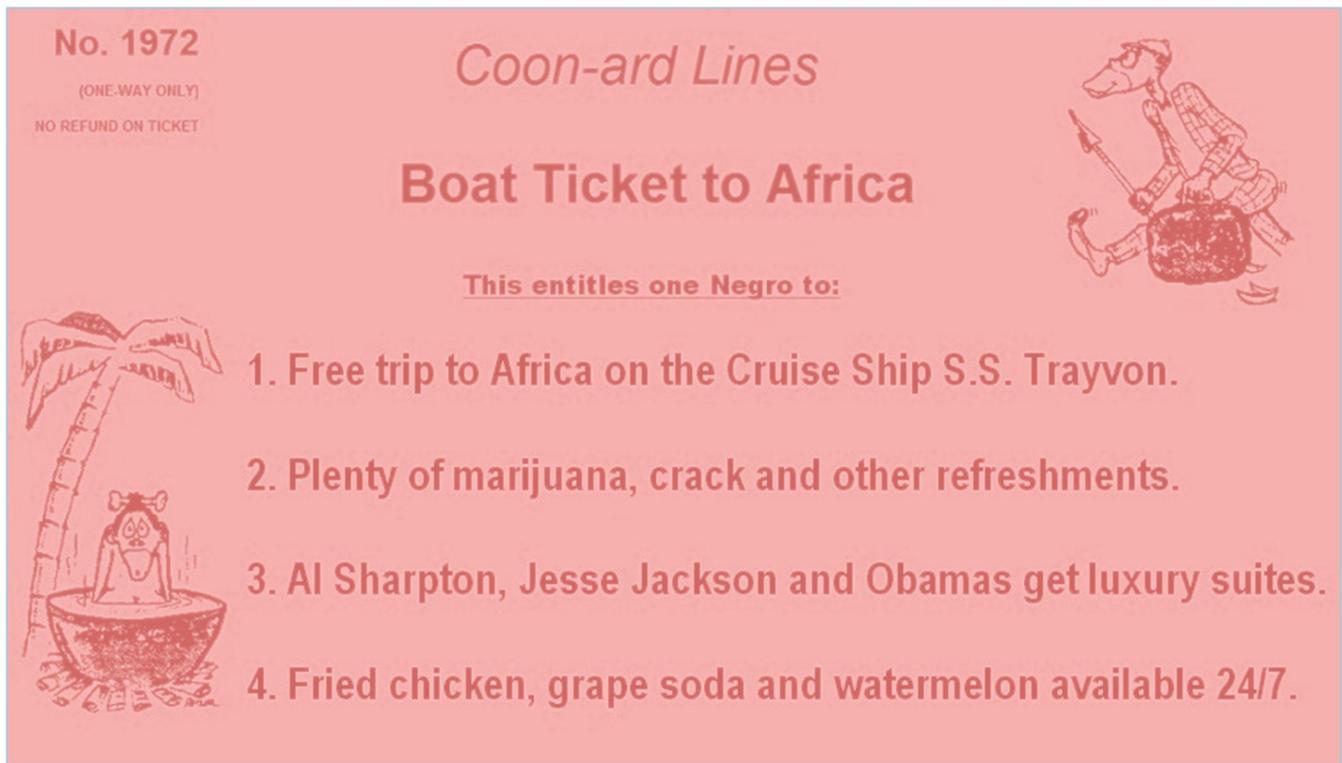

“My Ph.D. D. Critics regularly berate me for the vulgar and brutal material in the Stormtrooper (magazine) Because these gentlemen don't like to see the word 'nigger' in print, or crude drawings of Jews, they often insist that I am a damned fool, a hoodlum, or an agent provocateur, trying to ruin the whole movement by printing such rough stuff. These sincere but pitifully blind men are going to have to understand that one can't win elections with Ph.D. D. Votes. As Goldwater proved [Ed. Note – for younger readers Barry Goldwater was the conservative candidate for president against Lyndon Johnson] one can't win elections even with all the upper classes. It is the vast masses of the lower classes, the beer -and-dirty-joke loving workers, on whom we must depend finally for survival. The Stormtrooper with its pages full of cartoons, violence, insults, jokes, and general hell is exciting and readable to men who would never, in a million years, pick up and read a right-wing tract..... With a base of operations established and with successful publications directed at both the lowest and the middle-class levels, the movement is finally in a position to afford the relative luxury of a publication directed exclusively at the academic intellectual professional class.”

He then ends his tutorial with an analogy of owning a grocery store and having something in it for everyone...caviar for the rich...potatoes and beef for the middle-class, etc.

Let's Evaluate

"When I began, I purposely made my propaganda as brutal and shockingly rough as I could, simply to force attention"

This may (maybe) have been good for the 1960's, but we do not need to do anything today to force attention. We, as an organization, already have the attention. And the movement as a whole already has the attention. The only purpose in brutal and shocking propaganda (and by brutal and shocking he meant:

No. 1972
(ONE-WAY ONLY)
NO REFUND ON TICKET

Coon-ard Lines

Boat Ticket to Africa

This entitles one Negro to:

1. Free trip to Africa on the Cruise Ship S.S. Trayvon.
2. Plenty of marijuana, crack and other refreshments.
3. Al Sharpton, Jesse Jackson and Obamas get luxury suites.
4. Fried chicken, grape soda and watermelon available 24/7.

is to get attention. We are already on the end of the battering ram of anti-white propaganda. The general public already knows of our existence. There is no need for outlandish propaganda to get their attention. Of course, his propaganda did not include illegal activities or unprovoked violence.

This is not something that some groups today consider. And even if it is not violent, the effect is still the same. Even he recognized this and before he was assassinated, he felt that he had been recognized and was not in need of such flagrant propaganda.

The difference is this:

We are now in an internet age. We do not have the ability to direct our message to different audiences. We do not send or distribute literature to this crowd or that crowd. When we put information on the internet or distribute literature, we do not know what classes of people are going to see it. Is it the working class, middle class, or upper academic class?

An internet site (and even articles and literature (and speeches) eventually get put on the web) is open to all audiences. And it is viewed by many different audiences.

And what is even worse is that hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of school children of all ages visit these sites. That is okay and we love it, if the site they are visiting is going to counteract the negative white guilt trip they are receiving in school. After all, adults send these children/teens to these very sites in the hope that there is something offensive/violent/illegal/overly derogatory/ for the very purpose of reinforcing white guilt!

Why, would any rational man or woman want to assist in reinforcing white guilt? The problem is that many people don't think it through to the obvious conclusion.

The average white kid sits through thirteen hundred hours of propaganda every year while at school. Consider a child who goes to school from kindergarten through the twelfth grade - he or she will get a little over sixteen thousand hours of propaganda.

In addition, the average child watches thirty two hours of television a week. This is an additional twenty one thousand six hundred and thirty two hours of television during the same time that the child is in school.

One child between the age of five and eighteen has received almost 38,000 hours of propaganda. Now keep in mind this doesn't include preschool, college, magazine reading, etc.

38 THOUSAND HOURS OF BRAINWASHING!

We might get just one chance to cast a shadow of a doubt in the mind of a young person who visits a white nationalist web site. Shame on anyone who puts their preference for jokes, insults, or “telling’ it like it is” above an opportunity to pierce through the shroud of a brainwashed mind.

Let's continue on...

“The left wing has its organizations and its propaganda at all levels. And the whole left aims the same way—right at your heart.”

He has this right. The left does aim at the heart of our people. This is exactly our point. Our people are a compassionate people. We cannot expect to receive a positive response from our people or to get them to listen to us when they are underneath a shroud of white guilt.

What makes people feel guilty? Does a violent cartoon, or insults and derogatory colorful language, jokes, or cartoons of such nature make our people feel compassionate toward our race or toward other races? That is the way to judge effective propaganda.

“Right and wrong in propaganda have no meaning. There are only effective and ineffective. Jewish propaganda couldn't be more wrong, objectively speaking, but it is almost always right, psychologically. It is carefully aimed; it is designed for a specific audience; it is not concerned with what the producers think and feel, but with what the audience thinks and feels; and it is uniformly excellent and successful in doing the job for which it is intended.”

This is correct. Effective propaganda is judged by its ability to reach the emotions and heart of our people. But liking a piece of literature, joke, insult, or article is not a judge of its effectiveness.

Take for instance late night television. As an example, let's look at a show that many people watch; Saturday Night Live.

There are many skits on there that could almost be construed as racist. Even black comedians make fun of fellow blacks, gang bangers, welfare mamas, and such. YouTube is filled with videos of fried chicken eating blacks or “funny” terrorist Muslims. The fact is, there is no shortage of “racist” jokes or insults on television. I have found myself laughing hysterically at many bits that I know for a fact would be attacked had it been produced by an actual “racist” group, but because Hollywood did the producing, everyone just sits back and enjoys it.

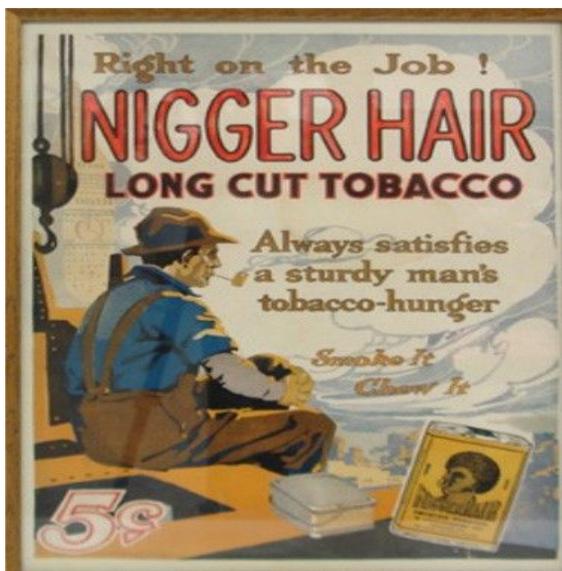

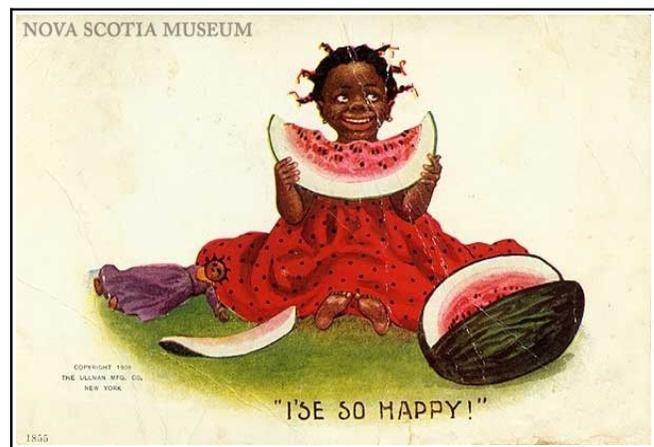

We are not judged by the same standards. We cannot use the same propaganda. Why? It is because of white guilt. White people, whether liberal or conservative will laugh and enjoy “racism” in a comedy skit, but would be appalled if it was produced by a “racist” organization. It doesn't make sense, but it doesn't have to. It is just a fact.

We must have a grocery store of propaganda directed toward many different audiences.

This is the argument used by some, still today, who follow the above propoganda lessons and they can't understand our approach.

Recently, on one of our websites, wpmedianetwork.com, we unintentionally annoyed and aggravated a good friend and supporter because we removed material that he had uploaded to the site. It wasn't violent or illegal, but it also wasn't effective propoganda. It included Klan speeches from the 1960's in which the word nigger was used repeatedly, music from the same era that many would consider derogatory, and cartoons and advertisements that at one time in this nation were the norm.

I will be the first to say that none of these images offend me. In fact, I find them to be charming, a part of Americana when non-whites understood their place in society, knew this was a white country, and were glad to just have had the luck to live here. And before Jewish interests began to instigate blacks to thwarting law and order and the general pecking order that had been set up by our founders, for the most part blacks were looked upon in advertisements in a fond fashion.

So while I may personally, should it fit in with the decor of my home, decide to put an old tin picture up on a wall somewhere, I'm not going to put it on a website, in a magazine, newspaper, or on a piece of literature.

Why? If it isn't offensive to some people, if it wasn't intended to be offensive at the time, and if it was in fact a part of American history, would it not be wise to include such?

What about the grocery store analogy? Even if some people find the above images to be absolutely hateful and racist, others are going to like it. Shouldn't we try to be all things to all people? Shouldn't we have different types of propaganda for different types of people?

Yes and no. It is not wrong to have different types of propaganda (marketing techniques) for different people. But there is one thing that virtually all white people have in common...GUILT! It doesn't matter if you are rich or poor, a doctor or a plumber, a man or a woman, a protestant or catholic, young or elderly. White people as a whole are filled with guilt.

This means that even if, as the man said earlier, the beer drinking, dirty joke telling, working classes love the racist, rough, nigger joke type of propaganda, they still suffer from a tinge of guilt. Just because someone thinks something is funny doesn't mean he supports it. Think liberals don't laugh at "nigger" jokes? They do. They just don't like to get caught doing it. Funny is funny, but that doesn't make it good propaganda.

A better grocery store analogy would be that different classes of people like different types of food, but they ALL WANT FOOD THAT TASTES GOOD!

And last, is an excerpt from the leader of a current white nationalist group that believes violent rhetoric, tough sounding language, and crude literature is the only way to win. In fact, I pulled the piece below directly from his website. It was in response to a person who thought more civil language should be used. The question/answer was posted on the same page as a reprint of the previous propaganda tutorial. Another example of the failure to properly assess the situation and instead follow forty year old propaganda manuals.

"Most whites are like you - middle class folks very afraid of what others will think. That is not the type that produces revolutions, and unfortunately, there is no way out of the mess we're in but revolution. In fact, you might be surprised to learn it, but civility is a large part of the reason we're in this hole. We foolishly follow the golden rule, and treat the hostile Jew and hostile black as individuals, rather than as members of hostile groups more than willing to prey on us. The Jews don't make that mistake. The Jews treat Jews one way and outsiders another. That is why they are on top and we are on the bottom.

The Jew gets what he wants because he is uncivil. Has that ever occurred to you? The "polite" wheel gets the grease? No. The squeaky wheel. Manners and civility are great AMONG OURSELVES. Against our enemies, they have no effect at all beyond making them laugh at our naiveté." End Quote

1. Middle Class folks don't produce revolutions. Who said? Certainly not history. It is true, that the poorer working classes are more apt to get caught up in the turbulence of a revolution because by that time it has become a bread and butter (economic) issue and poor people like to eat like everyone else. Hungry bellies make for ripe revolutionaries. But they aren't the one's setting the stage for revolution. And neither are the academics. There will be a few driven by idealism (whether good or bad) who help to construct the framework for revolution, but it is always the middle class that provides the backbone. And this is true whether we are talking about a violent or non- violent revolution.

The Jew knows this all too well. Tailoring the propaganda toward the white middle class is what caused thousands of middle class teenagers (freedom riders) to head to the South to overturn the segregation laws. Was this civil or uncivil?

The cause appeared civil (we're just trying to help the poor downtrodden blacks). The outcome was often uncivil. Freedom riders taunted police in order to get a water hose turned on them, kicked police dogs in order to get a dog to bark and snarl, and then threw themselves on the ground just in time for a 30 second video clip to go on the nightly news. It wasn't a matter of civil or uncivil. It was pure manipulation!

We aren't trying to manipulate anyone. We have honest and forthright intentions. We really love our people and our faith. But we aren't dirty Communists and we aren't going to act like white trash just to make a point. White people as a whole do not respond to that. Jewish manipulators know that and that is why their propaganda to the middle class is exactly the way it is. We (white people and white people promoters) are oppressors and everyone else (non-whites, homosexuals) are victims.

2. Jews treat their people one way and outsiders another way. This is true. But I'm sure he isn't thinking about it in the same context that we are. Jews, because of their victim mentality, are very cohesive. You have probably heard over the years claims that Jews are stingy, tight with money, and so forth. This is not true. Jews as a group will give hundreds of millions to Jewish causes. They also, because they are more group oriented, tend toward the practice of setting Jewish young people up in their own businesses, whereas white people think along the lines of making it on your own. It is simple. Jews have a practice of helping other Jews.

White people, more individualistic by nature, are leery of giving. This doesn't mean all white people are this way. But by and large, white people are suspicious of helping others financially. White rights organizations have to beg and plead for white supporters to financially back a program. Sure, Jewish propagandists have helped to convince millions of white people to support every third world nation and people on the planet, but to turn around and help their race as a unit, seems to go against their natural individualism. This is why Christ stressed a balance in our lives and in the community of believers to help one another. This is why the female trait of compassion works so well when balanced by the male trait of individualism. This is why God fearing white Christian families working in harmony made America such a great nation!

Jews do help themselves and it is time for whites to help themselves. We have to understand the difference between individual identity and group identity. As individuals our people are very self-involved. As a group our people are very compassionate. They have just been brainwashed into misdirecting their compassion.

So this observance only backs up our claim that we MUST speak to our people in the right manner. Using the golden rule toward our people is essential. The person attempting to explain propaganda above misses the boat. Propaganda isn't for the enemies of white people. They already know we have an agenda to promote a white Christian nation. They already get it! It is no big secret to them.

He states, "polite" wheel gets the grease? No. The squeaky wheel." Who does he think he's having a conversation with? Is he trying to convince the enemies of our people? Our information is for OUR people! And we will talk to them as concerned friend to concerned friend...family to family. And that speech will be urgent, but polite.

Who do you think our enemies fear more? Is it an organization that scares the hell out of middle class white people, because it sounds and acts like a bomb plot is the next event scheduled? Or do you think our enemies are more fearful of a determined, logical sounding, compassionate organization that works to encourage people, but at the same time point out the wrongs being committed against white people.

I think they are more afraid of the organization that has the potential to be heard, listened to, and followed. And that is the organization that will be successful!

Funny "racist" hate type propaganda might attract some people, but because 95% of all white people suffer from guilt, at the end of the day, that type of propaganda will leave a bad taste in everyone's mouth.

The Knights looks for those things that we all have in common, despite our social-economic or educational class. Family! We all have it in common. We all want to protect our families. We strive to formulate and design our information in such a way as to unite all classes of white people around one theme. Family!

Some white people are concerned about their family's financial well being. Some are concerned about their family's safety. Both of these core issues can branch off into other areas of concern. But OUR PRIMARY JOB is to REDIRECT COMPASSION FROM NON-WHITES AND BACK TO OUR PEOPLE

What YOUR FRIENDS Should Know

The core beliefs that motivate us:

The United States of America was founded as a Christian nation thus we believe that the laws governing this nation were according to common Biblical and community standards.

We do not believe this is mere speculation, but historical fact. In our opinion, to deny the Christian foundation of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches; to deny the volumes of statements, statutes, laws, rules, judgments, and summaries, which clearly attest to the Christian foundation of the very United States government, is akin to denying the very existence of gravity.

What does this mean for us as individuals and as an organization? We believe that there is a certain element, long opposed to Christianity which works to undermine America's historic rule of law - which is based upon Christian standards.

Of course, this comes to no shock to anyone here. Our belief - which concurs with factual documentation, that this was founded legally as a nation with a national faith is not a secret.

What we want is the right to educate others about this historical fact. We feel it has important consequences for the peace, safety, and tranquility of America and its citizens. We do not desire to educate others in order to cause distress, emotional harm, or feelings of inadequacy.

We don't care about scaring any one or group. We don't care about establishing supremacy throughout the world. What we care about is protecting members of our racial family. And ultimately, a friendly and peaceful relation with the other races is a worthy goal. Not once have we ever suggested otherwise.

It is we feel, by adhering to the historical and legal standards of the U.S. government which were of a Christian basis, that this peace between the races and peace between nations can be achieved.

It is our goal to reach as many people with this message as possible and to convince them of its merits. Our entire strategy consists of using lawful means in securing, via education, the voluntary acceptance of this goal on a mass scale.

What this DOES NOT mean:

This does not mean we want anyone to over throw the government.

This does not mean we want to force or coerce citizens into following a strict set of puritanical laws.

This does not mean we want to silence objectors

This does not mean we think everyone should be forced to accept Christianity.

What this DOES mean:

We believe that not without fault and occasionally grave error, the Constitution of the United States is the greatest man made document in the world and its genius was in its Christian foundation. This does not mean we worship the Constitution or view it as sacred.

We believe in the liberty of conscience. We believe that the law should be based upon and applied according to Bible standards. We do not believe this is injurious to anyone. And we don't propose to force the practice of any particular faith in the private sector.

We do believe that laws in this nation which made the profession of the Christian faith a requirement for holding public office to be fully Constitutional given its Christian origin.

We know that people disagree. We don't think they are evil for disagreeing or that they are enemies, but rather they just don't understand. This brings us back to our goal of educating the masses of people as to what we feel are certain truths the majority would accept if open dialogue was encouraged and not suppressed.

The Klan and Physical Force

The first "Klan" was a territorial / residential militia, loosely organized and holding widespread grass roots support. In our view and in the view of some historians, and at least one president {Wilson} the Klan heroically restored law and order in a time when anarchy was prevailing.

The Klan was not anti-government, nor anti-black, or anti-Catholic. Documented statements attest to the character of these Ku Kluxers as they were called. The Klan has never lived under the false assumption that whites or Caucasians do not commit crimes nor are incapable of abuse. Members were required to make a profession of loyalty to the United States Constitution. The Klan was disbanded after misuse of the robe and secrecy by opportunists with no ideological base.

The Klan of the twenties was anti-Catholic and enjoyed political prestige and clout. The Klan was more of a giant fraternity than anything. There was a Klan for men, run by men with the assistance of a couple of female advertising agents and there was a Klan for women, run by women.

Contrary to present day popular opinion, the Klan was not engaged in wholesale lynching. Lynching was the acceptable community mode of legal executions and Klan involvement has been highly exaggerated. (Yes, lynching now is defined as an unauthorized hanging – but many legal hangings are now referred to by anti-white terrorists as lynchings) In many communities, where racial unrest did occur and lynching outside of a legal judgment happened, racial tension actually decreased as the Klan's presence helped foster a sense of stability and calm. Illegal lynching decreased after the Klan organized in an area not vice versa.

The one exception in establishing social stability was in regard to domestic abuse situations.

The Klan viewed the repeat offender as unable to understand anything other than actual physical force. The women's Klan and men's Klan for the most part worked autonomously, but harmoniously. The country was ripe for an organization stressing the importance of the separation of the races and Christian conduct in all areas of life. The Klan became a powerful agent protecting the family and with full family participation in the membership roster, the Klan came to the defense of women and children in the first organized effort to confront wife and child abuse.

This is not to say that all Klan members, sympathizers, or supporters acted in the right at all times. But it was not the agreed upon and widely accepted course of action for the organization or other similar organizations based upon similar principle. The Klan was quite popular for a while and as the nationwide anti-Catholic hysteria ended – the Klan returned to its original position of acceptance of Catholics.

The later Klans of the fifties and sixties grew out of a period of extreme social unrest. I believe these people to have been very naive, but I do not place blame entirely upon them.

We feel that in the same way Communist organizations worked to establish a permanent distrust in law enforcement through liaisons with the media that same associated persons and groups worked to undermine the true intention of citizens who believed in racial separation. But more importantly, dishonesty was used by some government operations by inserting "plants" into both right and left wing organization in order to initiate violent actions among some groups. The operation was coined co-Intel. Co-Intel combined with effective anti-Klan propaganda and ineffective Klan propaganda brought the Klan to an era of community contempt.

CO-INTEL-PRO

The 1960s program, coordinated by the FBI under the code name "COINTELPRO," was exposed in the 1970s and supposedly stopped.

Government harassment of U.S. political activists clearly exists today, violating our fundamental democratic rights and creating a climate of fear and distrust which undermines our efforts to challenge official policy, but there is a lot we can do to keep from being harassed.

How COINTELPRO Worked

When congressional investigations, political trials, and other traditional legal modes of repression failed to counter the growing movements, of the 60's, including both right and left wings groups, The FBI began a secret program intended to topple social movements.

FBI headquarters secretly instructed its field offices to propose schemes to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit, or otherwise neutralize" specific individuals and groups. Close coordination with local police and prosecutors was strongly encouraged. Other recommended collaborators included friendly news media, business and foundation executives, and university, church, and trade union officials, as well as such organizations as the American Legion.

A total of 2,370 officially approved COINTELPRO actions were admitted to the Senate Intelligence Committee, and thousands more have since been uncovered. Two main methods have been revealed:

1. Infiltration: Agents and informers looked for weak individuals who they could get to talk about committing a crime. The crime didn't actually have to be carried out, just talking about it became conspiratorial and was enough for an arrest and big media headlines about the terrorism that such and such group was planning. Sometimes the plan would be carried out and more friction would be created for the targeted group.
2. Psychological Warfare From the Outside: The FBI and police used myriad other "dirty tricks" to undermine progressive movements. They planted false media stories and published bogus leaflets and other publications in the name of targeted groups. They forged correspondence, sent anonymous letters, and made anonymous telephone calls. They spread misinformation about meetings and events, set up pseudo movement groups run by government agents. Otherwise manageable disagreements were inflamed by COINTELPRO until they erupted into hostile splits that shattered alliances, tore groups apart, and drove dedicated activists out of the movement.

A VERY IMPORTANT LIST

Note: This is a very important list because it is vital that every associate of this organization understands the following:

1. We are NOT anarchists. We understand the need for law and order and civilized government.
2. Being law enforcement professional is an honorable career choice. We are not in fear of law enforcement. We are not hiding any sinister plan; therefore we don't need to be concerned about getting "caught." There is nothing to catch. Why am I saying this? Because unfortunately some individuals in the white rights movement have a very low opinion of law enforcement and feel they are constantly being watched. What we must remember is that CO-INTEL officially ended, but even if certain aspects are in operation, groups were and would be targeted because of the violent rhetoric they used. As we stated previously in the Reasons for Decline section, the Klan and many other pro-white groups did not take into consideration how their words and actions would be used against them in the national press.
3. If anyone ever approaches you and begins to discuss or even jokes about illegal or unlawful acts, you MUST ASSUME that you are being targeted and you should contact the national office right away. Does this mean even if an associate or a friend or other person is someone you have known for many years? Yes.
4. If you are the person who makes such statements, are others to assume YOU are targeting them? Yes.

Let's discuss this further. I am well aware that people make jokes, they may say something stupid, or they may even talk about something they would like to do because they are so frustrated with what is clearly a society on the decline. I know people will sometimes do this and that they are not some sort of agent attempting to entrap another. However, I have made it my code to always assume the opposite. If I notice a person not acting accordingly, I will begin to pay closer attention. Why is this person saying such things? Do they not understand our rules? Do they not care how we are perceived? Or are they weak minded and looking for another person to "talk" with about how things need to be handled. I will tell you that such a person is either an agent attempting to entrap others OR they are a prime target for becoming entrapped themselves. DON'T BE WEAK MINDED!

WORK THE PLAN

David Duke
Thomas Robb

These two especially have worked to take the “movement” in an entirely different direction. Often those within the “movement” are of vast varying political opinion. And for the most part we have desired to work outside of the “movement” and completely within the political system.

I do not intend to imply that all those who could be considered as in the movement do not wish to work toward their goal in a legal manner, but rather that for the most part; they have given up on any hope of achieving success politically.

We believe that the goals we have are fair and just and necessary. What’s more is that we believe these goals will make sense to those who will give diligent consideration to them.

Those who have been in and continued association with us do so because they are of the same mind-set.

We believe that this attitude is shared among a great many Americans. And that mind-set is that anyone has the right within legal means, to work to change the opinions of others. Political changes seldom take place unless opinions support those changes.

Like attracts like. It has never been the goal of men like Robb or Duke to attract men or women with an anarchist type mentality. These types do exist across all political spectrums, across all racial lines, and social and economic brackets. These types are destabilizing and injurious to all people regardless. It directly contradicts the law and order we desire. We do not advocate the “lone wolf” or “leaderless resistance” concept espoused by some on both the right and left. This is contrary to the organized discipline that is crucial to American society.

Not only are these concepts wrong, but we believe they do us a disservice. All people, whether on the left, right, or somewhere in between will use violent or illegal acts committed by the opposition as evidence as to why one opinion should be given more credibility than another. Everyone does - NAACP - LaRaza - Dem - Rep - and we are no exception.

It is our goal to consolidate the movement at large into a viable political apparatus. While past leaders associated with Robb still view the political process as useful,

Robb and Pendergraft, as well as the other leadership within The Knights, have remained convinced that the Ku Klux Klan name association with a political party such as The Knights Party will one day be an advertising and organizing asset.

Our primary focus has been on organizing individuals who share this view into a stable and politically astute body.

It has been much publicized that this organization has been at the forefront of returning credibility to the white rights movement. And we have done this by never yielding to the anarchist attitude.

At the heart of our Christian and political belief is the idea that converts are won by compassion. It is not merely a legal or public relations issue. We truly believe as a part of our ethical code that defense alone is acceptable. Note: This does not mean we do not support capital punishment as a legal recourse when used correctly.

We have not tailored our opinion to attract the most number of people - but rather - most people share at least a few common ideas with us.

This is a starting point we feel for open dialogue in America. We represent a silent yet large cross section of people. They honestly don't hate anyone. They just want to go in a new direction and we want to help take them there.

OUR OPPOSITION

With the demise of the Republican Party and the Democratic Party of the Old South, and the monopoly of the national political machine by non-whites, anti-Christ Jews, and ultra elitist whites, it would seem that those who hate our people are beyond destruction.

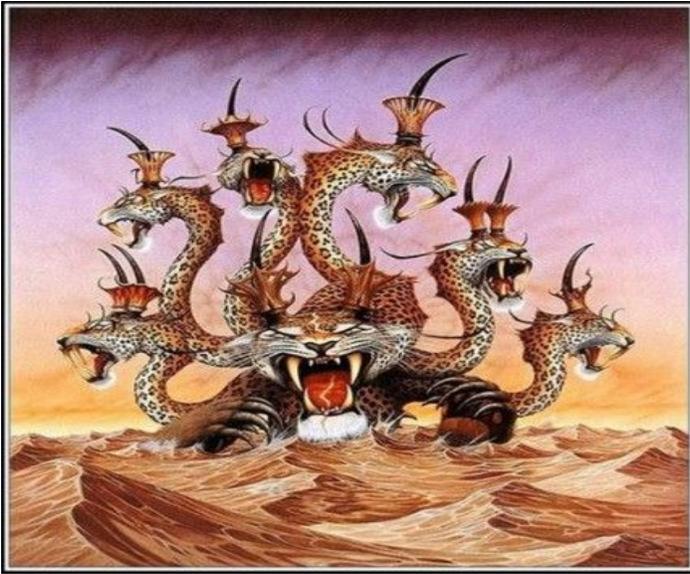

They control the banks, big labor, academia, media, and religion. The military is under their control as well as all levels of law enforcement. There is hardly anywhere we can go where we aren't monitored. There is not a word we say that is not listened to. Every facet of our life is in the radar of Big Brother.

Compare the patriot movement to that and we appear in effectual, underfunded, underdeveloped, and splintered. Let's stop and look at their weaknesses.

What we have described of Big Brother and entities under its control, appears on the surface to be outright conspiracy. This thinking serves them well. To believe that every event is planned and that every person, group or institution is a part of a master plan to destroy you gives little hope for victory.

The conspiracy is NOT the plan to destroy us. The conspiracy is the plan to make us think our opposition is unstoppable. The propaganda directed toward our people IS the conspiracy.

Our enemy is a many headed beast. And the weakness of this beast is that its many heads do not necessarily know what each other is doing. Furthermore, while the end result is the destruction of white Christian America, the goals of the many heads are often different. Herein lays their weakness.

For example:

The goal of International finance, entities such as the Bilderbergers, the Federal Reserve, etc, is wealth.

Through their manipulative tactics wars are waged, propaganda mills are run, and white Christians are caught in the aftermath. Elitists in these groups probably don't like the corner black thug any more than we do, but their ultimate goal is not to help blacks or other "minorities." Their goal is the acquisition of wealth. Constitutional government and Christian bans on usury are roadblocks to their goal. Our destruction is the consequence of their "love" of money, not the end goal.

The entertainment complex believes in the freedom of expression. It is not that they hate white people per se, but they hate white Christian civilization which has a history of rejecting filth. If they could promote their sickness without destroying our people, they probably would. But again, our destruction is the consequence of their unbridled pursuit of debauchery. We might stand in their way and so we become their dreaded opponent and their arch villain in movies, music, and literature.

And then there are institutions such as the military complex, the Internal Revenue service, the prison system, and the vanguards of higher learning. Each of these has a priority and that is its own perpetuation...their continuation. Because they become increasingly unjust, white Christian civilization which is the counterpoint to sinful humanistic government is viewed as the enemy.

But alas, all of these and many more fight against each other. Because they are all out for their own end, they cross paths with each other and often rub each other the wrong way. While the many headed beast appears to have its act together and everything under its dominion, the many headed beast is, in fact, unstable. And this instability means that it is not unstoppable.

Simply put, the present regime is multi faceted, uncooperative with each other, with diverging views and goals, and therefore weak.

To put it even simpler: There are so many screwballs in all of the many heads of Big Brother that they spend a great deal of time, money, and energy fighting against one another. This is good news because time spent fighting each other means time NOT spent fighting us. This is time we must use to our advantage!

THE COORDINATION FACTOR

While it is true that all of the various efforts, institutions, complexes, groups, and entities, spend a great deal of time fighting against each other for their own survival and continuation, there is one thing that will rouse them toward a coordinated effort like nothing else; violence.

Violence is the use of force for unlawful purposes and is not to be confused with defense or the brute force that often accompanies it.

Violence is alien to the sensitivities of our people, but is welcome by our enemies. Why do our enemies welcome violence? It is because it gives them cause to coordinate.

The use of violence by resisters will have the following outcome.

1. It provides propaganda ammunition. While the establishment attempts to keep society calm and lethargic, organized groups or lone wolves of a particular belief system are viewed as enemies of peace. Thus the establishment wins the support of the very people they are oppressing.
2. The violent tactics give rise to additional hate crime laws.
3. The violent tactics give rise to additional gun prohibition laws.
4. Big Brother comes to the rescue
5. The many heads of the beast stop fighting and look for targets
6. It destroys the legitimacy of those who are resisting tyranny.
7. It allows for opportunists to hijack the pure message of the resisters for personal gain

Non-violence must be maintained despite the efforts of provocateurs. Any use of violence or threats of violence is counterproductive and will lead to a head on assault by Big Brother. If persons or groups of persons in the white racialist cause ever decide to resort to violence because of impatience, ego, or unwillingness to adhere to the master plan for any reason, we must separate ourselves socially, ideologically, and politically. They must not deter us from our strategy.

THE MAKING OF A HERO

A hero (heroine is usually used for females) in Greek mythology and folklore, was originally a demigod, their cult being one of the most distinctive features of ancient Greek religion. Later, hero (male) and heroine (female) came to refer to characters who, in the face of danger and adversity or from a position of weakness, display courage and the will for self sacrifice—that is, heroism—for some greater good of all humanity. This definition originally referred to martial courage or excellence but extended to more general moral excellence.

The word came into English use in 1387 and still from its Greek origin means, warrior, protector, and defender.

We read about heroes all the time and we see them in movies and on television. There are unwilling heroes, those who don't want to get involved, but after a while they finally save the day. There are heroes who are basically kind of evil, but they end up doing something good. There are other types that are used by writers and story tellers. Then there are heroes who are simply people with traits that we admire.

On a website called the Hero Project that promotes heroism among young people, they are asked to describe who some of their heroes are and they are also told who the heroes of some famous people are.

Who are some of the heroes of today's young adults?

Warrior Hero

"Beowulf" is the oldest surviving English epic poem, written sometime in the 7th or 8th century. It is about the great Scandinavian hero Beowulf's journey to free Denmark by slaying the ogre, Grendel. Beowulf is made king of Geatland, his homeland, but is eventually killed by a fire-breathing dragon. The only known manuscript is in the British Museum in London. It is written in Old English, but translations can be found on the Internet. The name of the poet who wrote Beowulf is unknown.

Matt Killenbeck writes:

After reading the story of "Beowulf," I think Beowulf is my hero. The story described a perfect hero. He was strong, an outstanding fighter and very loyal to all who came into his presence. The story gives examples of his great courage and his fierce strength. In the story, Beowulf took on sea monsters and crushed them in his grip. When Beowulf went into battle, he believed in a fair fight. He believed that no fighter should have the upper hand.

With his skills and talent, he can overcome all. He fears no enemy. When fighting Grendel, a monster who has been terrorizing a village in the story, Beowulf fights hand-to-hand. This feat took great courage and skillful fighting. Beowulf fought many great battles. In his last battle, Beowulf was fatally wounded, but he won the battle before he died. This was the fall of a great hero.

Last, Beowulf was a very loyal hero. He showed fairness to all he came across, including his enemies. He believed that everybody was equal and no one was greater or better than anybody else. While in battle, Beowulf showed great loyalty to his enemies by fighting one-on-one. Neither he nor his foes had the upper hand. This is the major factor in Beowulf's greatness. Beowulf was also a hero because he fended-off Grendel and stopped him from killing any more of Hrothgar's men. This showed his great loyalty to Hrothgar and his people.

Explorer Hero

Dr. Robert Ballard is the "Indiana Jones" of the sea. He found the remains of H.M.S. Titanic and the Lusitania. He is also founder of the JASON Project, which educates millions of children through scientific discovery. Captain Nemo is his hero.

"I grew up wanting to be Captain Nemo from 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea." --Dr. Bob Ballard:

Captain Nemo was an explorer who used his submarine craft, The Nautilus, to navigate through an amazing underwater world. He had abandoned his life on land to explore the deep sea. His world is discovered when a French scientist, his servant, and a harpooner named Ned Land set out to search for a terrible sea monster that is sinking ships, especially warships. Instead, they discover that the sea monster is actually The Nautilus, captained by Nemo. Nemo allows them inside the submarine and proceeds to take them on a global adventure under the ocean. Captain Nemo is a hero because he designed and built The Nautilus himself. He was a scientist and an explorer, and was courageous enough to explore a place that no one had seen at that time. Jules Verne published the book around 1870, and at that time, not much was known about marine ecology. 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea and Captain Nemo helped to educate people about the importance of preserving life under the sea.

Entertainment Hero

Lady Gaga is launching a foundation with the help of the MacArthur Foundation and Harvard University. The Grammy-winning singer announced that she is launching the Born This Way Foundation, a nonprofit focusing on youth empowerment and "issues like self-confidence, well-being, anti-bullying, mentoring and career development."

Gaga's partners include the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, The California Endowment and the Berkman Center for Internet & Society at Harvard University. The foundation will be directed by the 25-year-old singer and her mother, Cynthia Germanotta.

"Together we hope to establish a standard of Bravery and Kindness, as well as a community worldwide that protects and nurtures others in the face of bullying and abandonment," Gaga said in a statement."

The multi-platinum singer is known for speaking out for others. She recently said she wanted to meet with Barack Obama to discuss her concerns over bullying, and she visited Maine to support the repeal of the military's "don't ask, don't tell" policy on gays.

She has won awards, released three platinum efforts - including her latest album, "Born This Way" - and has a massive online presence: The singer has over 15 million Twitter followers and 44 million Facebook fans.

"Lady Gaga will help empower and give voice to young people who find themselves overwhelmed, under supported, disconnected, isolated, bullied, or struggling," said Dr. Bob Ross, the CEO and president of The California Endowment. "This brand of leadership is sorely needed in today's world." She is considered a hero to many young people.

Cultural Hero

The Ngarrindjeri are an aboriginal nation that inhabits the Lower Murray, Coorong and Lakes area of South Australia. The Ngarrindjeri used to farm and raise livestock, but relied heavily on the rivers for food and for trade. Men raised sheep as a source of food and to trade the wool, while women gathered swan eggs and wove mats and baskets from rushes. They used river red gum trees to make bark canoes, which they used to fish and travel the river.

Around the 1830s, their way of life was disrupted by European missionaries. They refused to allow the Ngarrindjeri to practice their ceremonies, or to pass on their tribal laws. They couldn't practice their language, pass on their stories, or do any of the things that are vital to passing on a culture. They lost their land, many of their rights, and they slowly lost their culture. The Ngarrindjeri still live in the Lower Murray and Coorong, and though they have lost some of their culture they are working to preserve their way of life.

Major Moogy Sumner is an aboriginal Ngarrindjeri elder who understands the importance of preserving and passing on his culture. He believes that teaching people to look at their culture and their past helps them feel the spirit within. He works to preserve his culture by passing on the teachings and stories of his people.

Change Media worked with Major Moogy Sumner to produce Moogy's Yuki (Moogy's Bark Canoe), a documentary that captures the making of the first traditional Ngarrindjeri tree bark canoe in Boandik country in over 100 years. Indigenous students and community members from across south eastern Australia gathered to watch Major Moogy Sumner as he built his canoe. The first part of the documentary focused on traditional cultural knowledge of how to care for river red gums, including how to remove the bark from the tree. Although he used a cherry picker to reach the tree, the method in which he removed the bark was historically accurate. After the bark was removed from the tree, he demonstrated how to prepare the canoe, spear-making techniques, and then he launched the canoe.

Three generations of Ngarrindjeri watched this historic moment and reclaimed a part of their culture. The entire canoe-making process and launch was captured on film, allowing the members of the Ngarrindjeri to preserve their traditions.

Athletic Hero

On October 31st, 2003, young surfer, Bethany Hamilton suffered a big loss. But it wasn't a loss in one of her many surfing heats, she lost her arm! It was Halloween morning in Hawaii, and it was sunny and a perfect day for surfing. Bethany decided that she would go surfing near Tunnels Beach with her best friend, Alana Blanchard and Alana's father and brother. There were also six other surfers practicing nearby. She was catching great waves and all of a sudden, her life changed in an instant. She got bit by a 14 foot tiger shark! The shark bit her just 4 inches below her left shoulder and took the rest of her arm off! She definitely wasn't expecting that to happen to her on Halloween!

Bethany was planning on being a professional surfer before her accident in the waves. She was ranked 8th in the world for amateur surfers beforehand. "She is probably the best young surfer I have ever seen," said Bobo Bollin, who works at the Hanalei Surf Company. "She was going to be the women's world champion and I think she still will be." Her whole family has always been surfers and always been involved with her surfing. Bethany turned 14 on February 8th, 2004, so it was a young age to have something that bad happen to her, but she still has her whole life ahead of her.

Bethany Hamilton definitely qualifies to be a survivor hero according to T.S. Barron's book, "A Hero's Trail". She was bit by a tiger shark while surfing, and was able to compose herself, and swim to safety. She also overcame the loss of her left arm and rose to the challenge of going surfing out in the ocean again. This all happened within a month! Her life was at risk when the tiger shark bit her arm completely off and her instincts helped her get to safety and she was successful. Her bravery and courage are evident and those are true hero qualities.

Bethany Hamilton is now a role model to many people for what she has done. She turned a negative into a positive, which many people can't do! She did this by taking the tragedy that occurred and remained positive and continued to go forward with her dream. This inspired millions of people all across the world to try to find something good in something that only seems bad. She is obviously a survivor hero and is keeping her surfing career "alive" as well. She went back to surfing and only has one arm, and that is amazing!

Heroes?

You have just read five examples of heroes according to hundreds of thousands asked. I doubt that anyone reading this would consider Lady Gaga to be a hero. Nor would a man who carved a canoe out of a tree. To be more accurate, what he carved wasn't even a canoe, but rather a curved plank of wood that could be floated on like a bogie board. The other three examples definitely show traits that could be looked up to and admired. But none of these were heroes we picked, but rather the public at large.

Among the project's one hundred and twenty four "Freedom Heroes", all but four, Paul Revere, George Washington, William Wallace, and Thomas Jefferson, are men and women who have fought for non-whites through the undermining of white culture and civilization.

It is important to understand the types of heroes people look up to today. One of the greatest feats of our enemies has been to rob our people of its heroes. When our children do not have heroes, they have nothing to aspire to.

Our people have many heroes and it is a pity that they are not recognized any more. Below are two heroes of recent memory who fought for western Christian civilization, yet they are not counted as heroes for they have been for the most part, forgotten, vilified, or both.

TRUE HEROES

Gerda Koch

Gerda Marie Koch was born April 8, 1903 in Greenville, Wisconsin to a family of traditional German immigrants, who helped open "The Wilderness" and establish Christian civilization on these shores.

Gerda's entire life was devoted to Christian education for, as she believed, one could not attain true knowledge without the underpinning of Christian Faith. She taught at the Lutheran school in Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin in 1920, and graduated in 1922 from Dr. Martin Luther College in New Ulm, Minnesota. Gerda later attended Moody Bible Institute, graduating in 1936, subsequently teaching in numerous Wisconsin and Minnesota public schools. Gerda also earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Milwaukee State Teacher's College, which later became the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee.

In the late 1950's, after the late Senator Joseph McCarthy had exposed numerous Communists and their sympathizers in the State Department (and elsewhere) with the House Un-American Affairs Committee (HUAC), Gerda was surprised to learn Socialists were still being invited to speak in public schools, promoting secular humanism, a default religion which undermines Christianity. One in particular, the negro Carl Rowan addressed the PTA where she worked. After bringing the matter to the attention of Arthur J. Lewis, Assistant Superintendent of the Minneapolis public schools, Gerda found herself under pressure, and was subsequently fired.

Believing a Christian nation is entitled to a Christian administration and non-sectarian Christian education, Gerda began investigating anti-Christian influence in the public school system, and founded the Christian Research Center in 1958 as a vehicle for this investigation, also publishing a newsletter, Facts For Action, which remained in circulation for over forty years. In collaboration with educator Verne Kaub, Gerda authored the book, Federal Aid: Trap for the Unwary.

In the 1960's Gerda's outspokenness was challenged by a libel suit filed by then University of Minnesota professor Arnold Rose, whom she identified as a Communist collaborator with Swedish Socialist Gunnar Myrdal, author of the treatise on race relations, An American Dilemma. Having lost in a lower court, Gerda won on appeal to the Minnesota Supreme Court, after which Mr. Rose died. Gerda later was a candidate for Congress in Minnesota's 5th District.

After working with Sheldon Emery (founder of America's Promise) on his book, Billions For Bankers, Debts For the People, Gerda moved south to Eureka Springs, Arkansas, a quaint tourist town, home to the Great Passion Play founded by the late Gerald L.K. Smith whom she had asked to be a member of the board of directors of her Christian Research Center. She had the respect of many outstanding racist leaders for her unwavering commitment, insight, and bravery. She was ridiculed in the press and by public officials over and over again, but refused to back down. To this day her name is dishonored and her reputation attacked by enemies of our people.

Gerda Koch passed away on July 5, 1994, at the age of 91. Gerda Koch was a prolific writer and researcher and we are pleased to have her personal and extensive library at the SOTC Bible Camp.

Joseph McCarthy

He was born on a farm near Appleton, Wisconsin in 1908. He studied engineering and law at Marquette University, Milwaukee. He was elected Judge of 10th Circuit Court in 1942. Although exempted because he was a judge, McCarthy volunteered for the U.S. Marine Corps. He fought in the South Pacific and flew over 30 combat missions. He won the Distinguished Flying Cross. Admiral Chester Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Fleet, issued the following citation regarding the service of Captain McCarthy:

"For meritorious and efficient performance of duty as an observer and rear gunner of a dive bomber attached to a Marine scout bombing squadron operating in the Solomon Islands area from September 1 to December 31, 1943. He participated in a large number of combat missions, and in addition to his regular duties, acted as aerial photographer. He obtained excellent photographs of enemy gun positions, despite intense anti-aircraft fire, thereby gaining valuable information which contributed materially to the success of subsequent strikes in the area. Although suffering from a severe leg injury, he refused to be hospitalized and continued to carry out his duties as Intelligence Officer in a highly efficient manner. His courageous devotion to duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the naval service."

In 1946 he was elected to the U.S. Senate by an overwhelming majority. He was anti-tax and against price, rent and credit controls. His first major act was, even as a new senator, to lead the fight against continuation of wartime sugar controls.

In 1950, February 9, McCarthy made an electrifying speech at Wheeling, West VA, where he said he had a list of Communists in the State Department. By July he was a major political force. John F. Kennedy told Harvard students that "he knew Joe pretty well, and he may have something." In February 1952, John Kennedy called McCarthy a "great American patriot." In 1953 Bobby Kennedy joined McCarthy's staff and McCarthy was godfather to Bobby's first child. Bobby was always loyal to Joe.

Even as late as 1954 in Gallup polls taken, the majority of Americans supported him. He died in 1957.

With the opening of the KGB archives and the release of the VENONA intercepts - decoded Soviet KGB and GRU traffic - it has been proved that McCarthy was absolutely right about the extensive Soviet penetration of the U.S. government in all the most sensitive sections and its danger to America. According to the KGB archives the NKVD had 221 agents in the Roosevelt administration in April 1941 and the Soviet military GRU probably had a like number. He was proved right that the Communist Party, U.S.A., was an arm of the Soviet intelligence apparatus and the Soviet Union considered the US as their "main enemy." His liberal critics in academe and the mainstream media, who denied there was Communist subversion and made excuses for it, were proved absolutely wrong! This should have discredited the liberal ideology and those who mouthed it. Because the left had no answer or effective reply to the challenge McCarthy posed, they engaged in personal destruction. They smeared and demonized McCarthy because he told the truth. His valiant fight against Jewish Communism earned him national disdain as the originator of "McCarthyism" which today is used as a code word against those who attempt to expose Jewish Marxism.

The Difference Between a Heroic Act and a Hero

One important distinction is that between physical risk and social risk types of heroism. Heroism in service of a noble idea is usually not as dramatic as physical risk heroism. However, physical risk is often the result of a snap decision, a moment of action. Further, physical risk heroism usually involves a probability not the certainty of serious injury or death.

The individual performing the act is generally removed from the situation after a short period of time. On the other hand, it might be argued that some forms of civil heroism are more heroic than physical risk forms of heroism.

For example, let's consider a firefighter. Through great risk of physical harm, firefighters will face a lethal mix of gases from burning paint, furniture, insulation, and the like. They risk burns and disfigurement. Ceilings and walls may collapse on them. Going in to a burning building to save a life is certainly a heroic act and rightly receives our applause and gratitude.

But there is a difference between a heroic act and living the life of a hero. Bravery is sometimes confused with heroism. Take the terrorists who bombed the world trade center. Were they brave? Did they have courage? Did they have firmness of mind in the presence of danger?

Evil men can be brave. When we realize how important our body and life is to us, to risk it or to risk any type of pain is a brave act or an act of courage. But notice I did not say it was noble. Nobility is what distinguishes a person who does something brave (whether for righteous or evil reasons) and the person who has the spirit of a hero.

The willingness to endure pain or hardship does not equate to heroism. Heroes don't sacrifice unwilling innocents for a cause. Heroes will always seek to be noble and to protect the innocent.

Consider the firefighter again. He does something heroic. It is agreed. But to really know if he is a hero, one must look at the rest of his life. Sometimes heroic acts are done for personal gratification and other times it is just the gut instinct that comes with being in a certain place at a certain time and being confronted with a situation that demands immediate action.

We seek men and women who will live a heroic life, not merely look for circumstances in which they can perform a heroic deed. Living heroically may or may not involve physical risk, but it often times carries with it social risk. Making good decisions helps an individual wade through the muck and mire of this world as unscathed as possible, but knowing that living heroically and righteously for God and race may come at a cost. Knowing when and where to speak up and how, is something we want to impart to you. This involves using good judgment and being wholly committed.

THE MAKING OF A HERO

This is not a discussion of strategy or tactics. The use of effective strategy does not dictate who is a hero. We have witnessed many fine men and women throughout the ages who have been elevated to the status of hero, who were not on the winning end.

Why then is this topic important? No cause can win eventual success without heroes. Success may not be at the moment, but success is built on the step by step willingness for courageous men and women to rise above the common man, to step out from behind the walls of comfort, and to risk all.

Masterminded tactics are important and must be taught to the proper audience at the proper time, but every tactic is useless unless there are heroes.

THE SMEAR CAMPAIGN

The famous observation of Tertullian - a religious theoretician of the 2nd and 3rd century, that the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church, has a depth of insight which is all too often lost on white Christian activists today.

We have no trouble thinking of persecution as being a great obstacle to the spread of white nationalism. But how many can see the similarities with the historic rise of Christianity and the rise of racial consciousness?

His first work, The "Ad nationes" dealt entirely with the smear campaigns waged against the early Christians. He said, "In the first place they are proved to repose on unreasoning hatred only; the procedure of trial is illogical; the offense is nothing but the name of Christian, which ought rather to be a title of honor;"

In similarity to our present time, being a Christian, white nationalist, racist, or patriot is often enough to garner ridicule. It is shameful, but not a permanent situation.

Some will argue that martyred blood is required for the spread of the gospel. Yet, it is Christ's atoning blood alone that redeemed us.

In Colossians we read:

Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.....

If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister;

Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church:

Paul was willing to suffer on behalf of truth and his fellow Christians.

Those who fight for the cause of Christ have suffered persecution.

And while we are not out to make martyrs of our people, Tertullian was right in regard to the affect that the suffering of the early Christians had in leading to mass conversions of the people later.

If you will recall in our lessons on marketing or propaganda, our white race by nature is very compassionate. The early Christians did no harm, fought no unprovoked war, nor entered into scandal.

They did not seek to make martyrs by shedding innocent blood as if to strike the match that would lead to a general uprising.

As Tertullian said, no wrong could be found with these Christians except in the name itself.

A PAGE FROM RECENT HISTORY

Back in the mid eighties, there rose a group called The Order. These white nationalists desired to do something for their people. They wanted to get the ball rolling – as they say. But without a sincere understanding of Christianity and of the very nature of their white brothers and sisters, they created a sense of fear among white people. Their actions chased the sheep straight into the wolf's den.

And by their actions, federal officials attempted to throw into prison three men for sedition in what became known as the 2nd Great Sedition Trials. Louis Beam, Richard Butler, and Robert Miles were outspoken Christian Patriots. They neither advocated violence nor knew of The Orders founding. However, members of this paramilitary group attended meetings of all three men and this gave the government cause in their mind to group three innocent men together with the perpetrators of violent acts. The U.S. Attorney general at the time said that this trial would shut down the entire white nationalist movement for good. He was wrong.

Pastor Robb and other individuals who are still involved and with The Knights today, canvassed the state of Arkansas (the trials were held in Fort Smith, AR) giving hundreds of press conferences, press statements, and sitting down with reporters explaining why Miles, Beam, and Butler should not be tried for hate speech. Robb explained the tactics being used in attempting to associate these three innocent preachers with a guerrilla group – an association that did not exist. Pastor Robb led rallies every day leading up to the trial and held candlelight vigils. Both Pastor Robb and Rachel Pendergraft were character witnesses for these innocent men of God. All three were found NOT GUILTY of Sedition. In fact, even the members of The Order, while being found guilty of racketeering, were found not guilty of sedition.

I am not going to stand as judge of their character. They felt no hope for the future nor did they comprehend the longevity of the struggle. However, tactically speaking, they did not have a mass following as the early Klan did.

We must resist the idea that is foisted upon many that to resist physical confrontation is wimpy, sissy, or cowardly. The government is absolutely not fearful of armed insurrection or plots of rebellion. Such acts serve to strengthen their accusations. It causes the American people to turn to them for protection instead of understanding that unscrupulous demagogues in government positions have ulterior motives.

The psyche of the intended audience must be contemplated. Our people are a people of law and order and as out of order as the government is, the fact remains that in the minds of our people, the scales of law and order tip in the direction of D.C. and not in our direction. When will the scales tip in our favor? There is no fixed date. We must not give the appearance of evil. Leave the violence to the government and they will be their own undoing.

Why Character Assassination?

In his book, The Fight for America, Joseph McCarthy was asked “Why do you consider the principal purpose of the Communist Party line type of smear attack is being waged against you?”

And his reply was:

“The smear attacks are no longer being made with the hope that they can thereby force me to give up this fight to expose and get Communists out of government. They have learned by now that I am not much concerned and am in no way influenced by their smear attacks. The purpose now of the viciousness and intensity of the spear is to teach other men in public life that the same will happen to them if they dare to expose communists.”

And so it continues today.

Machiavelli, an Italian living during the Renaissance, is considered the father of modern political science. He said in relation to the self-interests of many: “This is to be asserted in general of men, that they are ungrateful, fickle, fake, cowardly, covetous, as long as you succeed they are yours entirely; they will offer you their blood, property, life, and children when the need is far distant; but when it approaches they turn against you.”

Of course, some have viewed his logic as flawed. Noting that self-interest can change from circumstance to circumstance.

Those who study political strategy use this as a means to know what motivating factors are needed at different times and seasons.

But this knowledge doesn't undercut the fact that it is a part of our carnal nature to put self-interests first, often times when it isn't even realized or when other reasons are given.

It is the serving nature that Christ wants us to have that enables men and women to become heroes.

In the context of politics, being a supporter requires only a passive recognition of an idea, while membership demands active advocacy and defense. There may be hundreds of sympathizers - perhaps even thousands - to every one person who will actively work for the idea.

Being a supporter is rooted only in a basic understanding, membership in the courage to personally advocate and disseminate what has been understood.

HEROES ARE IMPORTANT

When people feel they are unable to change a situation, they often then choose to ignore the situation.

Heroes will be that one man or one woman who despite knowledge of an immediate loss or the possibility of loss, will nevertheless stand for conviction. They know that their heroism added with that of others will keep hope alive for the average man or woman who wishes to have courage.

A courageous attitude that leads to heroism is something that we can develop within ourselves.

Fear is what leads to a lack of heroism and a heroic lifestyle

Often times through careful consideration an adult can recognize these things in their upbringing and chooses to seek God's guidance to overcome.

BUILDING CHILDREN WITH THE HEART OF A HERO

But as a parent, we have the incredible opportunity to nurture our children to live and think heroically. This is may be done in different ways whether we are speaking of the mother or the father, but when it comes to being fearful of society's views, both parents can teach a child in the same manner.

What causes fear? Sometimes fear stems from our own predisposition. All people fear, but some more than others.

Childhood experiences may induce fear:

Over protection: children can be taught to be fearful of situations, emotions, people, etc. There is nothing wrong with a certain amount of healthy fear, but we must teach our children to be courageous not fearful. Remember this if you are a parent. But understand your past if you are the one who has issues with fear.

Domination and explosive anger by parents can lead to fear.

When a negative thinking pattern develops we must turn to Christ: Philippians 4:13 " I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Sin Produces Fear: 1 John 3:21 "If our heart condemns us not, then have we confidence toward God." When we suffer from a guilty conscience, it can manifest itself in fear and a lack of confidence in Christ.

Lack of Faith: 1 John 1:9 "God has cleansed us of all sin and we are new creatures" Understand the power that can come from being a Christian. Christ has cleansed us and knowing this can help us through times when we lack faith and begin to fear.

Worry about the future: The psalmist said: "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it" Ps. 118: 24 We should always prepare for the future, but never forget that our ultimate goal is not to be prepared for some day in the future, but to live every day right now as committed Christians. Take precautions, yes, but Trust in God.

Habit can Intensify fear - conditioned response. Our people are in habitual fear. The public at large is fearful of the smear campaign. Everyone is scared of being called a name. But getting through it and realizing it isn't the end of the world helps in the forming of new habits. As a parent it is crucial that we do not train our children to always be fearful. If a fearful adult, we must ask for Godly guidance as we set to redefine our life.

Recall what was said previously about our opposition and their weaknesses. Don't allow the enemy to set the standards for your life.

Realize that Fear is Sin: Romans 14:23 Everything that does not come from faith is sin.

Steps to creating a Culture of Heroism

- Ask God to take away the habit of fear
- Read about Heroes
- Show examples of heroism to your children
- Give them opportunities to act faithfully and bravely for their race.
- Practice keeping your cool and holding your temper, but do not fear conflict. We must each work to develop the personal hardiness necessary to stand firm for principles we cherish.
- Imagine future scenarios where your beliefs come into question and you are in conflict. Visualize yourself being strong and wise. This does not mean to practice arguing with people, but rather staying true to your convictions. How will you act, what would you say?

Finally, we must not anticipate negative consequence such as being socially ostracized. If our course is just, we must trust that others will eventually recognize the value of our heroic actions. Understand that most people who follow through on their convictions do so because they witnessed someone else do it first.

MAKING HEROES

One of the most critical aspects of parenthood is in the making of heroes. In fact, I would venture to say that teaching children to obey God is THE ultimate goal. Parents are instructed to do this by teaching their own children to obey them first. By training children to obey authority, they are formed into Godly members of the Kingdom. But what about unjust authority? Disobeying unjust authority is often what heroism demands.

Teaching children to disobey unjust authority

- Support critical thinking abilities in children. Study Bible heroes and heroes of the past who had to make tough decisions. Help your children learn how these men and women came to their conclusions and why they acted in the way they did.
- Reward and commend your children for moral behavior
- Give your children social recognition for following through on moral behavior and standing on conviction or rightly discerning a situation. Yes, it is okay to brag to others that your son or daughter not only was aware of the interracial couple at the mall, but then opened up and discussed it with you. For a three or four year old child it might be a simple, “That’s gross.” Or for an older child or tween it may be verbal recognition that the interracial couple or adoption is anti-white genocide.
- Promote critical thinking that challenges false ideologies and bad means to good ends
- Teach your children not to live on mindless “auto-pilot”
- Teach them to reflect on details of the immediate situation; think before acting. This goes for adults as well. DON'T BE REACTIVE.
- Promote personal responsibility and accountability of one’s actions

- Support independence over group conformity / but also learn the right time to conform as in conforming to noble Christian standards. (Note: Marxists originally supported independence among the youth until the youthful rebellion against traditional values had been achieved and then the communists formed them into the new multi-racial society.)
- Increase awareness of when conformity to the group norm is counter-productive and should not be followed
- Understand when independence should take precedence despite possible social rejection
- Never sacrificing freedom for promised security
- Engage in life as fully as possible, yet be mindful and aware, attuned to the moment, and prepared to disengage and think critically when necessary
- Do not accept putdowns against your people.

There are times when we are called to obey unjust authority. There are many things in the world that are unjust, but we obey in light of our greater purpose. It is when a moral issue is at stake, that we must have the mental and spiritual fortitude to resist. As parents we must teach it. As adults we must practice it.

ARE YOU AN ABUSED CHRISTIAN?

Let's discuss the subject of mental abuse in the modern church or church system. However, I want to point out that this goes much deeper than what we generally think of as mental abuse. Typically when we think of mental abuse we consider such things as name calling, put downs, or the withholding of love and affection. All of these things can injure a person's self esteem, their potential for success, and even their health.

Yet, while the above may seem cruel and we all recognize it exists it doesn't have the same devastating consequences as the rampant abuse present in today's church system. The abuse that is being hurled out of the pulpits is directed toward one group of people and only one group.

Often times in the case of physical or emotional abuse by a parent - one child may suffer more than the others. Perhaps in some twisted way, the parent feels that this particular child deserves the abuse. Maybe the parent thinks the child is to blame for a breakdown in the family - but that parent never looks to himself or herself as the true origin of chaos in the family.

Sometimes the abused child is an achiever and outperforms his siblings. This makes the other children appear less capable, which they may be. But the irony is that the more the child tries to please the parent by excellence in behavior, the angrier the parent becomes.

The abuse that is rampant in 99.9999% (this figure is closer to 100% - but...) of the churches is based upon pure evil and the preachers of today have drunk from Satan's cup of damnation - they are disconnected from Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit.

Like the abusive parent, the preachers of today are directing their venom at a particular child or group and that group is the white race.

The white family is the recipient of Satan's wrath and abuse and He is using the preachers as his tools of destruction.

John 3:16 is a favorite childhood verse of many, and is perhaps the first and maybe only verse a person will ever learn and remember. Even many who don't claim to be Christians will use this verse as a sort of - aha or gotcha - verse when debating Christians.

According to many, this verse, "For God so loved the WORLD that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life." is tantamount to saying, if you believe in a God - any God - then you will get to float around in the clouds for eternity. Or if you are a Christian then you may think of it as God saying that He loves the earth and all the people and things on it so much that if you love Him, you will love the world and then you will have eternal life.

But even a quick look at this verse will show a stark contrast in the reality of the meaning and the customarily taught meaning. The word world here comes from the Greek word Cosmos and it means orderly arrangement and it relates directly to the arrangement of the natural world.

But even in my explanation I use the word “world.” Again, we are narrowing our idea to what we think of as the plants, animals, and people that live on the earth. Yet, it is more than the physical things we can see, feel, smell, touch, or sense. It is how it is arranged. And because God is the one who arranged it then this arrangement is divine in its origin. Therefore we could read the first part of this verse as, “For God so loved His Divine Order.”

And then the second word we are going to look at is, “believeth” which comes from the Greek word Pisteuo and its root pistis and peitho meaning to assent to authority, to rely upon, to obey, to yield, to be trustworthy, genuine and unadulterated.

This gives us a much more accurate picture of what it means to, “believeth in Him.” It's not just some general token agreement that yes, Jesus is God - now back to my regular life. These are action words. We are to obey God, to yield to God, to be trustworthy to God, to be genuine and unadulterated in our commitment to Him.

This is an action statement. Are we actively obeying God's word and doing so with a genuine heart. And do we really understand that God loves the way He organized the universe. And I'm not just speaking of the placement of the stars and moons and so forth, but God loves the arrangement of life.

Side Note: we often hear that the founding fathers were deists because they so often used the phrase, “of nature and nature's God.” These people understood that nature was God - God is nature - not that he is a tree or a flower (Pantheism) but rather He is the author of these things - everything is of Him and by Him - there is no nature or natural world apart from God - it all comes from Him.

God prescribed a set arrangement of the races beginning in the book of Genesis. He established His Divine Order upon earth with the marriage of a white man and white woman who were destined to become a great people - to rule and oversee His government. And His government's purpose is to insure compliance with His Divine order.

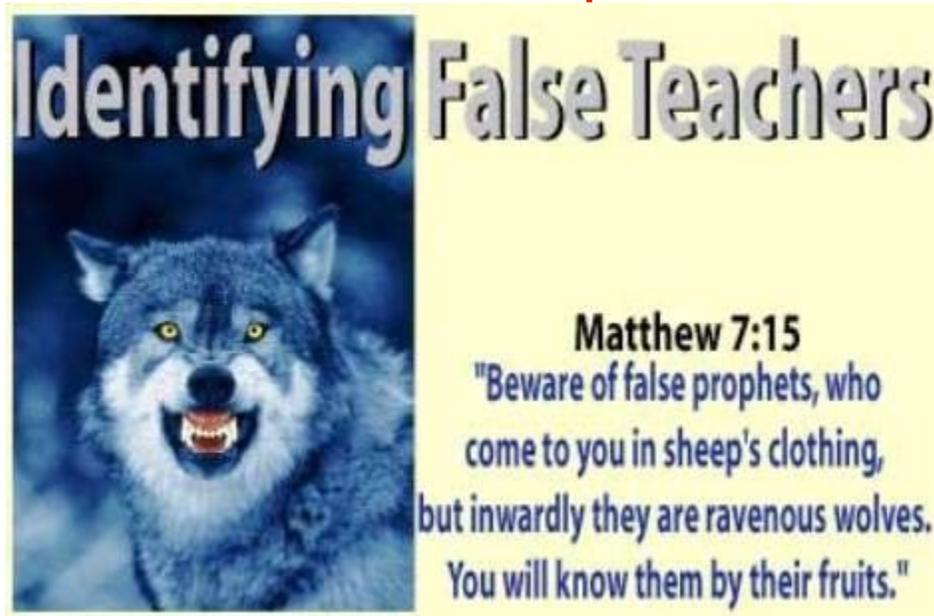

This Divine Order or Arrangement and the government (Kingdom) of God are under attack. And the stewards of this “order” are the white race.

Is this easily proven by Scripture? Yes, does Scripture need twisting to prove it? No.

Now, it is not within the scope of this topic to prove that the white race is God's beloved Israel, His bride, and His church. But what of those who are having an inward struggle trying to come to terms with the feelings they have about race mixing and the contradictory feelings their preacher says they should be having.

Are these people being spiritually abused and manipulated by the man they thought was a spokesman for God?

And how do you know if you or someone you know is a victim of spiritual abuse?

1. You have a distorted view of God. Does the Jesus that your preacher talks about accept homosexuality? Most of you will say, of course NOT! Jesus definitely does not condone homosexuality. But, does your preacher teach that Jesus loves the homosexual? Does your preacher teach that there is no difference in sin and that it is no more sinful to be a homosexual than it is to tell a lie? Do they say that the Christian thing to do is to minister to the homosexual? Do they teach that the Law of God regarding the homosexual has been done away with and nailed to the Cross?
2. What about Race Mixing? Does your preacher teach the theory of Evolution? Does your preacher teach that all families and races on the earth came from the same two people? Does your preacher teach that the races all lived in harmony until the tower of Babel when God separated the people into different language groups? Does your preacher teach that although God told His servant nation Israel to NEVER EVER Mix with another race that He broke His own law and order to become a mulatto or mongrel savior representing a combination of all the races of the world?

Because Jesus Christ is said to be bi-racial, does your preacher say that intermarriage between the white and non-white races is divinely established by God himself?

Does your preacher teach that the last great work of the church is the building of worldwide racial harmony through the mingling of the races in marriage, family, government, and church?

Would the Jesus Christ that your preacher tells you to love and have faith in, perform a wedding ceremony for a mixed race couple? Would the modern Jesus help organize international adoptions of non-white children into white homes? Would the Jesus of today find glory in an integrated worship service? Would the modern Jesus approve of sending the Church tithe (His first fruits) to heathen lands that neither love nor understand Biblical truth?

As I just showed you, many sincere Christians have a distorted view of God and this distorted view of God also causes many to question Christianity itself.

But what of the relationship you have with your pastor or church? Is there more evidence that you may be the victim of spiritual abuse?

3. What if you have honest questions about race? But first let me ask you this. If you have concerns about the right way to discipline your children, are you scared to talk to your preacher about it? If you want to ask your preacher about the necessity of Baptism for salvation are you fearful to do so? If you want to talk about pornography, abortion, lying, cheating, stealing, murder, and so on, are you comfortable with these topics of discussion with your preacher, Sunday school teacher, church board or elders? Most of you will probably say yes, these are topics that do not cause fear and trepidation on your part if you were to honestly ask questions.

But what about race? Are you scared to touch upon the subject of race because you might look like an evil person? Are you worried that they will think you aren't a real Christian? Do you worry you may be ostracized from your church friends and church home if you have concerns about race? Even if you believe that all races evolved from one union and racism is a sin, would you be fearful to let your preacher or church friends know that you had some doubts even if minuscule.

If you saw a mixed race couple walking down the street would you immediately feel guilty and as if you partook in a great sin should a fleeting thought of disapproval enter your mind? Would you tell your preacher about that moment? Would you pray about it and perhaps ask forgiveness for having a "racist" thought?

It is very difficult for anyone to admit they are being abused for several reasons.

1. They begin a vicious circle of introspection. The negative perceptions they are having about themselves in regard to these thoughts must mean they deserve any condemnation by their preacher or church. After all, if they didn't have these terrible thoughts about racial pride then they wouldn't be in this situation.

The abuse seems normal. Many times those in abusive relationships can't fathom any other way of life so they just keep their eyes down, their mouth shut and attempt to never ever rock the boat.

I have known many people who will continue going to a certain church because that's just what they do. They have friends at church, maybe they sing in the choir or teach Sunday school or are on some committee. Every Sunday, they get up, get dressed, and head off to church because that is what they have always done. They will overlook the preacher's teaching that race mixing is acceptable and right before God. They will look past the race mixed couples sitting in the church pews and they will look the other way when Christian families become racially mixed by the addition of non-white adopted children. And they will ignore the use of their offerings and tithe to fund non-white foreign mission programs. They will ignore all of these things because they know no other way. They keep going back to the same place of spiritual abuse.

3. Shame. Millions of white people are shamed into continuing their abusive relationship with their church. Recent studies of the human brain show that white people actually experience a decline in brain function when put on the spot regarding their perceptions of race. This has been found in no other race. White people have been systematically programmed to feel remorse, shame, and guilt for being white. This did not begin with the movie or television industry. It began in the pulpits of the churches, because this is where the watchmen of God were seduced by satanic ideas of tolerance to capitol sins, namely homosexuality and race mixing. These preachers were seduced because they did not heed God's warning to beware of the Jews who claim to be His chosen but are not - to beware of those who blaspheme Jesus Christ. And yet the preachers now have the audacity to call our faith Judeo Christianity!

When Jesus walked the earth He referred to the Pharisees, a Jewish dominated religious sect (not to be confused with Judeans) as a brood of vipers. In Matthew chapter 12 verse 34 he said, "You brood of vipers, how can you, being evil, speak what is good."

Let's look at the use of the phrase "brood of vipers" and read the story of Paul in Acts 28. Verses 1-6 "And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita. And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live. And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm. Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god."

Vipers were small snakes that often resembled sticks and something useful in building a fire. But this viper had bitten and hung on to Paul and did not let go. It wasn't that the viper would just bite you and then be on their way, they would hang on. The people thought that Paul was a murderer for the very fact that only a murderer would deserve such a horrible death.

But there is more about the viper. They multiplied quickly and they liked to congregate in cool places. A traveler may be looking for a cool place like a cave or under the shadows of a large rock and thinking they were safe they let down their guard and low and behold the viper strikes.

Today, many find comfort in their church. It's nice, the people are friendly, and you feel good after going. But are you being lured into a false sense of security? Are you being abused and quilted into behaving a certain way?

Christ warns us in Matthew of the false shepherds who come in sheep's clothing but are ravenous wolves. In 2 Corinthians 11: verse 13-15 Paul says that false prophets disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. In Galatians 2:4 we are told that false brethren "had been sneaked in." In Matthew 10, Jesus sent the disciples to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. He said, "Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves."

But how can sheep help other lost sheep while in the midst of wolves? They have to have a strong shepherd and that shepherd is Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ promises truth to those who seek and love the truth despite the consequences that can come with following Christ. And He will send delusion to those who don't truly love the truth (2 Thess. 2:11).

Many false prophets who look all shiny on the outside base their entire ministry on being loved by all. The truth of Christ is not their moral guideline, but rather living peacefully with all, even those who despise and hate Christ.

The only cure for those suffering from spiritual abuse, who have the gut instinct or feeling that God's divine order is being perverted and God's kingdom is under attack is to put their whole faith in Christ. Yet, you must truly seek this with an open mind for we are told that the meek shall inherit the earth and "meek" means teachable.

If what God is telling you doesn't match up with what your preacher is telling you then what will you do? Will you decide that it's easier to go along with what the preacher says? Will you bury your feelings about racial integrity because it might make you feel ashamed if you admitted it to your preacher? Then how can you be sure you are really seeking the truth? Or are you actually seeking approval from the modern religious system we call Judeo-Christianity?

These are hard questions you have to ask yourself. You can't let your preacher scare you into submission because He has led you to believe that he speaks with Christ's authority. After all, if you don't agree with him on racial mixing, does he in any way make you feel like you are disobeying God himself? It's hard to do what you think God wants you to do if on the other hand you have spent your whole life thinking your preacher or your church or your particular brand of Christianity speaks on the authority of God. If you deny them then you are denying God. Isn't that what they want you to think?

That, my friend, is spiritual abuse. And only an open and honest relationship with Jesus Christ can help you break these chains of abuse.

THE BEDROCK OF OUR CIVILIZATION

Christianity has been central to the building of Western civilization. It is the cornerstone of our vanishing republic, a republic that Pastor Robb has noted is now dead.

If you agree that we are in the “end times” whether that is a generation or several, then you must be curious about what the Bible has to say about Christianity and the “end times.”

It is important for us to look at this Laodicean Church of Revelation 3:14-21. The Laodicean Church is the last church before the final judgment from God. It is a church of immense tolerance. We are told that though it is powerful and rich it is “miserable, wretched, poor, blind and naked,” vs. 17.

What an accurate description of the modern super churches growing in America today. There are many examples of churches today that pride themselves on being diverse. Virtually every church today supports racial integration, including interracial dating and marriage, close friendships, and adoptions. Most are now soft on homosexuality or like to cite the mantra that they hate the sin, but love the sinner. They teach young people to win homosexuals to Christ by being their friend and then somehow these young homosexuals will be “cured.” Instead, our impressionable youth are morally stained and become confused instead of being bold for Christ.

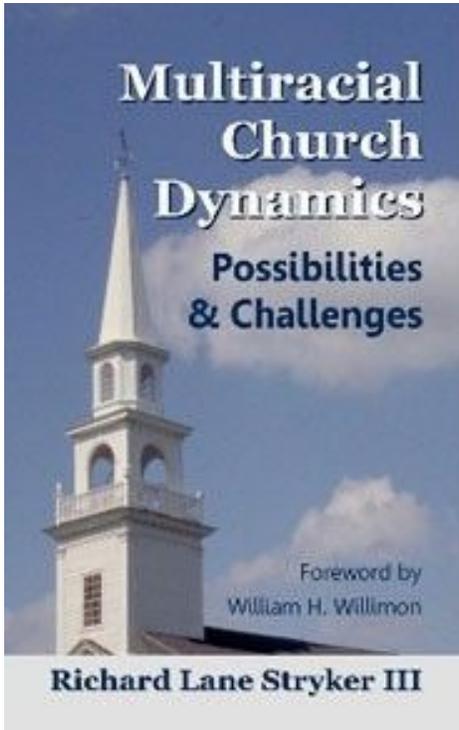

These churches promote tolerance and are a part of the One World Church.

This does not mean that everything these churches teach is bad. They sound good and say many things that white people like. But it is a part of the deception. These churches simply have no backbone!

Verses 15-16 of Rev. 3: “And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write...I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm and neither cold nor hot I will spue thee out of my mouth.”

This church has no hatred for evil and sin. They are tolerant. They want to be liked by the world. They might say they are vilified and hated by the establishment, liberals, big brother, etc. However, the fact is, these churches are friends of the world as proven by their quickness in backing down every time the subject of white racial preservation is brought up.

There is much more to say about the Laodicean church, but what does the name itself mean? The Greek word for Laodicea is Laodikeia. It is a combination of two other words. These two words are Laos and dike.

Laos means “a people (in general, thus differing from demos which denote one's own population.

Understand clearly what this says. It means other people who are not of one's one people

The second word dike means “right (as self-evident) justice (the principle, a decision, or its execution.)”

The Laodicea church literally means a church of other people's rights. It is a multi-racial church. It disregards kind after kind and ignores the specific and separate genders God created. It has deceived and captured our people and does not represent Biblical Christianity.

Our nation was founded upon Christianity and restricted citizenship to white people.

Our communities must do the same.

MASTER PLAN

Details change, boundaries change, and oppressive rulers change faces and names, but one thing remains the same; God's plan for our people. It is this truth that is liberating. We can be assured that as time marches on so does the responsibility and purpose of our race. Our people have been called to repentance and from among them men and women are chosen to be the light bearers and to sound an alarm. Just as the Shepherd Jacob was called or the Shepherdess Rachel, so too God sees into the hearts of men and women and chooses some to step out from the crowd for a noble cause.

It has been the intention of this primer to shed light upon grave evils that affect our nation, to expound upon inconsistencies that we witness, to explain our organization, to show the correlation between events in the past and current and future troubles we face, and to give common sense advice in regard to how relate to our people as individuals, families, and as a movement.

When one devotes themselves to a cause they often desire to know of a strategy. There is strategy for a particular campaign. There is strategy for personal and organizational conduct. Everything worth doing well has a strategy and as mentioned previously details change and therefore precise schedules and time lines can't be accurately predicted. There must, however, be a vision and a framework with an eye toward the future.

The Knights Party is not alone in recognizing the balkanization of America. It is being publicized in all corners of the country. We are different in the fact that we view what is happening as divine providence – that is – God's will. It all goes back to God bringing our people into submission and repentance; submission to Jesus Christ and repentance for turning our backs on racial purity.

Through disaster and destruction, our nation will rise and throw off the shackles that have bound us. Our people have a conquering spirit and it is this attribute that leads our enemies to stifle our pride and ambitions.

WHEN WILL AMERICA COLLAPSE?

Sitting in a crowded dinner and music theater recently in Branson, Missouri, I noticed that about 60 percent of the approximately 3000 attendees were above the age of 65. Another 25 percent were in the 40-55 age range and were accompanied by teens and tweens. 10 percent were younger married couples and their children. There were a very small percentage of non-whites.

Of course, the venue itself was Christian oriented and more of a draw to the older crowd, but overall, it was a good representative of the white race in America. Obviously if we were to look at a similar size crowd in perhaps Las Vegas, the ratio of whites versus non-whites would be far different. But considering the Branson crowd is a good way to judge the overall white population of America because so many were gathered together in one place, America's white population is old! What will our children do and when will America collapse? The age of the population is a good determination.

While it is true that many countries have fallen over an extended and continued period of decay and then just gradually cease to be, sometimes countries just hit a brick wall and crash. Consider the Soviet Union.

Niall Ferguson, professor at Harvard University and Harvard Business School and a fellow at Jesus College, Oxford, argues that not all countries fall in a predictable way, some experience a catastrophic shock. Note the observations he made in the Vancouver Sun, in British Columbia on March 8, 2010.

“The most recent and familiar example of precipitous decline is the collapse of the Soviet Union...less than five years after Mikhail Gorbachev took power, the Soviet Imperium in central and Eastern Europe had fallen apart, followed by the Soviet Union itself in 1991. If ever an empire fell off a cliff, rather than gently declining, it was the one founded by Lenin.

“If empires are complex systems that sooner or later succumb to sudden and catastrophic malfunctions, what are the implications for the United States today? First, debating the stages of decline may be a waste of time – it is a precipitous and unexpected fall that should most concern policy makers and citizens. Second, most imperial falls are associated with fiscal crisis.

“Alarm bells should therefore be ringing very loudly indeed as the United States contemplates a deficit for 2010 of more than $1.5 trillion – about 11 percent of GDP, the biggest since World War...

“These numbers are bad, but in the realm of political entities, the role of perception is just as crucial. In imperial crisis, it is not the material underpinnings of power that really matter, but expectations about future power...One day, a seemingly random piece of bad news... Suddenly, it will not be just a few policy wonks who worry about the sustainability of U.S. Fiscal policy but the public at large, not to mention investors abroad. It is this shift that is crucial...

“Neither zero percent interest rates nor fiscal stimulus packages can achieve a sustainable recovery if people in the United States and abroad collectively decide overnight, that such measures will ultimately lead to much higher inflation rates or outright default. Bond yields can shoot up if expectations change about future government solvency, intensifying an already bad fiscal crisis by driving up the cost of interest payments on new debt. Just ask Greece.

Ask Russia, too. Fighting a losing battle in the mountains of the Hindu Kush has long been a harbinger of Imperial fall. What happened 20 years ago is a reminder that empires do not in fact appear, rise, reign, decline and fall according to some recurrent and predictable life cycle...

“Rather, empires behave like all complex adaptive systems. They function in apparent equilibrium for some unknowable period. And then, quite abruptly they collapse. Washington, you have been warned”

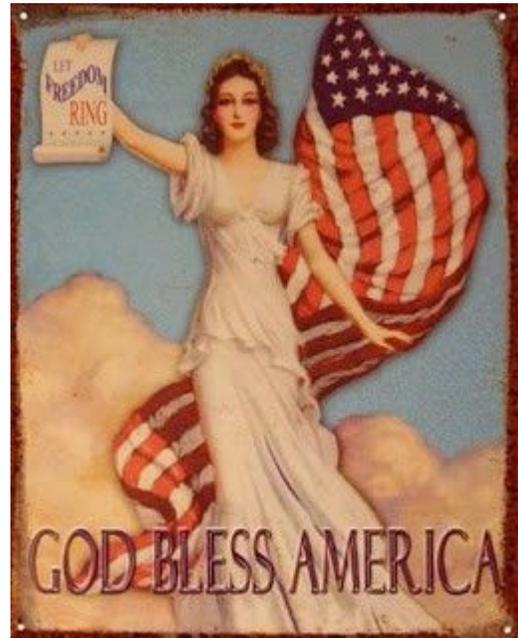

When will a financial collapse occur? Nobody knows. Many can predict, but no one knows for sure and be wary of anyone who says they do know. The government, just like a magician, has many deceptive ways to keep the audience spellbound. And when there is a spellbound public, the government and central banks are able to continue their manipulation of finance and keep the house of cards from falling. But the house of cards built on a shaky foundation will always end up falling.

The increasing racial turmoil and passing of millions of elderly white people is sure to shake this house of cards.

Millions of non-whites continue to pour into this country and demand financial assistance of all sorts. Just the demand on the infrastructure, healthcare system, and educational systems is enough, but the entitlement programs eat up the tax dollars also. When the old white people are gone, who is going to get blamed when Juan from Mexico, or Belyani from the Philippines don't get their food stamps? One guess. It will be the small number of white children that sat in that Branson theater. Everyone else will be dead or very old and those white kids will be adults, hopefully with a few children of their own.

So, can we predict an exact time? No. However, we do know that an unprecedented enormous upheaval is about to occur with the population shift that is coming. And it isn't just the U.S., but western civilization as a whole which has served as the cornerstone of the entire world.

The collapse is near – a generation perhaps? Will we be ready?

THE REPUBLIC IS DEAD

Pastor Robb has gone on record as stating, "the republic is dead." You may wonder to yourself how this can be possible. The White House still sits in D.C., the flag is still waving, and Congress still meets to pass laws. Donald Trump won with the help of millions of white people. But the truth is that the republic, as formed and fashioned by our founding fathers, is dead and buried. There is now only a vague recognition of it. The United States of America is long gone. We are no longer a sovereign nation representing a cohesive group of racially, culturally, and religiously, identical people. We are now living in an empire. The Oxford Reference English Dictionary defines empire as a state with politico-military dominion of populations who are culturally and ethnically distinct from the imperial (ruling) ethnic group and its culture — unlike a federation, an extensive state voluntarily composed of autonomous states and peoples.

You may recall that prior to the organizing of the colonies via the constitution, we were organized under the Articles of Confederation. Both documents recognized the sovereignty of the states and recognized that this was a Christian country (as per the dating included [Articles: Delegates of the United States of America in Congress assembled did on the fifteenth day of November in the year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy seven] [Constitution: Done in Convention by the Unanimous Consent of the States present the Seventeenth Day of September in the Year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and Eighty seven])

Furthermore, Congress held that any colonies or territories seeking entrance into the new country must submit a state constitution that was consistent with the Declaration of Independence and the North West ordinance which stated that religion and morality were necessary to good government and that public schools would be instituted for the purpose of training boys and girls in religion and morality.

The Ordinance was approved by the House on July 21, 1789, and by the Senate on Aug 4, 1789. This was the same Congress that was simultaneously framing the religion clauses of the First Amendment. And for decades after the Bill of Rights was passed, this Ordinance was extended by Congress to new states admitted to the Union. Religion was understood to mean Christianity as verified by documents and correspondence of the founding fathers, too numerous to mention here.

The first naturalization law in the United States was the Naturalization Act of 1790, which restricted naturalization to "free white persons" of "good moral character" who had resided in the country for two years and had kept their current state of residence for a year. In 1795 this was increased to five years residence and three years after notice of intent to apply for citizenship, and again to 14 years residence and five years notice of intent in 1798.

The United States was founded as a white Christian nation and the founders intended it to remain as such. It was not an empire. The rulers and the people were of the same faith and same race because the rulers were the people themselves via representatives whom they had put their trust in - knowing the representatives were required to profess a belief in Christianity and to be of high moral character. The United States was never an empire.

Great Britain is an example of an empire in that they conquered and ruled many heathen lands and the authority was vested in the white rulers, while the subjects in many lands were of diverse racial and religious backgrounds. Still, they sought to keep the color barrier intact.

Today, however, The United States is a vast compilation of numerous racial and religious groups, ruled over by atheistic Jews and their racially diverse puppets. The American Empire is Not the End

Nation (nā'ʃən), *sb.*¹ Forms: 4 naciun (e, -cioun, 4-6 nacion, (4 -one), -cyon, (3 -one), 6 natyon, Sc. natioun, naceoun, 4- nation. [a. F. nation, † nacion, etc., ad. L. natiōn-em breed, stock, race, nation, f. nāt-, ppl. stem of nascī to be born. Cf. Sp. nacion, It. nazione.]
An extensive aggregate of persons, so closely associated with each other by common descent, language, or history, as to form a distinct race or people, usually organized as a separate political state and occupying a definite territory.
In early examples the racial idea is usually stronger than the political; in recent use the notion of political unity and independence is more prominent.

Yes, as Pastor Robb has referenced many times, the republic is dead and this country is dead. Yet, our nation is not dead. Our nation is our race. To the left you will see an older definition of nation.

Also: Nation - Middle English nacioun, from Anglo-French naciun, from Latin nation-, natio birth, race, nation, from nasci to be born; akin to Latin gignere to beget.

Our nation is far from dead. It is under attack and there is an active plan of genocide against our nation, but we are not at the end. We are in a period of Transition!

MISSION TRANSTION

As just stated, we are in a period of transition. The war we are engaged in is not about saving the republic or saving this country. It is about saving our nation!

This is the trap that so many conservatives have fallen into. They are trying to save the republic or the country without realizing that it was the nation that gave birth to the republic. Without saving the nation (our race) there is no salvaging the republic. They believe that the constitution itself is the root of the greatness this country once had. To them, it doesn't matter what color or faith the population is as long as the constitution, flag, White House, and Congress still exist. They fail to see that the republic has already transitioned into a multi racial and multi faith, empire which itself is a part of the globally organized "mystery Babylon" whose intended goal is the destruction of our people and faith.

NATION STATE

Political theorists, both past and contemporary, argue over the precise definition of a nation-state. Some believe that a Nation – State is created when a political body organizes people of similar language together. Others assert that culturally similar people come together to form a political body.

Webster's dictionary defines it as: : a form of political organization under which a relatively homogeneous people inhabits a sovereign state; especially : a state containing one as opposed to several nationalities. In this sense, they refer to nationality as the country of one's origin.

THE UPSIDE OF GENOCIDE

It may sound bizarre to suggest that there is an upside to genocide, but if we truly believe Romans 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose, then we must acknowledge God's infinite wisdom.

Rather than nation-states based upon cultural or language identity, and the ensuing conflicts that can and do result, the new nation-state will be squarely identified by race. You must remember, that the United States of America was indeed this concept in practice. States of diverse cultures from Europe, but of all one race, united together for their mutual protection and preservation, yet retaining their sovereignty; nation – states, side by side, working in unison for the advancement of their race and faith; Prophetic Indeed!

The old nation-states of Europe did not unite under the banner of race, it often times was just not an issue because of the geographic separation. To those Europeans who did come into contact with non-whites, race mixing was generally considered abhorrent. Conflicts arose among white people based on cultural, territorial, linguistic, or religious persuasion.

Through divine providence, we have been forced by the Almighty to cast aside these secondary differences and unite as one people with one faith. The browning of America will hasten this recognition. We are not just Irish, German, Russian, Slavic, Swedish, French, English, etc. we are Caucasian – we are WHITE and MUST UNITE!

The White Anxiety Crisis

We mentioned the white anxiety crisis earlier. The following excerpt was published in the March 22, 2010 edition of Time Magazine. Now we will quote it at length.

“Two competing narratives dominate our debate about the ongoing ethnic and demographic transformation of America. The first holds that non-European immigrants – O.K., let's be honest, Mexicans – will rip apart the nation's social fabric. The second has it that the diversity of younger generations of Americans will inevitably lead to a more integrated, post racial era.

But both of these narratives are off the mark. With some minor differences, today's immigrants are assimilating into U.S. Society in ways not terribly unlike those of millions before them. At the same time, it is likely that decades from now, Americans will still invest a lot of meaning in group distinctions.

The most profound changes in American race relations, however, will revolve around the other side of the equation: native born white Americans.

“As much as Americans pride themselves on the notion that their national identity is premised on a set of ideals rather than a single race, ethnicity or region, we all know that for most of our history, white supremacy was the law of the land. In every naturalization act from 1790 to 1952, Congress included language stating that the aspiring citizen should be a “white person.” And not surprisingly, despite the extraordinary progress of the past 50 years, the sense of white proprietorship - “This is our country and our culture” - still has not been completely eradicated . Even though we now have an African American President we still tend to treat minorities as parts and whites as representatives of the whole. This, along with the luxury of rarely feeling obliged to think self consciously about one's racial background, has been one of the perks of belong to the demographic majority.

But according to the Census Bureau, by 2050 whites will be a minority group in the U.S. How the current majority reacts to its incipient minority status is the most crucial social demographic issue facing the country in the decade to come.

Despite waving the American flag and becoming legal voters, these new naturalized citizens don't fit the criteria set by our founders. They are citizens of the American Empire, not the Republic. They are not a part of our nation!

The most obvious impact will be political. If California's demographic transformation is any indication – Anglos dropped below 50% of the population there in 2000- whites elsewhere may increasingly develop a stronger consciousness of their political interests as a group.....

With so called minorities outnumbering whites, mainstream politicians have been reluctant to endorse any initiative that would invite a backlash from nonwhites.

But California's ethno-political detente may not be in the cards for other regions of the country. Though whites will become a minority in the national population, the vast majority of individual states will probably remain majority white. (This is because the most profound demographic change is happening in a handful of the most heavily populated states.) A strong white-minority political consciousness is most likely to arise in regions that are nowhere near actually becoming majority-minority status is more phantom than reality, that politicians and demagogues can best employ the rhetoric of white ethno-nationalism.

This won't take the form of a chest thumping brand of white supremacy. Instead, we are likely to see the rise of a more defensive, aggrieved sense of white victim hood that strains the social contract and undermines collectively shared notions of the common good....

In the face of growing demographic change, new groups will be dedicated to defending the interests and rights of European Americans..." End.

REVOLUTION OR TRANSFORMATION?

Believe it or not, our enemies absolutely LOVE stuff like this (picture on left) Remember in our section on propaganda the idea that we must intimidate and scare our enemies is false. This might work when you have the upper hand, but we don't. This is similar to rogue nations in the middle east attempting to scare the U.S. Into some sort of submission....isn't going to happen! They don't have the upper hand, the American empire does; complete with the latest and most sophisticated war machines and standing armies around the entire globe.

Of course revolution doesn't necessarily mean a violent overthrow, but it is the first thing that comes to mind. Again, we want our people to put their trust in us, not be scared of us. And though some may intend to scare the enemy, the enemy in fact uses scare tactics such as this to turn the tables and imply that our brothers and sisters actually need protection from us because we are going to turn their world upside down through violent uprising and bloodshed in the street.

The prophet Jeremiah, inspired by the Holy Spirit, gave us the best guidelines toward national renewal. In the days of Jeremiah, Judah (our white ancestors) had come under the dominion of the empire of Babylon. (The ten northern tribes had long been "lost" in captivity to the Assyrian Empire, and were already making their westward trek into Europe where they would assimilate or disperse into the previous populations of white people that had migrated there generations before). This Babylonian domination angered many of the patriots who knew they were part of God's chosen people and that they should not be ruled over by non-white alien people.

Jeremiah took a lot of heat from the patriots of his day when he told them that they should not revolt against their Babylonian captors. He did not tell them that they should break any moral laws or that they should not resist, but that armed rebellion was not an option at this time. This angered some of the patriots so much that they even caused him to be placed into a dung pit up to his armpits!

He had told them he knew they meant well and they thought they were being obedient to God and being good freedom fighters, but that the Babylonian captivity was God ordained punishment. The small number of patriots may have recognized that their people were suffering from God's wrath, but the majority of the people did not. They were in this mess for a reason. They had refused to repent!

He continued by saying that if they insisted on violent revolution they would perish by pestilence, by famine and by sword (Jeremiah 24,27, 29...)

This is what is happening today in the American empire ruled over by heathens. There are many patriots who understand what is going on. They understand we are in bondage and are slaves, but the vast majority has no clue. This global network of usurpers is in fact called Mystery Babylon. It is mysterious to most people.

In Revelation 18 we are told to come out of Mystery Babylon and so this is what many attempt to do. But this happens in verse 4 AFTER verse 2 in which Babylon has already fallen to outside forces. Our enemies are united against us, but they are also for their own gain. That is, they will self destruct!

There are many ways that well meaning patriots will attempt to resist this tyrannical empire besides violent revolt. This includes everything from not paying taxes, to rescinding driver's licenses, not having social security numbers and so on. Many patriots over the years through actions such as this have found it difficult to even feed their families (famine), they perish in prison, or if taking up arms they die by the (sword).

What did Jeremiah tell them to do?

Jeremiah 29:5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them; (6) Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; tat ye may be increased there, and not diminished. (7)and seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto God for it; for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

There are many ways to resist that are in keeping with this advice. Seek the peace of the city. This does not mean to live in an urban environment, but rather to be on peaceful terms with Babylon. How do we grow families and communities if languishing away in prison? How do we win converts and share the love we have for our white brothers and sisters, if we portray ourselves as a revolutionary hit squad?

What we must do is practice separation in marriage, family, and worship! This is a righteous type of resistance and has proven successful before. Christians survived and persevered throughout the oppressive days of the Roman empire. When the Roman empire collapsed in A.D. 476, Christianity had spread and dominated all of Europe.

The Marxist Jews learned a very valuable lesson in their attempt to conquer the Russian people. They won for a time, but they lost in the end. The bloody revolution stayed long in the minds of the people. But the conquering of America has proven to be successful. They did not do it through armed revolution. They did it through subtle transformation. So subtle has been this change, that it is barely noticed by the majority. And those who do realize there has been a change, don't understand why or that there is even anything wrong with it.

Fellow patriots must seek the peace of the city, occupy, and focus on our nation and live with a sense of vision and hope for the future.

TRANSFORMATION NATION

A primary reason that we are instructed to work toward the Kingdom (government) of God and to practice righteous governing principles is because of the effect it has on the family. And you will recall that the family is God's priority.

Children grow up in either a garbage dump or a well structured and nurturing green house. It is far safer and healthier for society when families are raised up in an environment of structure and nurture, but while this remains true, we know that plants can grow in a garbage dump also. The difference will be in the outcome and health of the plant, not whether it will actually grow.

Our society today is a garbage dump. Our children and families are expected to grow and aspire to maturity while being surrounded by the most contemptible ideas. A healthy government lends toward a healthy family.

But the opposite is also true. Healthy families lend toward a healthy government. Just because our society and government constitutes a cesspool today, does not mean that our own families cannot operate differently.

Many want to change the government in order to change families and society.
We want to change families and society in order to change government

Through Racial Loyalty, Patriotism, Family Nurture and Structure, and Christian Living...We can Transform our Communities and be Prepared for the Fall of Babylon and to Take our Rightful Place as Administrators of God's Law

What this DOES NOT Mean

This does not mean that we are not interested in politics!
This does not mean that we are not to be involved in political campaigns!
This does not mean that we should not take an active part in community groups!
This does not mean that we should not communicate with political leaders!

In fact, we must do all of the above!

TRAINING< TRAINING< TRAINING

In the words of the Boy Scout Motto: Always Be Prepared

The demographic change and the recent elections have shown us that the odds are really stacked against us. There are those conservatives out there who believe that with the right man or woman, speaking to the right people, that somehow we can make a comeback. However, the new voters are not white. The target audience for the new conservatives is not white. It isn't a matter of conservatism. It is a matter of race. Many white people instinctively voted for Trump because of immigration, but the establishment is against us.

This does not mean that we should not be involved in these activities. The future IS the reason we MUST be involved. By seeking the peace of the city and staying connected and viable in our communities, networking and working in campaigns, we are using the tools of the enemy for our own training purposes. This is powerful.

Our enemies, including those conservatives who find racial loyalty to be repugnant, have hundreds of millions at their disposal. They have the political campaign down to a science. But aside from that, they allow the volunteer to seek positions of influence and to make contact with ordinary average citizens who are politically motivated and may be looking for something different....something we offer....an idea and a goal for the future. This type of training is invaluable. It puts our people right in the middle of the transformation process of our local communities. And it provides valuable knowledge to our children and families who should ALWAYS be included and mentored in such activities.

Harrison, Arkansas (Small White Towns) State's Rights and the New White Identity

Harrison, like many small white towns (yes, there are some left) have witnessed the influx of men and women who choose to leave a congested and multiracial city life for one of peace and relative tranquility in a small town. Towns like this draw likeminded folks and many are experiencing growth at a rapid, but manageable rate.

This makes our work all the more meaningful because every Knights Party associate is a catalyst in moving our communities forward. And by communities I don't just mean our physical communities, but also our ideological communities. It is important that we all work toward growth of the white nationalist community, not just in the sense of organization building, but also in reaching out and being a positive example to those many Americans who agree with us on most issues, but are unwilling to stand with us. They have to break free of the mental chains they are in. We must be patient with them, even when it seems almost unbearable. We must continue on and know that their timing is not our timing. Let God work that out. You just stay the course and don't get sidelined.

This is why volunteering is so important. This is how you meet others. This is how you lead. This is how you become an asset to your community. This is what causes others to look to you with respect. It is what will give credibility to your white nationalist stance when you slowly win others to considering your beliefs.

The whole concept of migrating to majority white small towns, volunteering, becoming known, developing relationships, and creating a foot hold for white nationalism is critical. This is grass roots organizing at its core!

Our efforts, politically, must stand at the local and state levels. This is where we can win in the future. Others will catch the vision. God is gathering our people together. Our people are making friends and influencing people. We are at the crossroads of something great.

State – rights is something that we must progressively pursue. Not everyone will understand why it is so important. Many states in what we call the heartland of America are becoming fed up with the federal dictatorship. We must encourage politicians at the state level to resist federal tyranny. By increasing the wedge between state and federal government we can help ready the formation of a new nation. Many are already on board with this idea. As the white minority becomes more incensed with the behavior of the majority non-white population, they will begin to put the concept of a white identity together with the concept of states' rights. We can help pave the way.

CREATING LEADERS

SOTC TRAINING INSTITUTE

This, without question, is the most critical period in the long and inspiring history of our race. Never before in the chronicles of time has the very foundation of civilization faced such a threat. Whether or not we survive this struggle may very well depend on how you and I answer the challenge of the hour. And that answer, my friend, will either force our children to live in fear and terror or allow them to bathe in the warmth of the morning sun. Our children's future hangs in the balance.

Many of us have given all of our adult life to one sublime mission and that is to see our people recapture the beauty, strength, and elegance that have pulsed in our blood for a thousand generations. Each day of our life has been lived for this one objective. Sometimes those days seem dark and lonely unable to control the storm lashing its fury upon our people. And while the multitude was sleeping, unaware of the impending genocide facing our people, we never lose hope that a NEW Dawn will one day appear.

Pastor Robb wrote this in a 1989 newsletter: “The greatest danger our children face is the orchestrated design of genocide. Make no mistake, it is not simply an attempt to achieve some kind of mythical racial equality but it is the attempt to destroy your blood.”

We began to see hope in the mid 1990's. This hope came in the form of the internet. We didn't even really know what it was but we knew it was going to be big. It was becoming obvious. We had entered the day of our awakening!

The internet changed the rules. Truth, which previously had been kept away from the public by the mass media was now speeding across the internet like lightning. Young tech savvy, citizen journalists began constructing websites, producing videos, writing manuscripts and creating internet radio and TV shows. Slowly the mendacity of the media was revealed and their power began to weaken and crack. God, in his mercy, reached down out of the heavens and gave us our greatest tool - the internet. This is not a day of despair - but a day to charge into the battle.

General George Armstrong Custer adopted as his motto, “Ride to the sound of the gun!” And that is what we precisely intend to do. While we know there is a shroud of darkness still covering the eyes of our people, we also know there is a light that is piercing the darkness. And just as in the past it seemed futile to think we could stop the raging storm, so now it is has become evident that it is the awakening which cannot be stopped! The gates of hell shall not prevail against the Spirit of the Lord as the bright rays of the sunrise penetrate its every corner.

The Knights has developed a unique training program. The Christian Revival Center intends to expand upon this concept and form a small college of instruction.

Students will get a better grasp of how the enemy promotes genocide, effective propaganda, psychology of the masses, the political and moral issues our people face, the use of talking points with individuals or on call in talk shows, understanding buzz words, overcoming discouragement - having a winning attitude, the importance of staying on target, the use of humor. There will be workshops and role playing to help grasp an understanding of the subjects.

Martin Luther King Jr. Rosa Parks, and Ralph Abernathy are just a few of the civil rights icons that attended the Highlander Folk School in Mt. Eagle, Tennessee. They learned the techniques that enabled them to rise to the pinnacle of leadership.

Above: A few of the members of the Frankfurt School. It was founded in Germany in 1923. They were Marxists who fought for political correctness, the dismantling of the family, an end to racial separation, the destruction of Christianity, and undermining of western civilization. When Marxism came under attack during the German reformation of 1933, members of the Frankfurt school fled to the United States where they set up shop in the American universities. Hundreds of them became college professors at the most prestigious universities, infiltrated the state department, and set to work in the publishing houses including those of the Children's literary movement and religious seminaries.

The White Resistance WILL TRAIN Its OWN LEADERS!

To accomplish this will take more than a bold vision. It is also going to take people like you who not only have the vision, but also the faith. Great changes for our nation are on the horizon, and we have to be ready to seize the hour. We must be ready to ride to the sound of the gun! The timid never won the battle! The timid never sat in the winner's circle! The timid never tasted victory! The timid never stood on the edge of the mountain! The timid never hears the sound of the gun! The timid never wins!

This school has some of the most energetic - power machines - in this struggle. This international team of instructors cannot be matched in experience, understanding, vision and intellect. Each brings a unique prospective to the table giving students an opportunity for greater insight and preparation to become a powerhouse of influence when they return to their communities.

The Bible states men love darkness instead of light. And that is certainly self-evident as we look upon the state of our nation and our country. Keep this in mind: our nation is our people. Our country is the political system which rules over this land mass on the North American continent and politically known as the United States of America. This political system is not the same political system created in 1787 at the Pennsylvania State House in Philadelphia. Though it uses the same name and symbols, the political system of 1787 followed the moral principles of the Ten Commandments and understood the ideals of our God given rights and the responsibility it entails. The current political system is completely foreign to our values, morals and justice. What is evil has now been called good and that which is good are now called evil.

We are building people of influence. Not only are we building men and women who can become quietly influential in their communities, but we intend on building the statesmen of a new nation. When a new nation is carved out of the chaos that is to come, we must have men and women of insight, virtue, and racial integrity in place to lead. Our white brothers and sisters must have heroes in which to place their trust. Imagine a school transformed into a college to train men and women to lead our new nation.

The Christian Revival Center has the Biblical underpinning to lead such a college. You will do your part by advancing our mission beginning with yourself. The Knights Party has the active experience and pulse of the people and students at the Christian Research and Development Center will be given the opportunity to intern at The Knights Party national office. We know street activism and we know internet strategy. We know how to touch the hearts of people. We are media savvy and Christian focused. We recognize the importance of the family and the valuable contributions of men and women like you. We believe that God can develop the hero in each of you.

CHANGING OPINIONS ONE BY ONE

Aristotle said that there are three elements, Ethos, Pathos, and Logos.

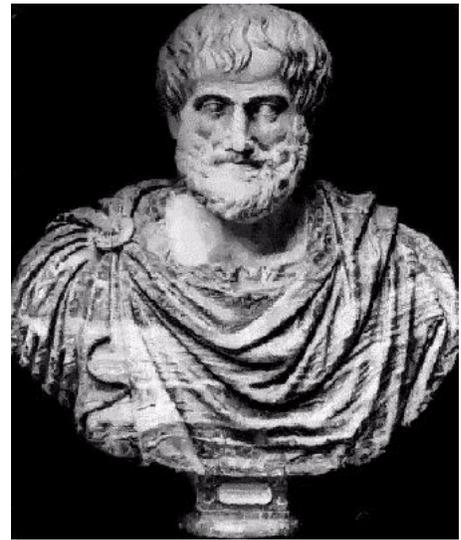

- Ethos: Who is this speaker? Has he any knowledge or authority that we ought to listen to him?
- Pathos: What are his feelings for us? Why is he telling us this?
- Logos: Your words and reasoning. Only after your listeners are convinced that you are worth listening to will they hear what you have to say.

Did you know that you can have much success with average people at least in setting records straight and having people view things like the Ku Klux Klan in a different light and often a more favorable light?

I think one of the key things in doing this is by first laying a solid foundation of what you really are. The truth is that many people find it boring to be around someone who ALWAYS talks about race or politics. It doesn't matter that it is the most passionate subject to us and that we sleep, eat, and breath white nationalism. To the average person on the street, there is more to life than politics. This doesn't mean they don't care about it. It means that different people have different personalities and interests.

If you want to be able to get across something important to most people, then you must be able to talk about other things. This makes you an interesting person and a sought after person for conversation. You should be able to talk about different subjects. Whether its sports, hunting, fishing, science, technology, art, music, cooking, literature, or who's who in Hollywood, strive to be a well rounded person.

Now, take a subject and become known as someone who really knows what he or she is talking about in that regard. Work to develop a reputation for being an "expert" on a certain subject and knowing what you are talking about. Therefore, when you bring up or enter into a conversation about politics and things that concerns White Nationalism and racial matters, you have a solid foundation of credibility and knowledge that people trust. This results in being able to explain things like, for example, why the Ku Klux Klan came about in the first place and the purpose of the white "sheets" and hoods to people, and you are able to clear up and provide an understanding.

10 RULES OF A GREAT CONVERSATIONALIST

1. BE GENUINELY INTERESTED in the person. Strive to know more about him/her through the conversation.
2. Focus on THE POSITIVES. Opt for positive and meaningful topics over negative ones.
3. CONVERSE, not debate (or argue). Where there are differences, agree to disagree.
4. RESPECT; don't impose, criticize, or judge. Respect others' space and right to their views.
5. Put the person in his/her BEST LIGHT. Make the person look good (without being unauthentic).
6. EMBRACE DIFFERENCES while building on commonalities.
7. Be TRUE TO YOURSELF. Don't mime; be ready to share your own thoughts.
8. 50-50 SHARING. Don't dominate the discussion. At the same time, don't hold back from sharing either.
9. Ask PURPOSEFUL QUESTIONS. "What drives you in life? What are your current goals? What inspired you to make this change?" Meaningful questions elicit meaningful answers.
10. GIVE and TAKE. Don't be too critical over what others say/do. Always give others the benefit of the doubt.

Remember, the point is to first have a solid foundation and credibility with people on OTHER SUBJECTS. Do not ONLY talk about racial matters and such. Often the reason that it is difficult to educate others about our cause is because it is just a fact that most people don't share our enthusiasm for race and nation.

When that is all we talk about every time we see another individual then they begin to view us in very narrow terms and we do not come off as being a credible person.

In other words, make yourself known as someone who knows his business in many other subjects and gain a reputation as someone who is knowledgeable and who people like to hear explain things and who they come to for information. If all you do, however, is wear people out with politics and what is considered "kook" material, then you are not going to have the same level of credibility when you do have something to say on these matters. People will all say, "well, you know him, all he ever is talking about is..."

IF it is done right, we can change people's minds. And I don't care how controversial the subject is. It can be done.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

YES, IT WILL BE A POWERHOUSE!

How many of the following statements have you heard before?

- The Ku Klux Klan is not a viable white nationalist organization and will never lead a successful resistance movement.
- The Ku Klux Klan is only taken seriously by a few rednecks in the South.
- The Ku Klux Klan is backward and old fashion.
- The Ku Klux Klan will never have mass appeal.
- The Ku Klux Klan is considered armed and dangerous and the average person will never join.
- The Ku Klux Klan is too easy to infiltrate.
- The Ku Klux Klan is too secret.

- The Ku Klux Klan has too much baggage.

Now, answer the following questions:

- The Ku Klux Klan is universally known. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan is known by everyone everywhere to be an organization for white people. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan is known to have been a powerful group at one time. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan is considered, by the average person, to be hard core racist. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan has a reputation, either good or bad, for getting the job done...at least after the War Between the States. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan is always a topic of interest, whether loved or hated. Yes or No
- The Ku Klux Klan always brings some type of emotional response. Yes or No
- Let's be honest. Did you say, "Yes" to all of the above?

I did not say what type of recognition...just the fact that there is recognition.

The first rule of any political campaign is that there must be public recognition. Notice,

This is why the Ku Klux Klan is not dead, is not over, and is not useless.

The Ku Klux Klan is in fact a viable organization!

Make your rounds on the internet and you will get various opinions about the viability of the Ku Klux Klan by other white nationalists. Many will use the excuses previously given; too much baggage, thought to be violent, not a good fit for average Americans, etc.

But friends, they have underestimated the power of the name.

Here are the facts that no one on earth can disagree with.

1. The Ku Klux Klan is known by everyone. Even the Aborigines of the Outback have heard of the Klan. It is an organization so well known that there is no need whatsoever to work hard getting the name out in the public arena. Everyone knows of its existence.
2. The Ku Klux Klan goes hand in hand with white people. Just as everyone has heard of the Klan, everyone knows it is about white people. There is no need to educate the public about what the Klan stands for. It is plain and simple. The Klan stands for white people!

Isn't that fantastic! Isn't it awesome that the Ku Klux Klan is universally recognized to be a group for white people. Indeed it is.

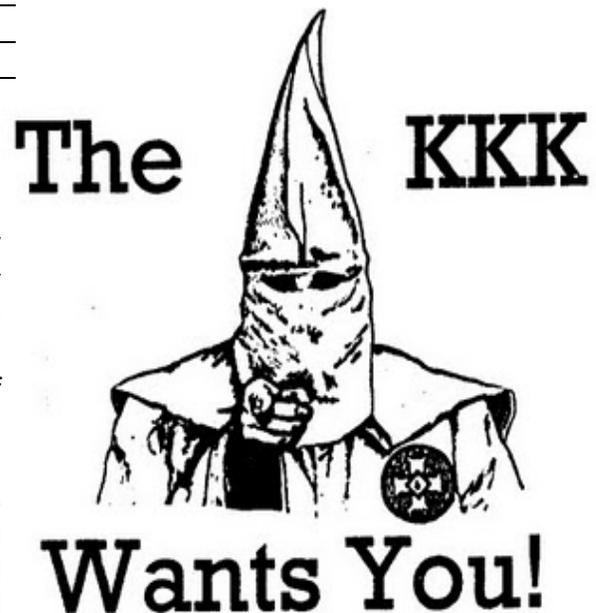

It is true, the past Klan leaders have moved on to other groups, pro-white groups that they feel are more approachable to the average person. That is their choice and in some regard, they are right.

For example, make a list below of five pro-white (non-Klan) organizations that you are aware of. This is not an attempt to belittle any group's effort. This is just a simple study. (Note: The Alt-right is not a group. Though the name is widely publicized, it was because of the speech made by Hillary Clinton during her Nevada campaign which labeled all white resisters as Alt-Right. However, even after the Charlottesville Unite the Right Rally, which was called a Klan rally by media, the benchmark in America is the KKK. All American white nationalists are called KKK.

1. Group _____
2. Group _____
3. Group _____
4. Group _____
5. Group _____

How well known are these organizations? If you were to walk up on the street and ask any person, of any nationality, of any race, of any gender, of any religion, would they know or have ever heard of these groups? Would they equate them with white people? Would they even know of their existence?

But, the Ku Klux Klan is different and that is the point we want to make. The Klan has a reputation, good or bad, is universally known and it's for white people. They recognize the robe and hood pictured above. They know it's about white people. Period. All white groups in the U.S. are ultimately referred to in some sense as "kkk".

THE KNIGHTS PARTY

We organize around the leadership principle. What does this mean? It means that we don't appoint people to positions of leadership just to fill an office. Why would we? Leaders aren't leaders because they are appointed. They are leaders because of their ability and effort. This is a slower approach to organizing, but it provides more stability in the long run.

We Are NOT after a Mass Membership! Not Yet!

Believe it or not, we are not trying to get everyone to join The Knights. We are not trying to build a massive organization. We are not into a numbers game. The reason that some within the white nationalist movement say that the Klan is not viable is because they themselves are trying to build a mass membership as the means to attaining victory and they know that the majority of people are not going to join the Klan, so by their logic, why would anyone promote the Klan. To them it just doesn't make sense. That is okay. They are still good people. They just don't have the vision.

Does the Klan have baggage? Yes. It does. That is why it can be discouraging to some if they don't understand that we are not attempting to build up a large membership. The American public still views the Klan as having a "bad boy" image. True, this is often media driven, but it doesn't help that other groups attempt to live up to this image. Instead of changing the paradigm, they allow the media and entertainment industry to set the standards.

In 1994, four individuals quit the organization, sent out a press release, and garnered the spot light for a short time. They accused Pastor Robb and others within the leadership of the organization of going soft, toning down the message, and not being radical enough. Their group was short lived. They didn't understand the psychology of the people.

Because of this "bad boy" image that the Klan has, there is NEVER EVER any need to reinforce the Klan's "toughness." It is absolutely a waste of time and counter-productive. We could invite the media to a tea party, dress in top hats and tails, serve scones and jam, and we would still be called a hate group. Consider all those Tea Party groups and how they try so hard to distance themselves from the racist label, and again, they still get called a hate group by many. So there is no need to prove how tough we are, look or act intimidating, attempt to strike fear into our enemies, etc. Our tough reputation was earned for us and passed on to us by the original Ku Klux Klan when they drove back the federal troops and put an end to the violence perpetrated upon the South.

Okay, so the Klan has a reputation. Thanks to the advertising genius of a couple of smart Klan women in the 20's, it is all summed up in those three little letters, KKK.

Our White Brothers and Sisters ARE looking for Answers and More will Start Looking as the Demographic Change Escalates

Now is Not the Time to look for Mass Membership
Now is the Time to Look for and Train Leaders for the Future

We will Train Leaders for the Future. We will teach people how to be influential in their communities. And these are men and women who have been able to see past the smear attempts of our enemies. They are leaders not followers. At this stage, men and women who join The Knights, have a natural propensity toward influence and leadership. And because of the positive way that we communicate our message to the general public, those men and women attracted to The Knights Party are, for the most part, success oriented and natural born leaders.

We must teach our people the proper way to communicate with the masses. It isn't that we don't intend for a mass following in the future, but that will only happen with the community leaders in place.

In the meantime, our communication efforts with the masses, and what we portray to the media, must ALWAYS showcase our Love for our people. We must work smartly. We must come across as sensible, normal, mature, progressive, caring, and compassionate. Of course, this doesn't mean that we are going to pretend to be these things, but in reality is something else. We are those things, our job is to convey an accurate image to our people.

IMAGINE!

The Christian Research and Development Center has grown into a small, but full- fledged college right in the heartland. Young adults have learned communication skills, political philosophy, accurate white history, foundational governing principles, and how to counteract the propaganda techniques of our enemies. They have learned the practical skills necessary as well as organizational tactics, writing, speaking, how to conduct a successful interview with the media, buzz words to use and those to avoid through an internship program with The Knights. They have been taught self-reliance, and how to be a productive member of society, how to be influential in the sphere they operate in, and how to maintain a balance between organization building and family life. Imagine graduates, in place, throughout the heartland.

All the while, a steady migration of white people continue fleeing the coastal areas of the U.S., where they are outnumbered, and civil war seems eminent as violence and racial unrest escalates due to the steady rise of friction between millions of non whites, including immigrants and those born here. These white people, essentially refugees, begin searching out the small towns of the heartland, where the population remains majority white. The large non-white cities that exist within the heartland are avoided and are no-go zones.

The non-white racial groups in the country become even more antagonistic toward whites. Due to continuing economic decline, break down in law and order, inability of government to continue handouts and social programs to non-whites, and chaos in the non-white majority ranks of the military because of budget cuts, it becomes every man for himself. War zones beginning popping up in the East and West. Asians in the Pacific Northwest, the majority black population of the South, Mexicans in the West and South West, and Muslims, Hmong, Hindus, Haitians, and a hodge-podge of other races through Florida and up the East coast, all begin resisting U.S. Law. Military arsenals are raided in these areas, and ex non-white military, gang bangers, and even a minority of peace oriented non-whites beginning patrolling the cities, countryside, and neighborhoods.

COLLAPSE AND CIVIL WAR

The U.S. Government as we have known it ceases to exist. It is not a matter of THE government against us or a situation of martial law. Some will try to retain a sense of order in the majority non-white country. (Remember, the heartland, as attested to by demographers, trends, and all statistics, will remain majority white – the rest of the country will be majority non-white) Liberal whites who have attempted to get along and remain in these areas will either convert quickly and flee to the heartland or they will be murdered in wide spread anti-white violent mob attacks.

Refugees: We must be prepared for a large refugee population trying to escape the violence and find safety in the heartland. These will be our white brothers and sisters, those who thought they could get along, those who insisted on standing their ground until the last, or those who never thought anything like this could ever happen and set their families up as sitting ducks.

IN THE HEARTLAND

In the heartland it will be majority white. The large cities, (think Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Tulsa, etc.) will be majority non-white. Whites will avoid these areas like the plague. State militias/state guard will have to resettle the inhabitants of these cities and return them to safe white rule. Still, there will be the liberal hold outs and uninspired religious fanatics who insist that the societal and economic break-down, and civil war throughout the majority-non-white U.S. has nothing to do with race. They will insist that the majority white heartland is responsible for the chaos, much in the same way that white flight is blamed for the demise of Detroit now.

THIS WILL be the BIG MOMENT!

White refugees fleeing into the heartland by the thousands, state militias set up along the new border states and logical geographical land boundaries, non-white gangs and militias attempting to break through the war front and enter the heartland, liberal whites in the heartland who still resist all common sense and racial loyalty and the final thrust to save our nation...this is the scenario of the future.

The Knights Party, In Position to LEAD

This is the moment we have been working toward. This is the day our people repent! This is the day our people have had enough! This is the day they put their race first! This is the day they fight to save western Christian civilization. This is the culmination of thousands of years and thousands of attempts to destroy the white race, the chosen people, God's authority on earth, and commit ultimate genocide.

REMEMBER THAT MEAN OLD SOUNDING KKK NAME?

Remember, how many times you have heard that it isn't viable, it has violence and hate associated with it...etc. Etc. and the masses will never get behind it. You remember all that. Right?

Now, take an organization that has been training leaders, setting leaders in communities, effectively communicating a message of love to white families, speaking sensibly, being a catalyst for the formation of racially aware communities in the heartland, networking with isolated white communities in coastal areas and the deep South, being open, public, and never shutting up or stepping down. Put everything that is peaceable, loving, good, positive, and call it sugar coated if you want...but it is able to break through the constant barrage of taunts and lies about our agenda...and THEN combine that with the historic name of the Ku Klux Klan ...and my friends, you've got one hell of a powerhouse.

Let me ask you this. For all those naysayers that say the Klan is washed up, who do you think the average man or woman in the scenario given above, is going to look to for aggressive, heroic, defense and protection? Do you think that so-called violent image that our enemies have so carefully crafted is going to hurt us or help us. Do you think our people are going to give one single thought to some black guy (who was probably a rapist anyway) that the Klan lynched a hundred years ago. Think they will shed any tears then? No. They will be looking for a hero. And the KKK has a reputation as winning once in our history and winning BIG!

But it won't just be the name in and of itself that is the formula for success. It must be carefully used alongside expert strategy and compassionate propaganda (marketing) to our people. And we have to keep in mind the 50% female population that is so often overlooked by most in the movement, unless it is to complain.

Rolling Stone magazine ran an excellent piece about the gun industry recently. Yes, it was slanted and depicted gun owners as raving lunatics, but they pointed out one very critical piece of information that most people have forgotten and that The Knights Party has always known. In relation to guns they said in reaction to the gun company's marketing to women, "Teach a man to hunt and a man hunts. Teach a woman to hunt and the whole family hunts."

The Knights sums it up like this; the man may be the protector and defender of the family, but the woman is the gateway to the family. The masses will turn toward us because of the protective and defensive nature of the Ku Klux Klan, and they will listen to us because we will have won over the family! Remember, this is ALL ABOUT FAMILY! Strong, white Christian Families will save our people and we cannot ever forget the gateway to the family. We need strong, Godly, family oriented, courageous women in our movement and we believe we know how to get the job done.

This will be the time for mass rallies and demonstrations. This will be the time to bolster the self-confidence of our white brothers and sisters with disciplined marches through the streets. This will be the time for those who have been in secret agreement to finally take courage by the display and witness of Knights Party members who have established themselves into all segments of the burgeoning new nation in the heartland.

Teachers, doctors, tradesmen, housewives, student leaders, policemen, factory workers, municipal officers and elected officials, precinct workers, and computer programmers, and military personnel. And there will be many who leave the federal government behind whose hearts have been with ours. Our race and faith proudly announced from every street corner. Strengthening our position, gathering our people, leading by example, calling for our nation to repent, we will bring about the resurrection of our nation.

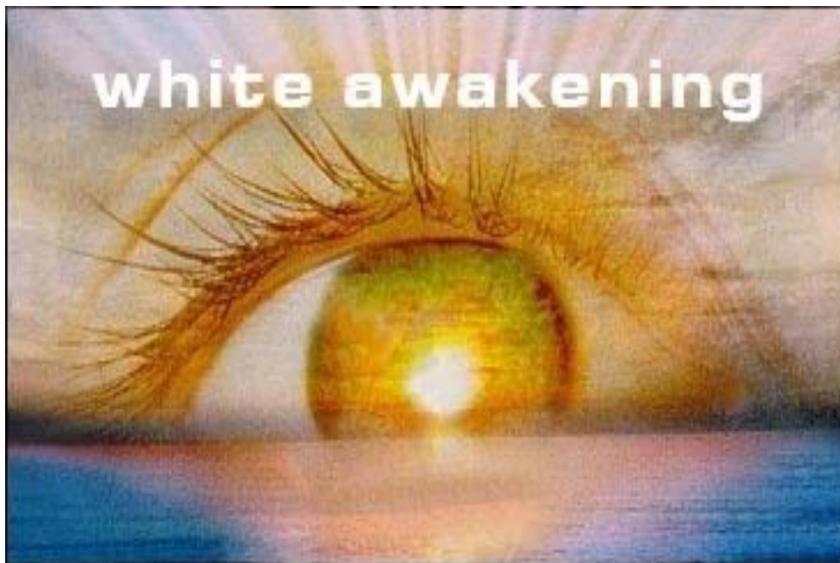

OUR PLAN

You now know our plan, details may change somewhat, there is no certain time table, but everything is leading in this direction and we are not about to sit around and wait for something to happen. We are not reactionaries. We will continue with our plan, execute our strategy, and train leaders and prepare our people for that great and dreadful day.

It is in fact, not something to dread, if you have your priorities straight and are living your life right. What we are witnessing in the coming years is, as Pastor Robb has spoken on numerous times, is the formation of a new nation. The government that sits in power now is not our government. It does not mean we should not be involved, continue to use the resources that it makes available, and be good citizens, but we must know what our contingency plan is. We are not out to destroy the United States of America.

The name "America" literally means the government of God. This white Christian country given to us by our founding fathers and mothers has been murdered. And with it, the hopes and dreams of our white brothers and sisters around the world. But we will create a new bastion for white Christian families. And when our new nation is formed, new statesmen arise, and God's government is represented here in the midst of the former Republic, we will take it all back! The entire country belongs to us; from coast to coast. We will build a new nation, God inspired, for all of our white brothers and sisters and become an inspiration to our sister white nations worldwide. It CAN and WILL Be Done!

Up from the Ashes we will Rise!
For a Thousand Generations!
And There will be Truth, Righteousness,

And Justice World Wide!